THE PENNSYLVANIA HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

1983 Philadelphia Flower Show Follows the Sun

You can have the sun in the morning and the afternoon too, no matter how cloudy it is outside, simply by taking a walk through this year's Flower Show.

Visitors will immediately be transported from winter's harsh cold doldrums to a warm sunny clime by the sight of flower-strewn sailboats bobbing in the water of a languid marina. A charming mid-Victorian Brighton Pavilion will attract the visitor as well as the sounds of boat bells, fog horns and sea gulls as onlookers stroll through this peaceful flowering scene.

After leaving the Pavilion you enter "Winterthur In Bloom," an exhibit, featuring a boggy area filled with primroses at the edge of a lush bank, from Winterthur Museum and Gardens, Delaware.

The finale of this trip through the seasons ends with "Sunset on Mountain Pond," by Judd's Hollylan Nurseries, Pitman, NJ. A winter ice skating pond complete with skaters in mid-morning, mid-afternoon and early evening, is surrounded by a rocky mountainside covered with native plants and bordered with a snow-covered cedar swamp about to burst into spring bloom.

This is just the main Show aisle, next month we will whet your appetite for spring with descriptions of additional Show highlights.

Flower Show Tickets

Advance Sale tickets are now available at PHS for the March 6 — 13 Show. Price: Adults; $4.75 (available until March 4, minimum mail order: 10 Adult Tickets). Children under 12 $2.75.

Members' Preview

Follow The Sun to the Flower Show Members' Preview on Saturday, March 5 from 12:30 to 3:30 pm.

Here's your chance, as a PHS member, to enjoy the Show at its freshest before it opens to the public on Sunday, March 6 at 10:00 am.

This Saturday afternoon preview is for PHS members and their guests. Each individual member will receive one ticket. Family and contributing members will receive three single admission tickets. Life members will receive a weekly pass as well as one members ticket.

If you wish to bring a guest to the preview the charge is $20.00 per adult, $5.00 per child under 12. Guest tickets may be purchased in advance or at the Show box office on March 5.

Your membership tickets will be mailed to arrive in late January.

Horticultur Highlights

The various horticultural and arrangement classes will be combined again this year to give the visitor greater variety, visibility and to allow better traffic movement. Niches and pedestal classes, miniature rooms and window boxes and the long expanses of container grown plants will be split up and integrated. The Bonsai exhibit, always one of the biggest stars of the Show, will form the central hub for this new arrangement.

Arrangement Entries Arriving for '83 Show

In the Arrangement Classes many niches have been filled. A few spaces are still available. Call Marjorie Meer for details at 625-8292.

Susie Wilmerding, chair of this year's Horticultural Classes, has worked with her committee over the summer to revise the entry system to make things easier and speedier for all entrants.

Flower Show Volunteers Needed

Captain and Mrs. Noah, stars of WPVI-TV, have helped the Society's membership committee develop our annual Flower Show membership drive. Our goals are more ambitious than ever and now Frannie Cullen, chair of the Members' Committee asks for your help as a PHS member in spreading the word about Society membership to our Show visitors.

The membership booths will be in operation from 10 am to 6 pm on Sundays, and from 10 am to 9:30 pm Monday through Saturday so there's a chance for almost every member to participate. In return for each three-hour stint in the booth we will provide you with one complimentary Show ticket.

If you would like to help us, please check the appropriate box on page 3 in the Reservation coupon and return it to PHS. In late January we will be in touch with you, inviting you to sign up for specific time slots.

Flower Show Preview Dinner

Invitations for this year's dinner were mailed before Thanksgiving. Seating is limited, so please try to send in your response as early as possible. If you have not received an invitation or would like an additional one please contact Ellen Wheeler at the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, 625-8255.

The Preview Dinner will be held on Saturday, March 5 at 6 pm.

Flower Show Poster

Help spread the word about the 1983 Show — bright and colorful posters sporting our Flower Show logo are available by stopping at PHS or calling the publicity office at 625-8266. Share them with your local library and stores to let everyone know that spring arrives at the Civic Center on March 6.

Activities

January-February Lectures, Meetings

(Open without charge to all)
KEYSTONE CHAPTER, AFRICAN VIOLET SOCIETY

Wednesday, January 12, 7:30 pm

Chapter president Jim Klawitter will talk about selecting plants for show, disbudding and grooming.

Wednesday, February 9, 7:30 pm

Tom Seiler: arrangements using African violets.

PENNSYLVANIA BONSAI SOCIETY

Friday, January 21, 7:30 pm

Don Lem will discuss Chinese scrolls and their interaction with bonsai.

Special Event

EDIBLES FROM THE SEA

Friday, January 14, 5:30 - 7:30 pm

Here it is! Your long awaited invitation to attend the fourth collaborative 'Edibles', a biennial event produced by PHS, the Academy of Natural Sciences and the World Affairs Council, to take place at the Academy, 19th and the Parkway.

Be adventurous — come to a cocktail party featuring exotic gourmet tidbits from the deep: octopus, seaweed, sevicehe, gravlax, smoked fish and more prepared by local chefs — persons who will part with their recipes of Scandinavian, Oriental, Mediterranean and American origin.

Reservations are limited, so if you are "urchin" to come register now. $12.50 per person includes open bar, fishy appetizers, and a very heady algae punch.

Registration Events

PHOTOGRAPHY SEMINAR

Saturday, January 22, 9 am - 3 pm

Dick Keen, Longwood Gardens staff photographer, will repeat last year's excellent one day seminar covering these aspects of photography: camera selection and operation, lenses, films, lighting, exposure, composition, special effects, slide showmanship and a new section, portraits and close-ups. His teaching aid is a multi-image nine projector set-up.

Registration is limited. Bring lunch or order one for $6.00, coffee and tea provided. Fee: $35.00 members and guests.

Snow date: Saturday, January 29. MEMBERS EVENING

Tuesday, January 25, 6 pm

Lucinda Winn of J and L Orchids, Easton, CT will talk about 'Orchid

Selections for Windowsills and Light Gardens'. She will have slides and plants from J and L's greenhouses to illustrate her talk for orchid lovers — especially those who do not have greenhouses and would like to grow orchids inside the house. She will also bring orchid plants to sell.

Cocktails 6 pm (donation bar), buffet dinner 6:45 pm, program 7:45 pm. Fee: $10.00 members and guests.

PROPOGATION WORKSHOPS: DWARF CONIFERS

Tuesday, February 15, 10 am and 6 pm

Alan Slack, an expert gardener whose rock garden features an extensive collection of dwarf evergreen trees, will conduct two workshops for a limited number of members. Registrants will take home three containers with many planted cuttings of dwarf conifers from the Morris and Barnes Arboretums and the Scott Foundation of Swarthmore College, choice slow-growing varieties not easily found in nurseries. This is an excellent way to acquire dwarf plants for small spaces and container gardening.

All materials will be provided. Evening registrants should bring a sandwich; coffee and cookies are on PHS.

Fee: $15.00 members and guests.

Field Trips

STATE FARM SHOW AND CAPITOL
Wednesday, January 12, 8 am - 6 pm

This will be PHS's third bus trip to Harrisburg to see the State Farm Show (held in mid-winter when farmers are not busy with planting, births or harvests) and the Capitol. Pennsylvania's Capitol, considered to be the most beautiful capitol building in the U.S., will be the first stop. Featured are murals by Violet Oakley and Edwin Austin Abbey and tile mosaics in the rotunda floor made by the Mercer tile works. A tour given by chief Capitol guide Sara Kugler will be a delight for all.

Box lunch will be eaten on the bus; then we go to the largest indoor farm show in the country to see hundreds of exhibits including beautifully groomed percherons, just-hatched chicks, and continuous competition in the arenas.

Fee of $25.00 includes am and pm bus food and drink. Bring a box lunch or order one with hot chestnut soup for $6.00. Directions for bus pick-up from Center City and Bala Cynwyd will be mailed to registrants.

DUKE GARDENS AND PRINCETON ART MUSEUM

Thursday, February 17, 9 am - 6 pm

Never-never land in February. PHS has an appointment at the Duke Gardens Foundation in Somerville, NJ where 11 perfect gardens under glass recreate the horticultural tastes of 11 countries and areas.

En route charter bus will go to the Princeton University Art Museum to see the permanent collections and a special photography exhibit. We will eat at Lahier's restaurant in Princeton.

Details of bus pick-up in Bala Cynwyd and Center City will be mailed to registrants.

Fee: $22.00 members and guests includes bus transportation, guide fees & return trip bus refreshments (lunch not included).

Last Chance to Sign Up For Membership

We had a terrific response to our membership solicitation this fall and Linda Davis, membership secretary, reminds those few who still owe us their dues that she cannot mail your Flower Show tickets to you until she receives your payment for 1983. If you mislaid your contribution envelope give Linda a call at 625-8265. An individual membership costs $25.00; family membership, which includes three Flower Show tickets is $35.00 — quite a bargain when you consider your Flower Show tickets are worth a total of $16.50, in addition to which you get six issues of Green Scene, 11 issues of the News and three Harvest Show tickets.

Garden Writers Visit Philadelphia

The Society played host to more than 100 members of the Garden Writers Association of America in mid-November.

The garden writers were in town for their 34th Annual Meeting held in the Philadelphia area with visits to Longwood Gardens and Winterthur Museum and Gardens.

After two days of meetings and lectures, the GWAA members were treated to "The Diversity of A Horticultural Society", a humorous interpretation of the variety of activities that make up The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society. Actors included PHS members Richard Both, Louise Harrity, J. Liddon Pennock, Jr., Jane Ward and PHS staff. All writers enjoyed lunch at PHS before visiting The Philadelphia Zoo.

Orchids and Art Exhibit at PHS

"Joint Adventure — Orchids and Watercolors" will be on exhibit at 325 Walnut Street from January 5 through February 10.

PHS members Margot Brinton and Stephen Bowen of Philadelphia, will display their respective collections of watercolor paintings and orchid plants.

Margot, a scientist at Wistar Institute, has been painting since the age of 11. She is a member of the Pennsylvania Society of Watercolor Painters and has entered juried shows in New York and Harrisburg. Fourteen of her brilliant paintings of orchids will be shown. All of her works are for sale.

Stephen, an epidemiologist, has been collecting orchids on his travels to Mexico, Guatemala, French Guiana and Peru for the past eight years. He will display many of the plants from his collection.

Seeds Available to Members

Charles Cresson, PHS member with a passion for saving seed of excellent varieties of desirable plants, has generously offered to share his summer harvest with PHS members.

Seeds of the following are available and can be ordered by checking the appropriate box on this page in the Reservation coupon:
Onopordon arabicum — a large spiny biennial thistle, (8-10 ft.) grown primarily for the striking white or grey foliage. Native to the Mediterranean; this strain of great white thistle comes from the White Garden at Sissinghurst, Vita Sackville's West's garden in Kent, England.

 PHS, 325 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 19106
 Reservations by mail only; include full payment. Please use this blank; it speeds processing. Confirmations are not mailed to members. Unless you are notified otherwise, we will expect you.

Pepperpot

Fifty seven percent of our members rate themselves as "dedicated" gardeners; 53% have been members for more than 5 years, and 65% attended the 1982 Philadelphia Flower Show.

Last spring's membership survey (a green document you received in June) reaped a bumper response that astounded statisticians at the University of Delaware. Greg Nace, a student in the Longwood Graduate Program at the University of Delaware, who designed the survey with help from statistician Sarah Tung, was delighted and to our respondents we say many thanks. We appreciate the time you took to let us know how you perceive PHS.

Additional highlights from the survey evaluation are as follows: in an activity traditionally considered "feminine", one quarter of the Society's membership are males. The average age of our members is 54. Garden visits/field trips and shows are the activities that appeal to most members; only 11% of the respondents desire more activities.

Your suggestions for activities will take a while to analyze because we could not process this information by computer. In the meantime, if you come up with additional ideas, please be sure to let me know so I can pass these on to the Members Committee. Our publications apparently appeal to a wide audience: 46% of the survey respondents listed the Green Scene as a reason for becoming a PHS member; 73% are either "extremely" or "very" happy with the publication.

As we go forward we wish to attract a wider urban membership and young members whose vim and vigor will make great things happen at PHS in combination with the wisdom of our older members.

In November we received word that the Pew Memorial Trust has awarded the Society a grant of $96,000, spread over a period of 3 years, for the Philadelphia Green program. Our first Philadelphia Green grant from the Pew Memorial Trust was in 1976 and it's terrific to know that the Trust plans to continue supporting our community outreach horticultural program.

Junior Flower Show Winners

Over 2,000 children from all over the Delaware Valley came to visit and participate in the Junior Flower Show held in November. Zoological Garden Revue was the theme for over 300 crafty creatures, zoo friends, 12 special exhibits and over 1100 artistic and horticultural entries.

Top Winners of the Show were:
BEST OF SHOW — SPECIAL EXHIBIT
Penn Valley Elementary School of Narberth, PA

BEST OF SHOW ARTISTIC
Jose Escalero, S.A. Douglas School, Philadelphia

BEST OF SHOW HORTICULTURAL
Pam Dudas, Middle Bucks A.V.T.S., Jamison, PA

CLASS RECEIVING THE MOST ENTRIES AWARD
Masterman School, Spring Garden St., Philadelphia

STUDENT RECEIVING MOST ENTRIES AWARD

Jackie Flores, Warren G. Harding Jr. High School, Philadelphia

STUDENT RECEIVING THE MOST BLUE RIBBONS
Loretta Mestishen, D.D.H. Lengel Middle School, Pottsville

6 blue ribbons

Eryngium giganteum — a smaller biennial herb (3 ft.). Excellent for dried arrangements. This seed also collected from Sissinghurst.
Lilium formosanum — seed collected from plants grown from seed collected by Paul Meyer of the Morris Arboretum in Taiwan in 1979 on rocky scree at an elevation of 2900 meters. Plants about 12 inches tall with large single fragrant flowers.

Seed supplies are limited so we will operate on a first-come first-serve basis and will mail seeds in February. If you do not hear from us you will know we ran out of seed before we received your request.

Philadelphia Green Garden Assistants Awarded

In early December, the Philadelphia Green garden assistants were presented with Special Award Certificates for their participation in a one year training program sponsored by Philadelphia Green.

The program consists of an eight week training course conducted by Philadelphia Green staff member Patricia Schreiber. On the job training includes year round visits to new and old garden sights, answering gardeners' questions and assisting in planting projects.

Schreiber noted that the garden assistants had enabled Philadelphia Green to touch base with over 300 community groups during the summer.

This year's class included Antonio Bonaparte, Charles Bryant, Linda Daniels, Loretta Fern, Jo Ann Fishburn, Victoria Greene, Mildred Heckstall, Marian Jones, Tareena McGill, Patricia Respass and Lydia Wilkins.

THE PENNSYLVANIA HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

'83 Flower Show Exhibitors

Some of our exhibitors will be taking us on quite a journey at this year's Show.

For your hiking pleasure, Vick's Wildgardens, Inc. of Gladwyne has created an Appalachian Trail complete with native plants, a stream and waterfalls.

After coming down from the mountain, you may be ready for some summer relaxation. A "Cape Cod Summer" by Snipes Farm and Nursery, Morrisville will make you feel as if it is a sunny day with sand dunes, seashells and blooming plants set around a weathered beach house.

When it comes to relaxing and taking in some rays, Fox Chase Cancer Center, Philadelphia reminds us to have "Sun Sense." The Center's exhibit focuses on the do's and don'ts of summer sunlight. NEW EXHIBITORS

In addition to forty-two other major exhibitors there will be five new players on stage this year.

Harris M. Bieberfeld of Green Lane with his design called "The Family Room" will give visitors a glimpse of a multi-unit outdoor room that can be used for sunning, sauna, dining or just plain taking it easy.

Browse Nursery of Norristown joins the cast with "Summer Breeze," a patio garden filled with flowering plants and foliage.

PHS' own Philadelphia Green invites you to take a walk down "Philadelphia Green Street," a city block complete with trees, window boxes, curbside planters and a community vegetable garden. The exhibit will be staged by Philadelphia Green Volunteers and staff.

Grant Leighton Associates of Blue Bell will take us on a "Flight of Fancy" presenting the creative and functional use of living foliage in a commercial interior and finally, "Winterthur In Bloom," an exhibit by Winterthur Museum and Gardens of Delaware.

The display features the favorite plants of Henry Francis du Pont with combinations of bulb plants, native and exotic shrubs and newer as well as older and forgotten "antique cultivars."

Competitive Class Highlights

Carolyn Waite, chair of the Arrangement Classes, tells us that a special "Gallery Visit" is planned for the niche classes on Wednesday, March 9. Small, medium and large niche entrants will each be given a print of a painting to incorporate into their arrangement.

Carolyn recently took a "Best of Show" award at the Garden Club of America Zone V Flower Show — Congratulations.

New this year is the Balcony Class. Louise Harrity, chair of competitive classes, says "there's going to be some strong competition in this class." The class was immediately oversubscribed and has a waiting list for next year. The theme is "You Cannot Shut Out The Windows of the Sky" and allows the exhibitors their choice of growing location and growing season. The four garden clubs entered are Four Counties Garden Club, The Outdoor Gardeners, Norristown Garden Club, and The Garden Club of Wilmington.

Competing in the major garden class, "Good Day Sunshine" are The Garden Workers, Rose Tree Gardeners, The Weeders and The Gardeners.

Princess Grace Memorial Garden

This year's Flower Show is dedicated to Her Serene Highness Princess Grace of Monaco. A memorial garden has been designed in her honor and will be on display throughout the week of the Show. The display, a small colorful garden complete with a fountain will be seen through a series of palladian windows, offering the viewer a focus for quiet reflection.

Princess Grace was an avid gardener and honorary PHS member. One of her many talents included designing pressed plant pictures and she last visited the Flower Show in 1976 as a judge in the pressed plant section.

Horticultural Demonstrations at the Flower Show

Visit PHS's Horticultural Hall at the Show. The auditorium near the International Cafe will offer free gardening demonstrations by PHS staff daily, Monday through Saturday, 2:30 pm, 5 pm and 7:30 pm, and on Sunday, March 6 11 am and 2 pm.

Flower arranging demonstrations will be given each day by Allied Florists at 10:30 am, 1:00, 3:30 and 6 pm and on Sundays at 12 noon and 3 pm. Florists will offer practical tips on "How to Use Flowers in the Home," "Keeping Flowers," "Plant Care," "Your Own Arrangements," and "How Your Professional Florist Can Serve You."

This year visitors can have their plant questions answered at the Lucky You information centers located throughout the Show.

Members' Flower Show Tickets Mailed

Watch the mailbox for your complimentary Flower Show tickets. They were mailed at the end of January. Life members will receive a weekly pass and one members' ticket. Annual members receive one ticket each, family and contributing members, three tickets. Those families with more than three members living under one roof (children under the age of 21) who want additional tickets should apply in writing, enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope, to Jane G. Pepper, executive director, Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, 325 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, PA 19106 stating the names and ages of all family members and the number of additional tickets needed.

Members' tickets are good throughout the Flower Show but we urge you to come to the special Members' Preview on Saturday, March 5 from 12:30 to 3:30 pm. Members who wish to bring guests to the Preview may purchase additional tickets ($20.00 per person) in advance or at the Civic Center.

Thirty-seven Ticketron outlets in Greater Philadelphia (many of which are located in area Sears and Gimbels stores) will again carry Flower Show tickets. Ticketron advance sale: $5.60; during the Show: $6.35; Children (under 12): $3.60.

Advance Sale tickets are now available at PHS reception desk: $4.75 for adults ($5.50 at Show), $2.75 children under 12, advance sale or at the Civic Center. The minimum mail order is 10 adult tickets. Order before February 25th to allow for timely delivery.

Botanical Interpretations at PHS

Recently featured in the January issue of American Artist, Michael J. McCloskey will exhibit his watercolor paintings at 325 Walnut Street from February 11 through March 25.

→ McCloskey, a former art teacher at the Shipley School and a member of the American Horticultural Society, grows many of the plants shown in his paintings. He says that "all of the paintings have an oriental feeling in their delicacy and although somewhat abstract, the subject is recognizable." Paintings on exhibit are for sale.

A wine and cheese opening is planned for February 11. See "Activities" for more information.

Wisters Give Cheston Memorial Book

A generous gift from John and Gertrude Wister has been used to purchase one of the earliest books published about agriculture in the Delaware Valley. This book John Spurrier's the PRACTICAL FARMER, was published in 1793 in Wilmington, Delaware. Spurrier, who described himself as "an old experienced farmer, late of the County of Herts, in Great-Britain and now of Brandywine hundred, County of New Castle," gives "directions for sowing, transplanting and managing flowers, herbs and vegetables in the garden." The Wister gift is a most appropriate memorial to booklover Emily R. Cheston who, with her husband Edward, sowed, transplanted and managed Hayfield Farm, Upper Dublin Township for fifty years.

New PHS Staff Member

Celia A. Segal of Holland, PA joined the staff in January as Administrative Assistant and Harvest Show Secretary. With a Bachelor of Science Degree in Recreation and Parks from Pennsylvania State University, Celia has worked as a Community Living Arrangement Resident Advisor for Residential Service Systems in Wayne and for the past couple of years in the Special Events Department at Strawbridge and Clothier.

Philadelphia Green Training Program Underway

In mid-January, the new Philadelphia Green Garden Assistants began their one-year training program with an eight-session course in urban horticulture. Patricia Schreiber, program coordinator says, "the Garden Assistants Training Program actually provides one more avenue for directing horticultural information back into Philadelphia's neighborhoods."

Topics to be covered this winter include basic botany, soils, container gardening, and pest and disease controls.

The new garden assistants, many of whom were referred by the Philadelphia Green Advisory Board members, were chosen for their previous community involvement, interest in plants, and willingness to share what they will learn with their neighborhoods.

Following the conclusion of the winter classes, and as they begin working with staff in the communities, the garden assistants will attend a series of monthly horticultural workshops which will provide them with more detailed information to supplement their winter studies.

The new garden assistants are: Beverly Agard, Ida Council, Gladys Davis, Ted Faigle, Charles Hurt, Annie McGee, Craig Robinson and Blanche Smith, all of West Philadelphia, Martha Holman and Louis Soto of North Philadelphia and Juanita Wooten of Germantown.

Committee chairs: PHS has a small staff — just 25 in all — who work in cooperation with a terrific team of volunteers who guide, back up and support every Society activity. Each committee is headed by a chair and PHS President Henry H. Reichner, Jr. announces the following committee heads for the coming year: Awards — Sandra C. Ward; Community Activities — Willie Mae Bullock; Finance — Harold C. Wessel; Harvest Show — Ann Marlar; Library — Joan Brinton; Members — Frances Cullen; Nominating — Anne B. Putnam; Publications — Adele Greenfield; Public Information — James N. Nutt, Jr.; Salary and Compensation — Russell O. Jones. Our three Flower Show committees are vital to the Society and we are most grateful to the following who will guide us through the upcoming Show: Flower Show Executive Committee — J. Liddon Pennock, Jr.; Preview Dinner — Mary C. Disston and Competitive Classes — Louise Harrity.

Flower Show Program: we are trying a new look this year, incorporating color photographs in the editorial section and adding a gardeners' green directory for advertisements — a section we hope you will save as a shopping guide for the coming year.

Editor Jean Byrne is eager for you to see the bright colorful program cover designed specially for the Show by Sam Maitin, one of Philadelphia's best known artists. Sam is a painter whose work has been collected by the Philadelphia Museum of Art, the Tate Gallery in London and many other international museums. He was head of the Graphics Communications Lab at the Annenberg School at the University of Pennsylvania and has taught print making at several Philadelphia art schools. Maitin has designed and illustrated many books, magazine covers and posters. A couple of years ago the poster he designed for the Greater Philadelphia Cultural Alliance brightened many of the city's bus shelters. Postcards with Sam's "Follow the Sun" design will be for sale at the Show in the membership booth.

The Society lost a good friend with the death of Louise Allinson in December. As Ernesta Ballard, former PHS president said, "Mrs. Allinson was a vital member of the Society's Council for almost 30 years and served in many key roles including that of secretary and vice president. Mrs. Allinson was deeply interested in conservation and was a founding member of the Brandywine Conservancy.

John C. Wister dies aged 95

His enthusiasm was infectious, the depth and breadth of his horticultural knowledge were unsurpassed and there's hardly a horticulturist in this country who has not been touched in some way by John Wister.

During the 1930s and '40s John Wister was a driving force within the Society, serving as secretary under president C. Frederick C. Stout for 21 years. Under the aggressive Stout/Wister regime the Society's membership doubled to more than 4,000 in 1941. When he was secretary Wister ran many of the Society's programs and initiated garden visits.

Wister was trained in landscape architecture at Harvard University and later used these talents in combination with his extensive horticultural interests in the development of the Arthur Hoyt Scott Horticultural Foundation at Swarthmore College. In addition to being an author, editor and lecturer, Wister was well-known for his breeding and hybridizing, principally of daffodils, peonies and daylilies, and for establishing large collections of both woody and herbaceous plants especially lilacs, magnolias and Glendale azaleas on the campus at Swarthmore College.

The Society benefitted from John Wister's talents and knowledge for more than a half-century; his death is a loss to gardeners of all ages.

Flower Show — At Last!

Flower Show talk has been buzzing for some time and at last the Show is here. The largest indoor flower show of its kind in the world, the Philadelphia Flower Show will open its doors from March 6-13 to visitors from around the nation. But before all the fanfare begins, the Show will have gone through its metamorphosis in greenhouses, garages, basements and barns all over the Delaware Valley.

On Friday, February 25 the initial Flower Shows crew will enter the Civic Center. Over the weekend Show designer, Ed Lindemann will chalk out each exhibitor's carefully measured space and a crew from Vick's Wildgardens will hang six miles of smilax.

By Monday afternoon the hall will be filled with piles of mulch and many large trees ready for planting. The sounds of chain saws and bulldozers fill the air as tractor trailers empty their cargo of bricks and staging materials.

The sailboats for the Show feature arrive on Wednesday, March 2. Five of them with brightly colored sails are on loan from Thomas Sailing Center, Berlin, NJ.

As we get closer to opening day mountains, streams and tropical islands take shape. Visitors will stroll along the deck of a marina and take in the sweet smell of summer blossoms as seagulls fly overhead. The nation's greatest Flower Show is in full bloom.

Back Stage At The Flower Show

The all important maintenance crew at this year's Show will be easily identified in bright yellow T-shirts with an orange Flower Show emblem. As part of the team that makes the Show run smoothly each year, this crew of high school students from the Saul High School of Agricultural Sciences, Roxborough will work with Joe Kerwin, floor manager, to guarantee that each day the public enjoys a safe and orderly Show. Assisting Kerwin will be Lance Mason of Philadelphia Green's staff, Bob Romans, David Baker and Edwin Heitman, a nine year Flower Show crew veteran.

The students are selected for this work-study program by Robert J. Hunter, agricultural coordinator at Saul High School. Hunter selects a cross section of freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors with good academic standing who are willing to make up missed class work after the Show.

Annual Meeting of Styer Award Evaluators

They meet once a year and huddle in the PHS boardroom studying color slides, plant descriptions and entry forms. Long discussions ensue among these experts on leaf shapes, plant textures, flower colors — and above all, how the entries stack up against readily available plants in the same group.

The Styer Award program, initiated in 1980, was the brainchild of J. Franklin Styer, nurseryman and plant researcher who had long been interested in promoting the development of high quality plants suitable for gardens in the Mid-Atlantic States.

Two years ago evaluators Darrel Apps, Jared Berd, James E. Cross, Tom Dilatash, William Heyser, William H. Frederick, Jr., Steve Hutton, Paul Meyer, Philip Normandy, Sally Reath, Quentin Schlieder, Bradshaw Snipes and J. Franklin Styer met under the leadership of chair, Richard W. Lighty to consider the first entries for the Certificate of Preliminary Commendation.

Those plants selected for this certificate, and an additional group of plants chosen in 1982, are currently under test in gardens and arboreta throughout the Mid-Atlantic States. Each year, when the evaluators meet in January, they discuss the progress of these entries. Within a few years the first entries will be eligible for consideration for the final J. Franklin Styer Award of Garden Merit.

This January the evaluators considered nine new entries and selected the following for testing by awarding each plant a Certificate of Preliminary Commendation. The name in brackets following each plant is that of the introducer.

Activities

March-April

Lectures, Meetings

(Open without charge to all)

KEYSTONE CHAPTER, AFRICAN VIOLET SOCIETY

Wednesday, March 16, 7:30 pm

Panel discussion: insects and diseases of African violets.

Wednesday, April 13, 7:30 pm

Tom Seiler: terrariums and bottle gardens.

Special Event

MEMBERS EVENING AT THE FLOWER SHOW

Tuesday, March 8, 5-7 pm

The Members Lounge, a tented area behind the horticultural classes will be staffed to dispense cocktails (donation bar), cheese, crackers and coffee on this evening. It's an annual happening during a less crowded time to see the Show.

The Members Lounge, open to members all during the Flower Show, is staffed by volunteers who serve coffee from 12 noon to 4 pm Sunday, March 7 through Saturday, March 13.

Registration Events

WORKSHOP: TRAINING PLANTS

Tuesday, April 5, 10 am

A slide program followed by a workshop on training plants will be given by Sally Reath, whose handsome best-in-show standard myrtles and rosemaries have fascinated flower show patrons for many years.

Registrants will take home a 5" pot with a plant started as a standard and a pot with a plant started on a spiral frame. Plants to be used, ivy, myrtle and rosemary, are not winter hardy here; all prefer cool indoor night temperatures.

All materials will be provided; bring shears. Fee: $15.00 members only.

PLANNING A PERENNIAL GARDEN

Wednesday, April 6, 13, 20, 10 am

Three 2-hour sessions on planning and planting a perennial garden will be conducted by Jane Reed Lennon, whose horticultural background includes a lengthy training at Hillier's in England.

Each participant will learn how to make a drawing for a perennial bed or border in his or her garden.

To be covered: selection of compatible plants for sunny and shady locations, soil and feeding, propagation and low maintenance plants.

All materials will be provided. Limited registration for members only. Fee: $35.00

MEMBERS EVENING

Thursday, April 7, 6 pm

Elvin McDonald, well-known horticultural communicator and syndicated columnist for King Features, who has written best sellers about house plants, will show slides of 'Container Gardens, Inside and Out'. He will emphasize container plants as "decorative space makers" and tell how to get hours of pleasure from minutes of gardening in containers. Featured will be fragrant plants, useful herbs, plants to attract butterflies and humming birds and water plants.

Cocktails 6 pm, buffet dinner 6:45 pm, program 7:45 pm. Fee: $10.00 members and guests.

WORKSHOP: CONTAINER GARDENING

Friday, April 8, 10 am — 2 pm

Elvin McDonald (see Members Evening) will give a lecture-demonstration on all facets of container gardening — how to choose and ready containers for planting, growing mediums, cleanliness, nutrition, reduced watering techniques, staking and pruning, French intensive planting and more.

Participants will take home a container garden planted in a 10" pot with unusual cultivars of fragrant and culinary herbs and a small leaved geranium.

Bring a sandwich; coffee and cookies provided by PHS. Fee: $15.00, members only. Limited registration.

PROPAGATION WORKSHOP: GROWING FROM SEEDS

Wednesday, April 13, 7 pm

Thursday, April 14, 10 am

Learn basic easy techniques for growing your own plants from seeds from expert Roxie Gevjan whose blue ribbon entries in the Philadelphia Flower Show are nearly all grown from seeds, including her bulb entries. She achieves a high rate of germination, the result of trial and error and using techniques learned from others.

After a lecture demonstration participants will plant 3 containers of seeds from the Denver Botanic Gardens, American Rock Garden Society and private sources.

All materials provided.

Limited registration for members only. Fee: $10.00

ELEUTHERIAN MILLS & WINTERHUR IN SPRING

Thursday, April 21, 8:30 am — 6 pm

A chance to see masses of spring bulbs along the Brandywine at the Hagley Museum where Eleutherian Mills, Eleuthere Irene duPonts' house above the original duPont powder works and restored garden, cultivated by him from 1803-34, are located. After a tour of the house and garden, we will go to Winterthur for lunch in the Garden Pavilion, followed by an orientation talk on the gardens, and a walking tour of the gardens led by Philip Correll, head of the Education Department. Then you will have time to see sixteen main museum rooms open in spring and do the American Sample. Tour in the Washington Wing and/or the Winterthur shops on your own.

Fee: $27.00, members and guests, includes bus transportation, all entrance and guide fees, return trip refreshments. Lunch is not included.

GEORGETOWN GARDEN TOUR
Saturday, April 23, 7:45 am — 7 pm

Bus to Washington, then go on a walking tour of Georgetown to see 11 traditional and innovative gardens including Captain and Mrs. Peter Belin's "Everymay", Dumbarton Oaks and 9 more private 'outdoor rooms' on a smaller, more intimate scale. This annual tour is organized by and is for the benefit of the Georgetown Children's House.

Details of bus pick-up in Bala Cynwyd and Center City will be mailed to registrants with a list of suggested Georgetown area restaurants for lunch on your own.

The fee includes transportation, tour ticket, tea at Children's House following the tour and return trip nourishment, altogether comprising a wonderful day.

Fee: $35.00 members and guests.
NORTHERN NEW JERSEY GARDENS
Thursday, May 5, 8 am — 6 pm

A full day trip: First to Far Hills, New Jersey to see the Leonard Buck Garden, now part of the Somerset County Park System then to Morristown for a box lunch and tour of Bamboo Brook's garden. Finally a walk through Rutgers University's Willowood Arboretum.

Chief Horticulturist Carl Suk will greet us at the remarkable 400 acre Buck Garden, featuring rock garden plants, rock out croppings — and hilly paths. Quentin Schleider, Director of Horticulture for Morris County Parks, will join us at Bamboo Brook, and John Trexler will be our guide at Willowood.

Fee of $27.00, members and guest, includes bus transportation, entrance fees & return home refreshments. Bring or order a box lunch, $6.00. Directions for bus pick up will be mailed to registrants.

Pepperpot

When they assembled at PHS headquarters for their first meeting in the New Year, the Philadelphia Green advisory made an awesome gathering. The board is composed of 42 members, all leaders in their own communities, many on a city wide basis and all dedicated to the principle that Philadelphia is a city of gardeners. The Philadelphia Green Advisory Board meets together four times a year and its committees on Harvest Show, Junior Show, Recognition Dinner, Public Relations, educational outreach, and other topics meet more frequently during the year. This year we are pleased to welcome the following new board members: James Dickerson, Rena Ennis, Lois Fernandez, Deborah Geisler, Natalie Kempner, Brenda Nealy, Delia Ortiz, Pearl Romans.

The Flower Show has long been a city wide event. Every year, however there are those companies and individuals to whom we are especially grateful for the support they give us in publicizing the Show. Matt Goukas, is the announcer for the Eagles football games and Matt has been letting those fans know throughout the fall that once the football season is over they have to get in training for the Flower Show.

Bonwit Teller is another great supporter and during the two weeks preceding the Show their windows at 17th and Chestnut will be dressed with high Flower Show fashions. And on March 5, store models will give customers complimentary flowers with notes advertising the Show.

Southeast National Bank and Strawbridge & Clothier also have soft spots for us. For the third year, Southeast National has enclosed a Flower Show reminder in each customer's February statement, and Strawbridge & Clothier has been good enough to do the same for their 12,000 employees.

"Handbook for Selecting Roses" is now available. To obtain a copy send a self-addressed stamped envelope with

Bieberfeld elected PNA President

The spotlight is on PHS member Herb Bieberfeld during 1983 as he serves a one-year term as president of the Pennsylvania Nurserymen's Association. Herb has been in the landscape nursery business for over 35 years and has exhibited in 18 Philadelphia Flower Shows starting with the first Show managed by PHS in the First City Troop Armory. Herb's wife Lorraine and son Jeff run Bieberfeld's County Line Nursery garden center in Harleysville and another son Mickey, a landscape contractor, exhibits in the Flower Show with his own company Harris M. Bieberfeld of Green Lane.

The PNA serves the nursery industry to further education and communication both within the professional community and the general public. Herb has been an officer of the local chapter and on the board of directors. Congratulations on your new appointment.

Help Wanted: Volunteers For The Gardens Of Independence National Historical Park

This is the job you've dreamed about; ideal location in historic Philadelphia, close to transportation and parking; maximum recompense guaranteed; pride in country and pleasure in serving it.

Special talents required: enthusiasm and commitment; 1 pair work gloves, 1 pair supple knees, no heavy lifting or mechanical work. Plain dirt gardeners, handy pruners, skilled weeders — all are welcome to apply.

Park horticulturist, Joanne McCullough will supervise all work, every Wednesday, at 9:30 A.M. starting March 23, 1983 for first spring pruning and cleanup. Is this the job for you? Call the Friends of INHP office at 597-7919.

The Park is host each year to four million visitors, most of them coming during the blooming season. Gardeners of Independence Park are concerned with 6.6 acres of cultivated beds, including the Rose Garden, Carpenter's Hall Garden and the planters surrounding the Liberty Bell Pavilion.

The 42 acres within the Park are maintained, year round, seven days a week, by a maintenance staff of nine, plus a few part time summer helpers. During the past two years, budget cuts have dramatically reduced this labor force.

We did promise four million visitors a Rose Garden: You can help!

City Gardens Contest "Getting Ready"

On April 29th in the Point Breeze section of South Philadelphia area gardeners and students from the Smith School, 19th & Wharton Sts., will celebrate the opening of the 9th annual City Gardens Contest at the 'Garden of Eatin', 25th & Dickinson Sts.

It's a contest for all gardeners—if you live in Philadelphia you can enter your garden, window box, your city block and compete against the best in the metropolitan area.

If you are a suburban gardener come join city gardeners as a judge. Last year some 350 judges worked in teams, judging 500 entries throughout Philadelphia.

The City Gardens Contest is sponsored by PHS in cooperation with Penn State's Urban Gardening Program. This year honorary chair Herb Clarke, WCAU-TV, Channel 10 weatherman, is expecting a record number of entries and judges to participate.

Managing the contest will be Jean Byall, contest coordinator, who is ready to receive garden entries and your offer to serve as a judge.

Call PHS at 625-8267 to secure an application or sign up as a judge. Alternatively, check the appropriate box on the reservation blank on page 3 for judging information. Application deadline for garden entries is June 10.

When you contact PHS Jean will send you a copy of our handsome new City Gardens Contest brochure containing guidelines for both entrants and judges. We are most grateful to the Sun Company, Inc. for donating the printing of this brochure.

During spring, fall and winter Jean Byall is available to make a 30-minute presentation to area garden clubs on the City Gardens Contest and Philadelphia Green, our Community outreach horticulture program. Jean's fee for this presentation is greatly reduced if your club guarantees to provide at least six contest judges. Call Jean at 625-8267 to reserve her for your 1983-84 program.

Junior Horticulturist Awarded

Theresa Marie Lewis of Crum Lynne, has been selected by the Awards Committee as the 1983 PHS Junior Horticulturist. A senior at Ridley Senior High School, Terri is a member of the Future Farmers of America (FFA) and is enrolled in the Horticulture Program at the Delaware County Area Vo-Tech School in Folcroft. She has received awards by the FFA for the Interview Contest and Agriculture Sales in her Chapter of FFA. Following graduation Terri plans to attend Temple University. As Junior Horticulturist she received $1,000.00.

Thaddeus F. Sinclair and Brian W. Quigley were given special runner-up awards for their presentations to the committee. Sinclair is a student at Morrisville Jr.-Sr. High School and is currently employed by Snipes Farm and Nursery. Ted plans to major in landscape design at college.

Quigley works part-time at the School Lane House of Flowers. He is a student at W.B. Saul High School of Agricultural Sciences and has won numerous awards in PHS's Harvest Shows, Junior Flower Shows and the State Farm Show in Harrisburg. After graduation Brian plans to major in horticulture at Delaware Valley College of Agriculture and Science. Sinclair and Quigley received awards of $500 and $250 respectively.

Semi-finalists were Joseph G. Marano, Jr. of Germantown Academy, Ft. Washington; Cynthia Scott of Abington High School, Abington and Sandra Spiewk of Council Rock High School, Newtown.

Pepperpot

W. Gerard Best, Senior Public Relations Representative, ARCO, was the bearer of good tidings in February when he announced the approval of a $5,000 donation to the Society by the officers of the Atlantic Richfield Foundation. This generous grant will be used to further the goals of Philadelphia Green, the Society's community outreach horticultural program.

Pennsylvanians filing state income tax returns this year will have an opportunity to "Do Something Wild."

In line with the new Wild Resource Conservation Act signed by Governor Thornburgh last June, the Revenue Department has provided space on the 1982 Pennsylvania tax form where persons may contribute to the Wild Resource Conservation Fund: line 19c on long form PA 40 and line 10c on short form PA 40-A.

Because of Pennsylvania's unique tax structure, many taxpayers are not entitled to a refund. However, if you desire to help finance the program, you may contribute directly to the Fund. Simply draft a check or money order payable to the Wild Resource Conservation Fund and mail it to Comptroller, Box 2063, Harrisburg, PA 17120. Contributions are tax deductible (from 1983 taxes).

Participants will take home a container garden planted in a 10" pot with unusual cultivars of fragrant and culinary herbs and a small leaved geranium.

Bring a sandwich; coffee and cookies provided by PHS. Fee $15.00 members only.

PROPAGATION WORKSHOPS:

GROWING FROM SEEDS

Wednesday, April 13, 7 pm

Thursday, April 14, 10 am

Learn basic easy techniques for growing your own plants from seeds from expert Roxie Gevjan whose blue ribbon entries in the Philadelphia Flower Show are nearly all grown from seeds, including her bulb entries. She achieves a high rate of germination, the result of trial and error and using techniques learned from others.

After a lecture demonstration participants will plant 3 containers of seeds from the Denver Botanic Gardens, American Rock Garden Society and private sources.

All materials provided.

Limited registration for members only. Fee: $10.00.

MEMBERS EVENING

GARDENS FOR VICTORIAN HOUSES

Thursday, May 19, 5:30 pm

Charlotte C. Stokes became an authority on Victorian gardens while researching the beginnings of Germantown's Ebenezer Maxwell Mansion garden, now one of the most important of small garden restorations. She will talk about how the principles and rules used by Andrew Jackson Downing in the 1840's and Frank J. Scott in the 1860's in planning the Mansion's 'rock-work and pleasure grounds' can be applied to embellish Victorian homes today.

After her illustrated talk, May Bowl and cake. Fee: $7.50, members and guests.

(Library will be open until 5:30 pm).

LIVING WREATH WORKSHOP

Tuesday, May 24, 10 am

Alison Flemer and Angeline Austin of Princeton, NJ will give a lecture-demonstration on the techniques they have developed for making living wreaths for summer table decorations.

Then participants will plant a 10-inch moss-stuffed frame with cuttings of easy-to-root, quick growing plants. Ivy, pachysandra and vinca will be supplied; if more exotic materials are desired, cuttings of herbs, succulents or vines chosen from a list to be mailed to participants may be brought to the workshop.

Fee: $15.00 members only.

A BOUQUET OF ENGLISH GARDENS

Thursday, May 26, 5:30 pm

Imagine visiting 54 gardens in four weeks! That's what Colvin Randall did on his recent trip to England and Scotland, and he will share with us the highlights of this marathon—everything from Chatsworth, Sissinghurst and Stourhead to Hestercombe, Alton Towers and Castle Howard.

Sherry and biscuits after the program when you can meet Colvin, publications editor and publicity coordinator at Longwood Gardens.

Fee: $7.50 members and guests. (Library will be open until 5:30 pm)

ELEUTHERIAN MILLS & WINTERTHUR IN SPRING

Thursday, April 21, 8:30 am - 6 pm

A chance to see masses of spring bulbs along the Brandywine at the Hagley Museum where Eleutherian Mills, Eleuthere Irene duPont's house above the original duPont powder works, and the restored garden cultivated by him from 1803-34 are located. After a tour of the house and garden, we will go to Winterthur for lunch in the Garden Pavilion followed by an orientation talk on the gardens and a walking tour of the gardens led by Philip Correll, head of the Education Department. Then you will have time to see sixteen main museum rooms open in spring and do the American Sampler Tour in the Washington Wing and/or the Winterthur shops on your own.

Fee: $27.00, members and guests, includes bus transportation, all entrance and guide fees, return trip refreshments. Lunch is not included.

GEORGETOWN GARDEN TOUR

Saturday, April 23, 7:45 am - 7 pm

Bus to Washington, then go on a walking tour of Georgetown to see 11 traditional and innovative gardens including Captain and Mrs. Peter Belin's "Evermay", Dumbarton Oaks and 9 more private 'outdoor rooms' on a smaller, more intimate scale. This annual tour is organized by and is for the benefit of the Georgetown Children's House.

Details of bus pick-up in Bala Cynwyd and Center City will be mailed to registrants with a list of suggested Georgetown area restaurants for lunch on your own.

The fee includes transportation, tour ticket, tea at Children's House following the tour and return trip nourishment, altogether comprising a wonderful day.

Fee: $35.00 members and guest

MAY, 1983

A Harvest Show In The Making

The 1983 Harvest Show will have a country 'flavor' all its own with a gaily festooned bandstand, ragtime music, harvest bounty of fruits and vegetables, canned goods, special arrangements, tradebooths and a restaurant all staged in greenhouses and under a brightly colored yellow and white striped tent.

And speaking of country flavor, be sure to leave a space in your garden for those overgrown veggies that you'll want to enter in the Top Tomato and Zuper Zucchini Contest. Varieties of tomatoes such as Delicious and Super Beefsteak and Burpee's Fordhook Zucchini are just a few to consider when planting for big results. The grand prize for the heaviest tomato or the longest zucchini is a Cuisinart food processor donated by the Cuisinart Company.

Ann Marlar, 1983 Show chair and vice-chair Jan Darrington say plans are well underway with the schedule, completed and ready for mailing to PHS members by mid-May. Ann reminds everyone to read over the schedule carefully, keeping in mind that the Show will once again be held at the Fairmount Park Horticulture Center.

Challenge Seeds Available

1983 Harvest Show challenge classes will be: Sweet Basil 'Green Bouquet', Pepper 'Sweet Pickle', Tomato 'Park's Whopper' VFNT Hybrid, Carrot 'Kundulus', and Tithonia 'Mexican Sunflower.'

If you want to participate in one of these classes, call Alexandra Basinski at 625-8285 and she will send you a package of seeds. Quantities are limited.

Harvest Show, New Classes for Pressed Plants

Henrietta Deubler, chair of the Pressed Plant Design Class for the 1983 Harvest show says, "Prepare now to enter your pressed plant designs in the Harvest Show." Four new classes in the pressed plant category are: Postage Stamp, Wrapping Paper, Floral Calendar and Porcelain Bell.

For more details on the above contact Virginia Tanner MU8-6293.

Seed Catalog Display

Seed Catalogs: Purveyors of Dreams will be exhibited at PHS from May 4 — June 17. From the first illustrated catalog, Robert Furber's Twelve Months of Flowers 1730, through catalogs distributed before World War I, visitors can see how dreams of perfect landscapes, ideal vegetables, sensational flowers and even dreams of financial success were marketed. The gift last year from the W. Atlee Burpee Company of thousands of their competitors' catalogs, inspired this exhibit and will include Burpee memorabilia, old photographs and articles relating to the seed industry, loaned for this exhibit. Members of the Library committee and volunteers who have produced this exhibit are Frances Barnett, Joan Brinton, Gienevieve Coghlan, Elizabeth Farley, Lillian Greenberg, Kitty Lapp, Elizabeth McLean and Sandra Myers.

Pepperpot

The paint had hardly dried on the boardwalk of the marina, and the ice was not yet frozen on the pond when the first of our 230,000 visitors stepped off the escalator to "Follow the Sun" through the 1983 Philadelphia Flower Show.

These last minute crises — leaking ponds, unfinished painting, are all part of staging a Flower Show, and because everyone involved gives that extra inch, we always manage to pull it off and open on time.

Among those who give not only an extra inch but a few extra yards are the team of carpenters led by foreman James Wadsworth of Unkefer Brothers. In charge of lighting is Al Taddei of H.B. Frazer who works with a crew to install thousands of extra [nonhorticultural] bulbs for our Show. United Exposition Service Company provides another such essential team, led by James McCarvill Jr., son of retired, but still consulting Flower Show Manager Jim McCarvill. During set up the United Expo crew hang miles of drape, hundreds of signs and generally cover up rough spots for us.

Among the unsung heroes of the Flower Show I would also like to mention Ed Resavage, who has just completed his 12th year as a program seller at the Show. This year Ed outdid himself, selling his last program one and one half days before we closed.

To all who helped at the Flower Show — and there are hundreds, no thousands of you who are PHS members, all of us at PHS say many thanks.

Your work was seen nationwide on the NBC Today Show on March 15, as well as on CBS Morning News, and in newspapers all across the country. The Philadelphia Flower Show has fans worldwide — all because of your enthusiasm and cooperation.

THE PENNSYLVANIA HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

Point Breeze Neighborhoods Celebrate Flower Day

By sundown, May 21 hundreds of gardeners from 45 neighborhood blocks will have planted thousands of annuals in celebration of Flower Day.

The Point Breeze Neighborhoods of South Philadelphia created this day as part of the final phase of their greening efforts. Over a seven year period, residents and Philadelphia Green staff have developed the Society's second Greene Country Towne in this 88-block area. Street trees, community vegetable gardens, sitting parks and all around beautiful neighborhoods have evolved under the dynamic leadership of Mamie Nichols, president of the Point Breeze Federation, Inc. and Haroldline Trower of the Point Breeze Beautification Committee.

A grand finale celebration is planned for July 30 to celebrate the completion of this project.

Schools Selected for Green The School Grounds Program

Three Philadelphia public schools recently selected to participate in the Green the School Grounds Program this spring are John Paul Jones Junior High School (Port Richmond), John S. Jenks Elementary School (Chestnut Hill), and Franklin Learning Center (Spring Garden).

The Green the School Grounds Program encourages the introduction of horticulture into the school environment with curriculum development materials needed to establish a school greening project with continued assistance in maintenance efforts.

This winter six public schools interested in beginning horticultural projects of their own submitted proposals including plans, photographs of the sites, and petitions showing support of the whole school community. Selection was to be made on the basis of these proposals and an on-site interview with each steering committee composed of the principal, teachers, parents and students.

According to Patricia Schrieber, coordinator of the Green the School Grounds Program, all six proposals were viable ones. Three above-mentioned schools will begin their work this spring with the other schools scheduled for next fall. These are Saul Lankenau Motivation Center (Roxborough), High School for International Affairs (Northern Liberties) and Germanantown High School.

Leave No Stone Unturned

Four hundred million years before we arrived they were here. Lepidodendron over 100 feet tall with scales; Calamites 50 feet tall thriving in shallow ponds and Sigillaria, three large cones atop a 100 foot columnar trunk.

These plants from the ancient past and their preservation in the earth's crust as fossils will be on display at the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society June 21 through August 31.

Hundreds of specimens from the collections of members of the Delaware Valley Paleontological Society will give visitors an insight into the Paleozoic Era 600,000,000 years ago. The fossils have been found in Pennsylvania and New Jersey and represent some of the finest plant fossil specimens in the area.

Come take a look into the past or what very well may be the key to the future.

The 1983 City Gardens Contest Kick off—Politicians Dig In

Photographers, reporters and curious gardeners crowded in-between the rows of vegetables to get just the right view. They came on April 29 to catch a glimpse of the mayoral candidates and to celebrate the 1983 City Gardens Contest kick off.

The celebration took place in the block long community vegetable garden, "The Garden of Eatin'" at 25th & Dickinson Sts. Candidates Anthony Bateman, Charles Dougherty, John Egan, Thomas Gola, W. Wilson Goode, Tom Leonard and Frank Rizzo each planted a fruit tree with the energetic assistance of some children from the Walter G. Smith School. The trees were donated by Robert Montgomery Landscape Nursery in Chester Springs. Contest chair, Herb Clarke, was master of ceremonies for the event.

Jean Byall, Contest coordinator, says that the ninth annual City Gardens Contest is off to a good start with many new entries, she reminds all city gardeners that the deadline for entries is June 10. For an application call Jean at 625-8267. Jean will also need judges; give her a call and offer your expertise.

Summer Hours

When summer comes, members of PHS staff plan to make best use of the daylight hours by starting work at 8:30 a.m. From June 1 through Labor Day the offices, including the library, will close at 4:30 p.m.

Activities

June Registration Events

PRACTICAL GARDENING AT CHANTICLEER

Saturday, June 4, 10 am - 3 pm

Howard J. Holden, horticulturist and superintendent of 'Chanticleer', a private estate in Wayne, will lead an informal tour of the estate and give suggestions of how to plan, plant and maintain your garden.

Topics covered will include vegetable and flower gardening, pruning, woody plants, espalier techniques, lawn care, soil preparation, spraying and equipment maintenance.

Bring a brown bag lunch (iced tea provided). Travel directions will be mailed to registrants.

Fee $15.00, 20 members only. Rain date: Saturday, June 11.

BASIC LANDSCAPE DESIGN

Mondays, June 6, 13, 7 - 9:30 pm

Monday, June 20, 7 - 9 pm

A combined lecture and workshop course ending with a critique session. Simple drafting instructions will be given so participants can do a preliminary drawing of their own property using PHS drafting materials.

Areas to be developed must not exceed 150 by 200 ft. nor need drastic change of grade.

Instructors: Paul Wolfinger and Patricia Schrieber of Philadelphia Green. Fee: $35.00; registration limited to 10 members.

HANGING BASKET WORKSHOP

Thursday, June 9, 10:30 - 2:30 pm

This workshop will be given at Meadowbrook Farm, Meadowbrook, PA by J. Liddon Pennock, Jr., proprietor, and John W. Story, manager of the greenhouses.

After a lecture-demonstration participants will plant a 10" plastic basket, a 10" moss-lined wire basket and a 10" Belden hanging garden with appropriate plants.

Bring your lunch; beverages will be provided. A tour of the Pennock's garden will conclude the day.

Travel directions will be sent to registrants.

11th ANNUAL MEMBERS EVENING AT THE PHILADELPHIA ZOO

Thursday, June 16, 6 pm

Charles W. Rogers, Jr., curator of horticulture at the Zoological Garden, will again be our articulate host for this event. Members and guests are asked to arrive promptly at 6 pm for a mono-rail ride to be followed by Chuck's walking tour of the Zoo's plantings including his topiary zoo and the hummingbird house. (All other Zoo buildings will be closed).

The tour will end at the donation bar and picnic area. Picnic supper will be served at 7:15 pm. After supper Chuck will show slides of 'Penn's Woodland Trail' and talk about native plantings at the Zoo.

Fee of $11.00 includes admission to Zoo, mono-rail ride and supper. Entrance directions will be mailed to registrants.

Judges Needed For City Gardens Contest

Entries are flooding in for the 1983 City Gardens Contest and Coordinator Jean Byall asks that any good PHS horticulturist who would like to spend a day visiting city gardens in July should give her a call at 625-8267. A judge's orientation day will be held at PHS on Thursday, June 23. Request additional information on reservation blank on this page.

Flower Show Arrangement Classes

The miniature arrangements which are a big success with both exhibitors and visitors will include three miniature arrangement classes next year. Anne Letter, chair of the artistic classes for the 1983 Show and her committee have decided on the following titles "A Trifle," "Petite Treasure,"—a mass arrangement and "Tranquility"—a design in the oriental mood. Joly Stewart, miniature advisor, indicated that all designs should be done with dried plant material and there will be a limit of six entries per class.

Theresa Phillips and Jeanne Griffith, in charge of pressed plant material classes, have come up with the following for next year. Class 141—"A Miniature Screen" a design for a folding screen, Class 142—"Mother Goose"—name your rhyme, Class 143—"A Williamsburg Arrangement" and Class 144—"Love is . . ." an interpretation.

Pepperpot

PHS is fortunate to have many generous supporters for its wide-ranging programs. To our corporate members, each of whom donate a minimum of $500 to the Society, we are especially grateful for the help they provide to support Philadelphia Green, our community outreach horticultural program. Henry H. Reichner, Jr., president wishes to thank the following corporations for their support this year:

Allegheny International Hardware Group, Anchor Packing Company, Atlantic Richfield Foundation, Bell of Pennsylvania, W. Atlee Burpee Company, Campbell Soup Company, Ernst and Whinney, General Accident Group, Girard Bank, Hunt Manufacturing Company Foundation, PMA Foundation, Philadelphia Electric, Philadelphia Suburban, Philadelphia Inquirer and Daily News, PSFS, PNB Charitable Trust, The PQ Corporation, Quaker Chemical Foundation, Rohm and Haas Company, SmithKline Beckman Corporation, Sun Company, Wawa, Inc., and Yarway Corporation.

Her intention was to become a PHS member: now she also owns a cute little red Honda motorbike to help her get around the garden. Rosario Fajardo, a native of the Philippines and a chemist at SmithKline Beckman, was one of 542 visitors who joined PHS at the Flower Show, making her eligible for the grand prize drawing. The "G" Boys, Marlton, NJ, long-time trade booth exhibitors donated the bike, and Betty Pryor was responsible for signing up Rosario as a new member.

Frannie Cullen, chair of the PHS Members Committee welcomes our new members and encourages your participation in our programs.

Flower Show Horticultural Classes

The schedule committee for the 1983 Flower Show, under the leadership of Jane Ward, competitive class chair, has already picked out the bulbs for 1984 and also a few new classes.

Two favorites will reappear this year. The balcony class will be set in a 12' w x 10' h area to simulate a high rise balcony, with the title, "Terrace In The Sky." The window box class, open to organizations and individuals, will be entered on Friday, March 9 to be rejudged on Friday, March 16.

Two new classes, #300, A 20 Plant Solution will appeal to the problem solvers of the plant world; #400, A Light Garden, will allow indoor gardeners to show 10 or more plants in their collection.

The full bulb list for the 1984 Show is listed below:

201 Narcissus, Little Gem (miniature) 4" pot.

202 Narcissus, Unsurpassable (trumpet) 8" bulb pan.

203 Narcissus, Ice Follies (large cup) 8" bulb pan or azalea pot.

204 Narcissus, Cragford (tazetta) 8" bulb pan or azalea pot.

205 Hyacinthus, Delft Blue 8" bulb pan or azalea pot.

206 Tulipa, Red Emperor 8" bulb pan or azalea pot.

207 Amaryllis, Apple Blossom 6" pot.

208 Any named miniature narcissus not listed above.

209 Any named standard narcissus not listed above.

210 Any named hyacinthus not listed above.

211 Any named tulipa not listed above.

212 Any named muscari.

213 Any named crocus.

214 Any named iris.

215 Any other named hardy bulb, corm, rhizome or tuber.

216 Any other named non-hardy bulb, corm, rhizome or tuber; pot 6" or under.

217 Any other named non-hardy bulb, corm, rhizome or tuber; pot over 6".

Two challenge classes will be included in the 1984 Show. Orchid Phalaenopsis "First Lady's", is available for purchase from PHS for exhibit in both the 1984 and 1985 Shows. The other is impatiens New Guinea Hybrid, also available through PHS.

These challenge plants will be limited to 2 plants per exhibitor and can be picked up at PHS in September.

Top Tomato and Zuper Zucchini Contest

Calling all backyard farmers, here's your chance to win a prize with your heaviest tomato or longest zucchini at the 1983 Harvest Show.

Bring your heaviest tomato or longest zucchini to the Harvest Show and enter it between 5 pm — 8 pm on September 22; 7:30 am — 10:30 am on the 23rd and 10 am — 3 pm on Saturday & Sunday, the 24th & 25th. Judging will take place on Sunday, September 25 at 4:30, but you do not have to be present to win. Winning vegetables will be selected on the basis of weight and length only — the heaviest tomato and the longest zucchini.

Cuisinart food processors generously donated by Cuisinarts, Inc. will be given to the top winner in each category and a family membership to PHS will be second prize.

Special events at this year's Show offer a treat for the whole family with jugglers, a children's activities tent, ragtime music and a marching band.

Afternoon horticultural demonstrations on topics such as canning, flower arranging and amaranth will take place, along with tree climbing demonstrations by members of The International Society of Arboriculture.

For all of you who will be concocting your own special brew for canning this summer, consider entering something in the preserved food classes at the Show. New categories to enter in this class are mustard, soaps, astringents, dried seasonings and dried potpourri. Call 625-8299 for an exhibitor's schedule.

Plant Giveaway at PHS

The annual plant giveaway will be held on September 20, 1983, 9 am to 7 pm.

Members can pick out a plant at PHS that has been grown and donated by other members. Different varieties of plants include those grown in greenhouses, houseplants, trees, shrubs and perennials. A complete listing of plants will appear in the September PHS News.

Point Breeze "Greene COUNTRY Towne"

After several years of planning and planting, the Point Breeze neighborhoods of South Philadelphia now have a "Greene COUNTRY Towne."

This 88 block community is the home of 13 community vegetable gardens, 11 sitting parks, 25 lot gardens, 18 street tree/planter blocks and 40 garden/flower blocks. Hundreds of residents in Point Breeze have been working with Philadelphia Green to develop the largest concentrated area of urban greening in the nation.

The Point Breeze Greene COUNTRY Towne was officially applauded with a celebration and dedication on July 29 in the neighborhoods' newly constructed Wedding Garden at 19th & Reed Sts.

PHS Goes Electronic

In the beginning, when the Society was founded, communication among members was easy: the gentlemen founders met once a month to discuss the notable events in the horticultural field. As the Society expanded, the challenge of keeping in touch with the members grew more complicated. First we used the quill pen, later the fountain pen, then a basic typewriter. When Ernesta Ballard became executive director in the early '60s she became well acquainted with the foibles and vagaries of the addressograph machine with messy metal plates. For the past few years we have used the Cheshire system to create your mailing labels and it has served us well.

This summer we took a big step and installed three personal computers to handle our membership and several other functions. The units look wonderful — and oh so modern in contrast to our eighteenth century building. Now the challenge begins as we convert from our old manual system and become acquainted with these modern machines.

These IBM personal computers are supposed to be "user friendly" but it's going to take us all a while before we are totally comfortable with them. If we overcharge you or scratch your name from our mailing list please don't treat us the way some people treat their bank or their insurance company in a similar situation. Give us a call and let us know what's wrong — rather than ignoring the situation. Linda Davis, membership secretary, will be in charge of the membership files and if there's a problem she will hope to hear from you on 625-8265.

Activities

August-September Lectures, meetings

(Open without charge to all)

KEYSTONE CHAPTER, AFRICAN VIOLET SOCIETY

Wednesday, September 21, 7:30 pm

This active plant society invites PHS members to its monthly meetings at PHS.

Special Events

PHS MEMBERS PLANT GIVE AWAY Tuesday, September 20, 9 am - 7 pm

Members may choose a free plant from a variety of indoor and outdoor plants propagated by fellow PHS members. Horticultural information about the plants and iced tea will be available.

MEMBERS PREVIEW OF HARVEST SHOW

Friday, September 23, 4 - 7:30 pm

Members will receive tickets to the show in early September. Plan to attend the preview immediately following the judging of exhibits.

Members may bring guests to the preview for a charge of $5.00 each payable at the entrance. Cider and pretzels will be served from 4 pm; wine and cheese at 5 pm.

Registration Events

GROWING AND SERVING ORIENTAL VEGETABLES

Wednesday, September 7, 10 am - 2 pm

Mona Gold, long-time oriental food enthusiast (professionally director of horticultural therapy at Friends Hospital) will give a two hour lecture-demonstration using a wok.

A few ingredients: Bok Choy, tiger lily buds, cloud ears.

Participants should arrive promptly at 10 and bring a brown bag lunch to supplement the tasting of Mona's recipes. PHS will supply beverages and fortune cookies.

After lunch a mini-bus trip to the Chinese community vegetable garden and oriental food stores in Chinatown.

Fee: $15.00, 25 members and guests.

GREEN SCENE Writing Course Mondays, October 17, 24, 31 November 7, 5:30 - 7:30 pm

First-time writers in Green Scene have subsequently had articles published elsewhere including the New York Times and the Brooklyn

Botanic Garden handbooks. Experienced writers have since published books on horticulture. Here's an opportunity for the closet writer to get your ideas into article form and your name into print in Green Scene and elsewhere.

This four session course will cover how to approach editors, sharpen your ideas, write, edit and rewrite. It will be team-taught by Jean Byrne, editor of Green Scene and Elaine Rose, a former editor of Sun Magazine (of Sun Company) and other corporate publications. Group participation will be emphasized.

Fee: $40.00, 12 members only. Bring a sandwich; PHS will provide beverages and desert.

PEPSICO SCULPTURE GARDEN AND WAVE HILL IN RIVERDALE

Wednesday, September 28, 7:30 am - 6:30 pm

A charter bus trip to West Chester County, NY and Riverdale in the Bronx. The Pepsico corporate headquarters in Purchase, NY is surrounded by gardens and a comprehensive collection of 20th c. sculpture owned by Pepsico. We will be privileged to have the eminent British landscape designer Russell Page, who is a consultant for Pepsico, walk about the gardens with us.

Wave Hill, a Hudson River estate now a city park opposite the Palisades, has 28 landscaped acres including a rock garden, herb garden, conservatory and alpine house. After having lunch we will tour the gardens which still show the 19th c. influences of Downing and Olmstead and meet horticulturist Marco Polo Stufano.

Fee: $30.00 members and guests. Bring or order ($6.50) a box lunch; coffee and tea provided. Wine and cheese en route home.

BOGS, BARRENS AND XEROPHYTIC WOODLANDS IN CHESTER COUNTY

Saturday, October 1, 10:30 am - 2 pm

William R. Overlease, professor of biology at West Chester State College will lead a half-day car caravan tour to see flora characteristic of special geographic areas in southern Chester County. Botanizing will include: a serpentine barren with rare plants growing in sparse acidic soil near Fern Hill, a flood plain forest by the Brandywine, and an upland forest. Bring a bag lunch; beverage provided. Directions for a meeting place at the college will be sent registrants.

Fee: $15.00 members and guests.

TRIP

TWO DAYS IN WASHINGTON, DC AND VIRGINIA

Friday, October 14 and Saturday, October 15

Plans are being finalized for a two day trip to see private gardens — on Friday in Washington (including Georgetown) gardens designed by Oehme, van Sweden and Associates featuring ornamental grasses and other plants at the height of their beauty in October. On Saturday we will see private gardens in Virginia. Price estimate including bus transportation is $175.00 plus a $50.00 tax deductible donation to PHS. Limit: 25 members only. Request more information on the reservation form.

Other Events

Bartram 300th Anniversary Reunion August 19, 20, 21

Colonial botanist John Bartram's grandparents and father arrived in the New World from England in 1683.

Bartram family members and members of the John Bartram Association will celebrate this event at Bartram's Garden (America's oldest botanic garden) 54th & Lindburgh Ave., Phila.

For membership information ($15.00 per year) and for schedule of reunion activities call 215-729-5281.

American Horticultural Society 38th Annual Meeting

September 14 - 17

PHS Members are invited to join AHS members during their annual meeting in Philadelphia. All educational sessions are open to members free of charge. You are also welcome to attend the President's and Awards Banquet on Saturday, September 17 at the Franklin Plaza Hotel. Stephen Spongberg of the Arnold Arboretum will talk on the Horticultural Heritage of E.H. 'Chinese' Wilson. (Banquet — $40.00)

For registration information please write Elizabeth Hume, American Horticultural Society, Box 0105, Mount Vernon, Va 22121 or call 703-768-5700.

"How Does Your School Garden Grow" Maintenance Contest

1983 is the first of what will be the annual maintenance contest for participants in The Green The School Grounds program, a Philadelphia Green project.

Each school in the program is presented with a flat of plants in April and judging takes place in early June. This year's winners are: 1st prize, ($75) Smedley School, Bridge & Charles Sts.; 2nd prize, ($50) Meredith School, 5th & Fitzwater Sts.; and 3rd prize ($25) Pepper Middle School, 84th & Lyons Ave. A special award of merit was given to Lincoln High School, Ryan & Rowland Aves. and honorable mention went to Mastermann School, 17th & Spring Garden and Smith School 19th & Wharton.

An awards reception will be held for all Green The School Grounds participants in October.

"In The Spirit" — a chance to exhibit

This year's Holiday Show at PHS invites exhibitors to participate in the festivities. The theme is "In The Spirit" and exhibitors may participate by entering wreaths, tree ornaments, arrangements and container grown plants appropriate to the season. For a holiday show schedule check the appropriate box in the reservation blank on this page.

MAILINGS TO LOOK FOR

We are going to do it differently this year and you will receive your dues notice and Harvest Show tickets in two separate mailings. The tickets will be mailed in mid-August and the dues notices in late August. Both envelopes will be mailed third class so when you get them will depend on how speedily your local post office processes non-profit bulk rate mailings. The maximum time from mailing to receipt should be three weeks.

PHS, 325 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 19106
Reservations accepted by mail only; include full payment. Use form below to speed processing. All events are held at PHS unless otherwise stated. Confirmations for events at PHS are not mailed; unless you hear otherwise we will expect you. Field trip confirmations with important trip information are mailed. There is limited space for all activities (except garden visits). Each activity is listed in two consecutive issues of the PHS News.

A Message From Your Local Nurseryman

Fall is For Planting — the message you will soon see in your local nursery — is one you should look into carefully. Fall is a terrific time to revamp the front yard, the back yard or even to plant the occasional tree or shrub.

Next spring you will be frantically trying to get the vegetable garden going and the shrubbery will suffer. Take advantage of the cooler weather and, we hope, ample rainfall to plant in late August, September, October and even into November.

J. Franklin Styer, Delaware County nurseryman with many years experience, points out that stem growth in most woody plants ceases in July as the stems enter a physiological phase called dormancy. The leaves remain on the tree and feed the roots, which do not become dormant. Dormancy will persist until there has been sufficient cold weather to change the chemical balance within the stems and to allow the new growth in the spring. During dormancy most plants can be moved successfully.

You may question the wisdom of planting in August when the weather tends to be hot and dry. Dr. Styer suggests you only plant in August if you are able to water at regular intervals. However, the sooner you can plant the more open weather there will be for root development — which is especially important for needled evergreens that need good root systems to move water into the foliage for winter.

In considering specific groups of plants, Styer has the following comments: azaleas and rhododendrons do not become dormant until cool weather, or even until frost. However, fall planting usually provides such evergreen plants with enough shock to induce early dormancy, which prevents an early freeze from killing half-dormant flower buds later. Deciduous shrubs and trees should be moved later in the fall, after leaf-drop. It is important to understand one peculiarity of many shade trees. If these are moved within two to three weeks before leaf fall, there is insufficient moisture to allow for the growth of the leaf scar tissue. Consequently, the leaves do not fall and the whole tree may die.

If you have questions on fall planting, be sure to call the PHS horticultural hotline at 922-8043.

Saul High School Seeks Donations

As Henry Avenue travels northwest fringing Fairmount Park, it also crosses through a rural setting known as W.B. Saul High School of Agricultural Sciences, a part of the school district of Philadelphia. The school's service to its 670 students, its association with a craft/advisory committee, its participation in continuing agro-business education (at the adult level) and the "Food for America Program" has spread the word of the agricultural high school. Members and staff of PHS have benefitted greatly from Saul High School students' participation in the Junior Show, the Harvest Show and the Philadelphia Flower Show.

In an era of financial stress within the school district of Philadelphia, donations of equipment and materials have become increasingly important to the staff, students and administrators at Saul High School. In future years these needs will expand because Saul High School has become the program developer and administrator for a 115-acre farm on Pine Road, Philadelphia, known as Fox Chase Farm.

Donations to Saul have included young and fully developed beef cattle; farm tractors, seeders, harrows and cultivators; wildlife propagation (ducks, pheasants, quail); trees for Arbor Day and electric utility poles.

As a PHS member you may have a piece of equipment, animals or materials you would like to donate to W.B. Saul High School. Donations are tax deductible. For further information on donations please contact Robert J. Hunter, Coordinator, W.B. Saul High School, 7100 Henry Avenue, Philadelphia, PA 19128 (215/483-2841).

Harvest Show Members' Preview

This year Preview hours will be 4 to 7:30 pm.

Members are welcome to bring guests to enjoy this early showing. The price of $5.00 per guest ticket will include wine and other refreshments. Tickets will be available at the Show.

INFORMATION 800 — Hazardous Waste Hotline

The Pennsylvania Environmental Research Foundation has recently installed a toll free telephone number designed to provide the public with up-to-date information on hazardous waste and hazardous waste management. The number is 800-322-9124 and operates between 9 am — 5 pm, Monday through Friday.

Pepperpot

The Pepperpot had a wonderful trip with 33 very enthusiastic PHS members to native Scotland and then took a vacation — all of which means I didn't get a chance to write a column. I will be back in the next issue of the News.

Nominations Submitted for Elections to PHS Council

Members will have an opportunity to elect 11 new members to Council at the Annual Meeting, to be held on November 16 at 5:15 p.m.

Joan Brinton, Robert Butera, Russell Jones, Elizabeth Lippincott, Harold Wessel and L. Wilbur Zimmerman are all eligible for reelection and have agreed to serve again. Additional Council nominations are as follows:

Kathryn Andersen lives in Wilmington and is president of the Delaware Valley Chrysanthemum Society, the Delaware Daffodil Society and has recently completed a term as president of the Wilmington Garden Center. Andersen graduated from Vassar College and holds a PhD from the University of Michigan. She served nine years as a member of her local Board of Education and on other civic boards in Delaware.

Louise Harrity served as chair of the Competitive Classes for the Philadelphia Flower Show, 1982 and 1983, following two years as chair of the Garden Class. She is a past president of the Seed and Weed Garden Club and co-chair of the Arboretum and garden committee for Appleford. Harrity is also recording secretary for the National Society of the Colonial Dames of America in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Natalie Kempner has long been associated with PHS through our school programs and Philadelphia Green. She was graduated from Smith College and later completed a graduate degree in history at Cornell. When she came to live in Philadelphia she was a trainee at the Schuylkill Valley Nature Center. In 1973 she founded the Norris Square Neighborhood Project, a bilingual urban environmental learning center in West Kensington where she worked as director for eight years. In 1976 she was recipient of the PHS Teacher of the Year Award. Currently, Kempner works as a freelance writer; is a member of the boards of Norris Square Project and Philadelphia Green; vice-chair of the PHS Junior Show and Clerk of Chestnut Hill Friends Meeting.

William D. MacDowell, home gardener, beekeeper and orchardist is returning to the PHS Council. A graduate of Oberlin College and the Harvard Business School, MacDowell worked for Procter and Gamble and General Foods, and was president of the W. Atlee Burpee Company for 10 years. For the past two years he has managed his own importing, exporting and management consulting business and is currently on retainer to a genetic engineering firm. During his previous term on the Council he served as chair of the Flower Show and as a vice-chair of the Society.

To Frances Cullen, Muriel Happich, Robert Preucel, and Yvonne Wynne, who are scheduled to retire at the end of the year, the Society expresses many thanks for their participation as members of the Council. Robert Ryan, also retiring from Council, will remain a vice-president.

THE PENNSYLVANIA HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

The 1983 Junior Flower Show November 11, 12, 13 and 14 at The Bourse

Magic Tricks, Sleight of Hand, Houdini's Helpers and Hocus Pocus are just a few of the 30 classes children can enter in this year's Junior Flower Show.

Children, pre-school through 12th grade are invited to enter. Write Denise Flores, at PHS, or call her at 625-8280. Deadline for entries is November 3rd.

Show hours are November 11, 12-5 pm; November 12, 10 am-5 pm; November 13, 12-5 pm and November 14, 10 am-3 pm. Admission is free.

Major Awards to be made at PHS Annual Meeting on November 16

Sandra C. Ward, chair of the PHS Awards Committee announced the committee's decision to present three major awards this year at the Society's annual meeting.

William Flemer, III, president of Princeton Nurseries, New Jersey will receive the 1983 Distinguished Achievement Medal. A graduate of Yale with a masters degree in botany, Flemer has played a leading role in the selection and marketing of superior trees and shrubs. With his deep interest in genetics, Flemer has been a supporter of many research and scientific investigations and has encouraged and supported plant exchanges in public gardens and arboretums.

Flemer has been an active leader in several nursery associations including the Ornamental Growers Association, the American Nurserymen's Protective Association, the New Jersey Association of Nurserymen, the National Association of Plant Patent Owners and the International Propagators Association.

Flemer has also been president of the Millstone Watersheds Association, a member of the Governor's Rural Advisory Council and a member of the National Academy of Science Highway Research Board. He has been a member of the Advisory Council of the National Arboretum, serving as its chairman, and has been on the visiting committee of the Arnold Arboretum as well as a member of the committee for revitalizing the planting on the White House grounds.

Emily du Pont and Sarah Groome will both receive Certificates of Merit at the 1983 annual meeting.

Emily du Pont, member of the Garden Club of Wilmington, is an ardent proponent of horticulture and conservation and has served as both vice president and secretary of Red Clay Valley Association, an organization devoted to land conservation. Mrs. du Pont was instrumental in the creation of the Ashland Nature Center and helped initiate the landscaping for Fountain Plaza and the H.B. du Pont Park, two important areas in Wilmington. Recently Mrs. du Pont played a leading role in the formation of the Wilmington Garden Center, an organization with goals similar to those of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, located on the Mall in downtown Wilmington. Through its workshops, lectures and newsletters, the Center serves as a source of information and has started a community outreach program to assist in the greening of Wilmington.

Sarah C. Zantinger Groome, flower arranger and teacher, has been a source of inspiration to arrangement exhibitors in the Philadelphia Flower Show for many years. As an arranger she has captured awards including the Helen Hope Dechert and Margaret Biddle Bright Award, and on three occasions Mrs. Groome has been awarded the Philadelphia Flower Show Arrangement Sweepstakes.

As a teacher, she has lectured extensively to garden clubs and has for 14 years offered workshops to novice and advanced Flower Show exhibitors in her home.

A member of the Four Counties Garden Club, Sarah Groome has been a Garden Club of America judge for more than 30 years. In 1974 the Garden Club of America awarded her its coveted Award of Merit.

American Horticultural Society Awards to PHS Members

When the American Horticultural Society held its annual meeting in Philadelphia last month, several PHS members were honored for their accomplishments in the field of horticulture. Everitt L. Miller, director of Longwood Gardens received the Liberty Hyde Bailey Medal. J. Liddon Pennock, Jr., chair of the 1984 Philadelphia Flower Show and long-time PHS Council member, was awarded a citation for Meritorious Service. Mr. and Mrs. William Frederick, Jr. were honored as local horticulturists and Viola Anders, instructor in floriculture at Temple University's Ambler School of Horticulture, received the Teaching Citation.

Holiday Competition

Our 1983 Holiday Show "In the Spirit" will suggest design ideas suitable for the home. Join the fun and compete in a potpourri of classes — Holiday Welcome — a door decoration using fresh evergreen materials; By the Fire Glow — a decoration for a fireplace mantle; Sugar and Spice — an arrangement staged in a niche incorporating herbs and/or spices, in addition to horticultural classes, including flowering, fruiting and foliage plants suitable for the holiday season. This is just a selection. Request an entry form on the reservation form for further details, or call 625-8250. Most classes have limited entries so we encourage you to sign up promptly. Entries will be staged November 29 and 30. If you have further questions please call Joe Kerwin at 625-8262.

The Annual Meeting will be held to elect new Council members and to present three important PHS awards.

A reception honoring the awardees will be held in the Board Room with refreshments (cash bar) following the meeting.

Registration Events

TOPIARY WORKSHOP AT MEADOWBROOK FARM

Wednesday, October 12, 10:30 am - 2 pm

A Columbus Day treat for PHS members — this workshop will be given by Nancy Story, the topiary grower at J. Liddon Pennock's Meadowbrook Farm, Meadowbrook, PA.

Participants will learn her techniques for planting and caring for a topiary grown in a decorative pot and trained onto a moss-stuffed animal frame. You will then plant one using Ficus pumila, a plant that will tolerate the home or apartment environment.

Bring lunch; beverages provided. A tour of the Pennocks' gardens will conclude the day. Travel directions will be sent to registrants. Fee: $33.00, 15 members only.

PROPAGATION WORKSHOP: HARD-TO-FIND HOUSEPLANTS FROM CUTTINGS

Thursday, October 13, 10 am

PHS members Joanne C. Marano and Margaret P. Bowditch, both experienced growers and exhibitors, will teach propagation techniques, and participants will plant cuttings from a variety of hard-to-find and unusual houseplants to take home.

The workshop will include a mini-course on houseplant culture and care, insect control, feeding, exposure and microclimates.

Registration fee of $15.00 includes all materials. 25 members and guests.

GREEN SCENE WRITING COURSE

Mondays, October 17, 24, 31

November 7, 5:30 - 7:30 pm

This four session course is filled. Ask to be on a wait list for a repeat course to be given next year by Jean Bryne and Elaine Rose.

MEMBERS EVENING

Wednesday, October 26, 6 pm

Beth Chatto, a household name to English gardeners, will come to PHS to talk about her remarkable four acre garden at White Barn House in Essex, where she succeeds with plants for very dry and very damp situations and has landscaped five large pools.

Cocktails 6 pm (donation bar); buffet supper 6:45 pm; program 7:45 pm.

ITALIAN GARDENS AND CLOISTERS

Thursday, November 10, 5:30 pm

To whet your appetite for an upcoming PHS trip to Italy, Patricia Tyson, a former editor of Frontiers magazine, will show slides taken on a recent trip of gardens from Lake Como to Rome and cloister gardens in Assisi, Florence and Venice. Among them: Villa Carlotta, tropical flora of the Boromeo Islands, Villa Rufolo in Ravello and of course the 16th c. water gardens of Villa d'Este.

Fee: $5.00 members and guests includes refreshments with an Italian flavor.

GREENHOUSE MAINTENANCE AT WELDON NURSERY

Saturday, November 12, 10 am - 12 pm

William F. Delafield, Jr., of Weldon Nursery in Bryn Mawr, will conduct a course in year-round home greenhouse maintenance from repotting and spraying prior to reopening a greenhouse in the fall to closing down, including summer care. He will cover spraying and feeding devices and schedules, heating methods and insulation, temperature zones and air circulation. The emphasis will be on growing plants in non-solar structures.

A map will be mailed to registrants.
 Fee: $10.00, members and guests.

FLOWER ARRANGING COURSE

Mondays, November 14, 21, 28, 10 am

Three creative award winning arrangers with excellent aesthetic judgment and ability to communicate their expertise will give a lecture/demonstration course for those who wish to feel at ease fixing flowers at home or for show.

First week: Sarah Groome's topic is 'Imaginative Use of Small Containers.' Second week: an expert on Japanese arrangements. Third week: Barbara Cramer will do sculptural arrangements using natural materials and very few flowers.

Tips on mechanics, tools and making flowers last will be part of each session.
 Fee: $30.00 members and guests.

WORKSHOPS: DECORATIONS FROM WEEDS, NUTS, CONES

Tuesday, November 15, 10 am and 6 pm

Ruth Flounders and Frank Kieser, whose Harvest Show and Holiday Show entries charm PHS members, will demonstrate how to make long lasting decorations from locally gathered natural materials; registrants will then create their own.

How-to handouts will be available but your creativity will be encouraged.

Fee: $18.00 members and guests.
 Evening registrants should bring a sandwich; coffee and dessert provided.

MEMBERS EVENING

Wednesday, November 16, 6 pm

Anthony Huxley, British horticulturist, author and editor of 31 books, will give a talk, "From Andes to Amazon," about plant hunting in South America and about the flora and fauna of the Galapagos.

Cocktails: 6 pm (donation bar); buffet, 6:45 pm; program 7:45 pm.
 Fee: $11.00 members and guests.

TALK AND TEA: ANTHONY HUXLEY AT THE ACADEMY OF NATURAL SCIENCES.

Thursday, November 17, 3 pm

PHS and the Academy are co-sponsoring a repeat of the Members Evening program (see above) at the Academy, 19th St. at Logan Circle, to assure that everyone will have an opportunity to see Mr. Huxley's slides and to meet him at a reception following the program.

Fee: $3.50 members and $5.00 guests includes tea (admission to museum not included).

Field Trips

BOGS, BARRENS AND XEROPHYTIC WOODLANDS IN CHESTER COUNTY

Saturday, October 1,

10:30 am - 2 pm

William R. Overlease, professor of biology at West Chester State College will lead a half-day car caravan tour to see flora characteristic of special geographic areas in southern Chester County. Botanizing will include: a serpentine barren with rare plants growing in sparse acidic soil near Fern Hill, a floodplain forest by the Brandywine and an upland forest. Bring a bag lunch; beverage provided. Directions for a meeting place at the college will be sent to registrants.

Fee: $15.00 members and guests.

BARNES ARBORETUM

BERRIES, DRUPES & POMES

Friday, October 7, 10 am - 2 pm

A day at Barnes in Merion. In the morning Elizabeth Farley, assistant director of the Barnes Arboretum and superb guide, will lead 25 PHS members and guests through the Arboretum where the seasonal attractions include colorful fruits of trees and shrubs.

Registrants should bring a sandwich; soup, cheese, fruit and coffee will be provided. After lunch, walk around to the entrance of the Barnes Foundation's gallery and tour the collection at leisure.

Peppercot

From the groundbreaking in 1965 by Lady Bird Johnson till now, the PHS 18th Century Garden has been a source of endless beauty and solitude for those who visit. Thousands of tourists come each year to the garden to take that perfect photograph of a piece of historic Philadelphia. Hundreds of newly married couples use the garden as a backdrop for their treasured wedding portrait and many a television studio has set up their crew in this miniature stage set of flowers, shrubs and lattice structures on Walnut Street.

The 18th Century Garden is tended April through September by a group of dedicated garden volunteers. These hardworking gardeners take time out of their own busy schedules to deadhead, weed, plant and prune on each Wednesday. This year's volunteers are: Grace Cole, Edward Doelp, Lilly Glazer, Johanna Goedel, Helen Kaufman, Kitty Lapp, Matthew McConnell, Ann McPhail, Harriett Richards, Frances Vollmer and Ruth Walker.

We thank our volunteers for this generous gift of beauty.

Harvest Bounty and Blue Ribbons at 1983 Harvest Show

Beautiful weather, baskets overflowing with fresh fruit and vegetables, jams, jellies, elegant arrangements and a diversity of major exhibits brought thousands of visitors to Fairmount Park's Horticulture Center for this year's Show.

In spite of a hot, dry growing season, entries in the horticultural classes totaled 1300 with 467 entered by Philadelphia's community gardeners.

PHS Awards

The Best Of Show was given to Chanticleer for their exhibit "Wanderlust of Seeds." J. Blaine Bonham and William Grubb took the PHS Gardeners' Sweepstakes award for their 15 blue ribbons; the Seedlings, of Kennett Square picked up the Club Sweepstakes Certificate with 17 blue ribbons, and 4300-4310 Sansom Streets garden received the PHS Community Garden Sweepstakes for its 17 blue ribbons.

The PHS Harvest Show Certificate in Memory of Charles A. Gruber in the Community Garden — novice category went to Schuylkill Community Garden and to 3rd and Christian Sts. for community garden with a previous win.

The PHS Bronze Medals to the best blue ribbon winner in the following sections: Dr. and Mrs. John J. ## Nature's Magic Show — New Location

This 9th annual Flower Show for youngsters will feature special events on Friday, November 11 and Saturday, November 12.

This year walk through a magical garden, be greeted by food friends, craft creatures, costumed characters and magicians. Last year's Show brought over 1800 artistic and horticultural entries and 10 special exhibits. Children throughout the Delaware Valley are encouraged to enter. Tell your teacher, tell your friends to contact "The Mad Hatter" at 625-8280 for an entry booklet filled with fun ideas.

The Junior Flower Show will be held on November 11, 12, 13 and 14 at The First Bank of the U.S. on 3rd Street between Walnut and Chestnut St. Admission is free.

Get In The Spirit at PHS December 1 - 31

The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society cordially invites you to attend and participate in the 1983 Holiday Show. Our goal is to provide each visitor with some measure of holiday inspiration, to stress horticultural information and to suggest design ideas suitable for the home. The merriment of the season is interpreted throughout the show to reflect a festive holiday celebration.

The deadline is fast approaching for entries in this holiday competition. Exhibitors can create door decorations, wreaths, decorations for a Christmas tree, mantle arrangements, dried or fresh flower arrangements and decorations for a gift package.

The show will be open the weekend of December 17 and 18 from 11 am to 4 pm and on weekdays from 9 am to 5 pm throughout December. Call Joe Kerwin for an exhibitors' schedule at 625-8262 or check the box on page three. Deadline for entry is December 1.

Junior Horticulturist Contest — Winner Receives $1,000

High School seniors in the Delaware Valley who have demonstrated an interest in horticultural activities should contact the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society now and request an application for entry. Students must submit the application along with three letters of recommendation by mid-December. Finalists will be interviewed by the PHS Awards Committee and the winner will be notified by March 1, 1984. Call Lisa Stephano at (215) 625-8266 for an application.

Pepperpot

We used to think of you, our dear members, as diggers and sowers, as people who were more comfortable with trowels in your hands than pencils, or more at home on a garden bench than a velvet settee. When it came to communication with you we could go to the 3 by 5 cards, filed alphabetically in a wooden drawer with your mailing cards separated by zip code.

Now it's all different and instead of finding you in that drawer, we find you as a series of dot matrices on a printout. Your name is a series of characters in a DataFile, and we store you on a hard disc in our IBM Personal Computer.

Those of you who have long names caused us the most problems this summer as Linda Davis, membership secretary, and her helpers Audrey Manley, Celia Segal, Marge Meer and Carol Lindemann struggled to get you "inputted" into our system. As with any other computer start up, it wasn't all plain sailing and there were times when we lost 2,000 of you in dot matrix form. Luckily we still had you stored in the wooden cabinet and we were able to return you to your rightful place as a PHS member.

In October you received your first mailing with the new, computer-created mailing labels. If everything doesn't seem AOK, please give Linda a call at 625-8265 and let her know the problem.

To all those who paid their dues on receipt of your first notice — many, many thanks. We so appreciate your prompt payments and hope to encourage the balance of our members to sign up on the second mailing, which should reach you in mid-November. Your prompt response saves us an enormous amount of time and energy — not to mention postage and paper.

The PHS staff is a smashing team from all points of view. Frequently one of them puts on a bigger smash than usual. Blaine Bonham, director of Philadelphia Green, knocked us all down in September by winning the Harvest Show Sweepstakes with William Grubb, horticultural therapist at the Northwestern Institute of Psychiatry, Fort Washington. Blaine and Bill do their gardening on a third floor deck — about eight blocks from the Society. Congratulations to these two city gardeners.

Thanks go to all Harvest Show exhibitors, volunteers, judges, Fairmount Park crews, policemen, visitors and a special thanks to Blanche Epps, Philadelphia Green garden intern, whose scarecrow was shown on WPVI-TV's AM/Philadelphia in conjunction with the Harvest Show.

THE PENNSYLVANIA HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

CITY GARDENERS CELEBRATE YEAR LONG GREENING EFFORTS

Philadelphia Green's Annual Recognition Dinner held in October at the Franklin Plaza Hotel honored some 400 gardeners for their efforts throughout the season.

U.S. Congressman William Gray of Philadelphia's 2nd District applauded the achievements of the audience, stating that they were "the true leaders of neighborhood revitalization." Alta Felton, Dorothy Reisdorph, Florie Dotson and Edith Wagner all received "Green Thumb of the Year" Awards. A special Award of Appreciation was presented to the Garden Club of Bala Cynwyd for their outstanding support of Philadelphia Green over several years. Certificates of Merit were awarded to 106 blocks and gardens for their successful on-going greening efforts.

J. Blaine Bonham, director of Philadelphia Green, praised the gardeners for their tremendous contribution to Philadelphia's neighborhoods and recapped some of the past year's achievements. During the summer the Point Breeze neighborhood of South Philadelphia became Philadelphia's second Greene Countrie Towne and is now the largest concentrated area of greening in the nation. Point Breeze is the home of more than 70 greening projects, including window boxes, tire urns, vegetable gardens, sitting parks and lot gardens. Other highlights cited by Bonham include the addition of more than 115 new member blocks to the Philadelphia Green program.

PHILADELPHIA GREEN GOES SOUTH

Paul Wolfinger, programs administrator for Philadelphia Green, visited Columbia, South Carolina in October as a guest of the city to discuss urban renewal through gardening. Mayor Kirkman Finley and committee members of the Columbia greening proposal plan to join with residents to implement gardening projects similar to those carried out by Philadelphia Green.

Wolfinger says the greening project in Columbia is off to a good start. Residents have begun to organize blocks and have even given their new program a name, "Columbia Green."

Local Businesses Receive Awards for Horticultural Achievement

Awards for the Plants in the Business Environment Contest were given to five businesses located throughout the Delaware Valley. The team of judges headed by Eric Meitzner, announced that MAI Sorbus Service Division won first place for an outdoor area not more than 500 square feet; Quaker Chemical Company for an outdoor area more than 500 square feet but not more than one acre; ARCO Chemical Research in Newtown Square for areas covering more than one acre; Thelma Gray Public Relations for interior landscaping and Frankford Hospital — Torresdale Division won a Laurel Award, given at 5 and 10 year intervals to a previous winner in the Contest.

Organizations responsible for maintaining the above prize-winning landscapes

are Heyser Landscaping, Inc. for MAI Sorbus Service Division and Quaker Chemical Company; Brickman Industries, Inc. for ARCO Chemical Research.

Society's Annual Meeting

William Flemer, II, Emily du Pont and Sarah C. Z. Groome were honored by PHS Council and members following the 156th Annual Meeting on November 16. William Flemer, president of Princeton Nurseries, the east coast's largest wholesale nursery, received the Distinguished Achievement Medal. Emily du Pont, gardener and conservationist from Wilmington, and Sarah Groome, flower arranger extraordinaire and Philadelphia Flower Show blue-ribbon winner each received a Certificate of Merit.

Henry H. Reichner, Jr. Council president, thanked retiring Council members Frances Cullen, Muriel Happich, Robert Preucel, Robert Ryan and Yvonne Wynn for their extensive contributions to the Society, and welcomed the following as new Council members: Kathryn S. Andersen, Louise Harrity and Natalie Kempner. William D. MacDowell returns to Council.

The Library is Growing Up

The Library has growing pains and is about to expand its storage space upward adding shelves above existing ones where practical. To accomplish the space reorganization, the Library will be closed from December 5 through December 9. While we can't fill your requests in person during that week, we will be glad to mail books requested by phone (625-8256). Come inspect our new "high-rise" look after December 9th.

We call them the Hotliners — our valuable volunteers who answer your gardening questions four mornings a week on 922-8043. These hotliners have a couple of very important common elements — they're all terrific gardeners and love to share their enthusiasm and information with our members and other callers.

Rarely do these enthusiasts see each other however because they take turns handling the calls, so once a year we get them together for Hotline Appreciation Day to celebrate the year's accomplishments. This year they answered 2060 calls, and Martha Fisher our star hotliner received the top award for having handled 177 calls. A special Hotlips award was also given this year to one volunteer for his persistence in handling so many calls with a special blend of patience and humor. To avoid a flood of calls on his day, Mr. Hotlips has requested we preserve his anonymity.

Hotline Appreciation Day '83 took us to Dilatush Nurseries in Robbinsville, to Booknoll Farm in Hopewell for lunch with Elizabeth and Keith Robertson and finally to Princeton Nurseries where Allison Flemer gave us a grand behind the scenes tour.

To our hotliners: Richard Both, Kathie Buchanan, Jane Carter, George Clark, Betty Derbyshire, Alice Doering, Martha Fisher, Harriett Green, Nancy Greenwood, Erich Meitzner, Betty Michell, Nat Nelson, Jen Porter, Martha Roberts, Irene Slater, Ana Thompson, we say a thousand thanks for helping us provide a very important service to Philadelphia area gardeners.

A New Greenhouse — when you next come down, maybe to visit the Holiday Show, be sure to step out back and see our new greenhouse. The old model, installed when the Society moved to its present headquarters in 1963, had been in poor shape for a while and was finally declared hazardous. The new model, a Richardson Conservatory, blends nicely with our formal garden and is designed with improved access so our members can better enjoy the displays.

Junior Horticulturist Contest — Winner receives $1,000

High School seniors in the Delaware Valley who have demonstrated an interest in horticultural activities should contact the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society now and request an application for entry. Students must submit the application along with three letters of recommendation by mid-December. Finalists will be interviewed by the PHS Awards Committee and the winner will be notified by March 1, 1984. Call Lisa Stephano at (215) 625-8266 for an application.

EXHIBITORS TAKE YOUR PLACES — PHS's HOLIDAY SHOW IS ABOUT TO BEGIN

There's nothing like a little creative competition to get your spirits up in time for the holidays. This year's team of exhibitors are: Georgia Comly, Ruth Flounders, Mona Gold, Gretchen Lea, Lincoln High School students, Ann Marlar, Shipley School students, Virginia Simonin, Pamela Taylor and Rosemarie Vassalluzzo.

Our ten entrants will compete in categories such as Holiday Welcome, a door decoration; By The Fire's Glow, decoration for a fireplace mantle; A Snack For Santa, arrangement for a snack table, and Sugar and Spice, an arrangement incorporating herbs and/or spices.

The show will be at PHS, 325 Walnut Street, Philadelphia from December 1 through 29. Hours are Monday through Friday, 9 am to 5 pm and on Saturday and Sunday, December 17 and 18 from 10 am to 4 pm.

VOLUME XXV, NO. 1

JANUARY, 1984

1984 PHILADELPHIA FLOWER SHOW IS A "TRIP TO THE ORIENT"

Walk one path and you're amid the floating gardens of the orient; walk another and you're home amid the vibrant life and color of the western world. It's what paradise might look like, but it's here on earth. It's what the 1984 Flower Show is all about.

Fifty-four major landscape exhibitors will create displays of Japanese hillside gardens, secluded tropical hideaways and sunny backyard patio gardens. Many of this year's exhibitors will follow the far eastern theme of the Show and will feature plants and design elements from Japan, Korea and China in their displays.

As visitors glide down the escalator they will be greeted by the familiar sights and scents of spring with hyacinths, tulips, and daffodils.

"A Trip to the Orient" framed by the familiar from our own backyard will be presented at the Philadelphia Flower Show on March 11 through 18 at the Philadelphia Civic Center.

NEW IN THE HORTICOURT

Exhibitors in "A 20 Plant Solution," a new Flower Show horticultural class, must come up with not only the solution but also the problem — for example 20 plants for a cold house, 20 plants for a warm office. Plan to visit this area at the Show to see if exhibitors have found solutions to some of your gardening problems.

Another highlight in the horticultural classes is Class #400, A Light Garden. Exhibitors must display plants grown primarily under lights, using 10 or less plants. Susan Wilmerding, co-chair of the Horticultural Classes says there is still a space left in this class. Anyone wishing to enter Class #400 should contact Marjorie Meer, Flower Show secretary at 625-8261.

VISITORS FROM JAPAN TO EXHIBIT IN 1984 FLOWER SHOW

This year, the Show will have a decidedly international flavor with visitors from abroad participating as exhibitors for the first time.

Several masters of ikebana, the art of Japanese flower arranging, will journey from Japan to present their ancient art and techniques center stage at the Civic Center. Professor Kazuhiko Kudo who leads this delegation to the Flower Show, is the highest ranking master at the Ohara School of Ikebana in Japan.

For the first time ever, rare specimens from the National Bonsai Collection will be displayed outside their home, the National Arboretum in Washington, D.C. Celebrated bonsai masters, including specialist John Naka from California, will give lectures and demonstrations during the Show.

If you would like to sign up for bonsai and/or ikebana demonstrations please fill out and return the form on page 4.

ADVANCE SALE TICKETS

Tickets for the 1984 Philadelphia Flower Show may be purchased at PHS, now through March 7, at discount prices. Adult tickets are $5.25 (minimum mail order: 10 adult tickets); children under 12, $3.00.

Box office admission price is $6.00 for adults; $3.00 for children under 12.

FLOWER SHOW VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Mary Disston, chair of the Members' Committee, asks for your help as a PHS member in spreading the word about Society membership to our Show visitors.

In return for each three hour stint in the membership booth we will provide one complimentary Show ticket.

FLOWER SHOW MEMBERS PREVIEW

Scheduled departure for PHS members Trip to the Orient is Saturday, March 10 from 12:30 to 3:30 pm.

Here's your chance to get the very first breath of spring at the Show before it opens to the public on Sunday, March 11 at 10:00 am.

Saturday afternoon is the preview for PHS members and their guests. Each individual member will receive one ticket. Family and contributing members will receive three single admission tickets. Life members will receive a weekly pass as well as one members ticket.

If you wish to bring a guest to the preview the charge is $20.00 per adult, $5.00 for children under 12. Guest tickets may be purchased in advance at PHS or at the Show box office on March 10.

Your membership tickets and membership cards will be mailed to arrive in late January. Be sure to bring your membership card with you to the Show for admittance to the hospitality tent.

MEMBERSHIP DUES NOTICE

This year's fall membership campaign drew a wonderful response and Linda Davis, membership secretary, reminds those of you who have not paid your dues that Flower Show tickets cannot be mailed until she receives payment for your 1983 membership. Individual memberships cost $25.00; family memberships cost $35.00 and include three Flower Show tickets which is quite a bargain since your Flower Show tickets are worth a total of $18.00 In addition you will receive six issues of the Green Scene, the area's top horticultural magazine, 11 issues of the PHS News and ticket(s) to our fall Harvest Show.

If you've mislaid your contribution envelope or if you have any questions concerning your membership give Linda a call at 625-8265.

PROPAGATION WORKSHOP: GROWING FROM SEED

Thursday, February 16, 2 pm, 6 pm

Learn basic easy techniques for growing your own plants from seed from expert Roxie Gevjan whose blue ribbon entries in the Philadelphia Flower Show are nearly all grown from seed, including her bulb entries. She achieves a high rate of germination, the result of trial and error and using varied techniques learned from others.

After a lecture demonstration which includes the techniques of transplanting seedlings, participants will plant three containers of unusual seeds rarely available in the trade.

All materials provided.

Limited registration for members and guests. Fee: $15.00. Evening registrants may bring a sandwich; coffee and cookies provided.

VEGETABLE GARDENING WITH THE PROS

Saturday, February 18, 10 am — 12:30 pm

Vegetable gardening enthusiasts, Richard J. Both, Nancy Greenwood, John Swan and Rosemarie Vassalluzzo will cover topics such as soil preparation, growing your own from seed, gardening in containers, year-long maintenance and whatever else it takes to get super veggies during summer of '84. Following a series of short presentations by each, PHS executive director and Philadelphia Inquirer garden columnist Jane Pepper will serve as moderator to field your questions to this panel of experts.

Fee: $5.00 members and guests.

PROPAGATION WORKSHOP: GRAFTING

Thursday, February 23, 10:30 am — 2:30 pm

Alan Slack, a skilled and knowledgeable gardener, will explain and demonstrate grafting principles and artificial procedures used to propagate plants that are difficult to produce from cuttings, roots or seeds.

All materials including understock, scions and a grafting knife will then be provided to registrants to make grafts of assorted conifers to take home.

Bring lunch; beverage provided. Fee $20.00 members and guests.

Pepperpot

This "pot" brings my best wishes for a happy New Year to all PHS members and special greetings to those who have joined the Society during the past year. A couple of weeks ago a new member made me realize that those who have joined us recently may have questions on the origins and history of the Society. Let me try to answer a few.

Members often assume we have resided in our headquarters in Society Hill for many generations — maybe ever since the Society's establishment in 1827. The founding fathers would turn green with envy at the idea of such splendid quarters, because they spent many years in search of a permanent meeting place. The first home they could call their own, Horticulture Hall on Lardner Street, was built in 1867 by subscriptions raised from the membership.

Several fires ravaged the Hall towards the end of the century, but the Society hung on until 1917 when a deepening financial crisis and lack of members forced the Society into a single rented room.

Society members hung their hats in the Finance Building, the INA Building and Suburban Station, shifting from one rented establishment to another as the Society's fortunes waxed and waned. As Independence National Historical Park evolved in the '50's it became clear that a few lucky tenants would be invited to occupy the historic row houses, at that time under restoration. For eight years presidents George R. Clark and Henry D. Mirick worked to complete the negotiations, even finding a way to comply with the Park's regulation that a tenant organization had to have been founded in the era (1775-1800) that the park commemorated. Obviously PHS did not fit the bill, but another Society with similar goals, the Philadelphia Society for Promoting Agriculture, of which Clark and Mirick were both members, did fit, having been founded in 1785.

A marriage was arranged and the two Societies moved into 325 Walnut Street in 1964. Although the Philadelphia Society for Promoting Agriculture meets at the Society infrequently, it still has an active group of supporters and is planning a large celebration for its bicentennial. PHS, in lieu of paying rent to the Park, is happy to maintain the 18th century garden to a peak of perfection, and invites all Park visitors to enjoy our exhibits and library, which now contains 13,000 volumes and a large number of periodicals.

A word on our membership; at the start we were 53 strong with dues of $5. In 1844 we reached a high of 800, then fell to 250 during the Civil War, when we reduced the dues to $3 to attract more members. Not until 1948 did the dues return to $5, by which time we had about 5,000 members. At last count we numbered 7,061 with 1,088 new members during 1983. As we go into our 157th year, happy gardening to our PHS members.

FEBRUARY, 1984

MAJOR EXHIBITORS PREPARE FOR OPENING DAY

When it comes to forcing plants into leaf and blossom, timing is a key to success when staging a major landscape exhibit. Chuck and Charlie Gale of Gale Nurseries, Gwynedd are experts.

The Gales are busy trying out a few new techniques this year, "We're using a bio-therm heat method to control soil temperatures and a high intensity vapor light system to trick the plants into thinking the days are longer," said Charlie. Gale commented that despite all these new-fangled methods he and Chuck check the greenhouse several times a day and must frequently move plants around to hasten or retard their progress.

Gale Nurseries '84 Flower Show exhibit, "Within the Garden Wall," will feature a garden house placed within a grove of apple blossoms. The exhibit will be an oriental scene, abundant with flowers and masses of wisteria in a semi-formal design.

J. Franklin Styer Nurseries of Concordville will present "Oriental Spring." Here the exhibitor incorporates designs and traditions of Japan many years ago. A tori arch, plank bridge, turtle island and carpstone will be exhibited with sculpted plants to give the feeling of peace and tranquility typical of a Japanese garden.

This year there's no need to just imagine how the plants pictured in seed catalogs will look in your garden, just take a look at the Delaware Valley College exhibit, "The Great American Mail Order Garden." This garden features many of the latest introductions of America's leading mail order gardening companies. Techniques for buying, handling and caring for mail order stock will be presented.

New Exhibitors

Of the fifty three major landscape exhibitors in this year's Show, five will be exhibiting for the first time.

F. A. Bartlett Tree Expert Company of Connecticut, will invite visitors to explore the world of ornamental shade trees and shrubs. The exhibit, "Integrated Plant Management," demonstrates the importance and interdependence of cultural, mechanical and biological operations and techniques used to maintain these plants. Consultants from F. A. Bartlett will be on hand throughout the Show to answer visitors' questions.

"Timeless Tranquility" by J. Cugliotta Landscaping, Inc. of Vincetown, NJ shows the traditional hill and pond garden of Japan. Waterfalls, ponds and walkways contribute to this natural scene.

"A Rainforest in Java", an exhibit by A. Kilgour Greenhouses of Rankonkoma, NY will give visitors the look and feel of a forest in the tropics. Brilliant orchids, bamboos, mosses and ferns move gently in a warm summer breeze.

David Lutt Florists, Inc. of Philadelphia presents "A Burst of Spring" at the foot of the escalator.

A wooded site surrounding a naturalistic spa and water accent will become "The Grotto" by Nancie Ohliger Landscapes of Plymouth Meeting. Both native and imported plants are used to show their adaptability to sun or shade and wooded locations.

MEMBERS' FLOWER SHOW TICKETS MAILED

Watch the mailbox for your complimentary Flower Show tickets, which should arrive in early February. Life members will receive a weekly pass and one members' ticket. Annual members receive one ticket each, family and contributing members, three tickets. Those families with more than three members living under one roof (children under the age of 21) who want additional tickets should apply in writing, enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope, to Jane G. Pepper, executive director, Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, 325 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, PA 19106 stating the names and ages of all family members and the number of additional tickets needed.

Members' tickets are good throughout the Flower Show but we urge you to come to the special Members' Preview on Saturday, March 10 from 12:30 to 3:30 pm. Members who wish to bring guests to the Preview may purchase additional tickets ($20.00 per person) in advance or at the Civic Center.

Thirty-seven Ticketron outlets in Greater Philadelphia (many of which are located in area Sears and Gimbels stores) will again carry Flower Show tickets. Ticketron advance sale: $6.05; during the Show: $6.85; Children (under 12): $3.85.

Advance Sale tickets are now available at PHS reception desk: $5.25 for adults ($6.00 at Show), $3.00 children under 12, advance sale or at the Civic Center. The minimum mail order is 10 adult tickets. Order before March 1 to allow for timely delivery.

COMPETITIVE CLASS HIGHLIGHTS

Ann Letter, co-chair of niches, tells us that this year's challenge class "The Orient Express" will be full of surprises. Exhibitors will be assigned a location along the 'Express Route' to interpret.

Competing in Garden Class #151, "A Garden . . . A Many Splendored Thing," are Conestoga Garden Club, Norristown Garden Club, Old Eagle Garden Club and Garden Club of Philadelphia.

Special Events

MEMBERS EVENING AT THE FLOWER SHOW

Tuesday, March 13, 5-7 pm

The Members Lounge, a tented area behind the horticultural classes will be staffed to dispense cocktails (donation bar), cheese, crackers, and coffee on this evening. It's an annual happening during a less crowded time to see the Show.

The Members Lounge, open all during the Flower Show, is staffed by volunteers who serve coffee from 12 noon to 4 pm Sunday, March 11 through Saturday, March 17.

Bring your membership card with you to show to the guard at the tent entrance.

Registration Events

PROPAGATION WORKSHOP

GROWING FROM SEED

Thursday, February 16, 2 pm, 6 pm

Learn basic easy techniques for growing your own plants from seed from expert Roxie Gevjan whose blue ribbon entries in the Philadelphia Flower Show are nearly all grown from seed, including her bulb entries. She achieves a high rate of germination, the result of trial and error and using varied techniques.

After a lecture demonstration which includes the techniques of transplanting seedlings, participants will plant three containers of unusual seeds rarely available in the trade.

All materials provided.

Limited registration for members and guests. Fee: $15.00. Evening registrants may bring a sandwich; coffee and cookies provided.

VEGETABLE GARDENING WITH THE PROS

Saturday, February 18, 10 am - 12:30 pm

Vegetable gardening enthusiasts, Richard J. Both, Nancy Greenwood, John Swan and Rosemarie Vassalluzzo will cover topics such as soil preparation, growing your own from seed, year-long maintenance and whatever else it takes to get super veggies during the summer of '84. Following a series of short presentations by each panelist, PHS executive director and Philadelphia Inquirer garden columnist Jane Pepper will serve as moderator to field your questions to this panel of experts. Fee: $5.00 members and guests.

PROPAGATION WORKSHOP: GRAFTING

Thursday, February 23, 10:30 am - 2:30 pm

Alan Slack, a skilled and knowledgeable gardener, will explain and demonstrate grafting principles and artificial procedures used to propagate plants that are difficult to produce from cuttings, roots or seed.

All materials including understock, scions and a grafting knife will then be provided to registrants to make grafts of assorted conifers to take home.

Bring lunch; beverage provided. Fee: $20.00 members and guests.

DUKE GARDENS AND MORVEN

Tuesday, February 14, 8:45 am - 6 pm

First stop Morven, an historic Princeton mansion built in 1755 by Richard Stockton, recently New Jersey's executive mansion, and now administered by the New Jersey Historical Society and open for tours.

Then lunch at Lahier's Restaurant in Princeton before visiting never-never land on Valentine's Day: the Duke Gardens Foundation in Somerville, NJ where 11 perfect gardens under glass recreate the horticultural tastes of 11 countries and eras.

Details of bus pick-up in Bala Cynwyd and Center City will be mailed to registrants.

Fee: $23.00 members and guests includes bus transportation, guide fees, and return trip refreshments (lunch not included).

MAINE GARDENS

August 6 - 9, 1984

A group of PHS members will fly to Bangor and board a bus for three days of garden visits (mostly private) on Mt. Desert Island and in Islesboro. Are you interested in learning more about the arrangements and itinerary?

Request information on the reservation form on page 3. The land cost of $383.00 includes transportation, lodging, most meals and a $50.00 tax deductible donation to PHS. Airfare will be extra. Peggy Bowditch and Betsy Gullan will accompany the group.

Other Events

LONGWOOD GRADUATE PROGRAM SPRING SEMINAR

'Concerning collections: how they relate to the goals and purposes of public gardens' is the topic of this series on February 9 to May 17 at Longwood Gardens. Free to the public. For more information contact the Longwood Graduate Program, 153 Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark, DE 19711 (302) 451-2517.

NEW SLIDE PROGRAM AVAILABLE AT PHS

The PHS Library has a wealth of informative and fascinating resources available to members. Our newest addition is a slide show on the Philadelphia Flower Show entitled, "Countdown To Spring." This colorful presentation shows the building of the Flower Show from start to finish and focuses on planning, construction, exhibiting and judging.

The show contains 80 slides and a script.

If you would like to reserve this or any of our other programs for your club call Peggy Devine at (215) 625-8256. Our titles range from "Please Do Eat The Centerpiece" to "Wreaths for Christmas and the Year Round." Brochure available listing all titles.

FLOWER SHOW INFORMATION

Keystone Information Booth in the Lobby

As a service to Flower Show visitors Keystone will offer information and vehicle assistance throughout the Show week. Services include:

- Directions to and from the Civic Center
- Public transportation information
- Dining and lodging information
- Road patrol on duty to assist those with battery and tire problems (free of charge)

General information about the Show and PHS Membership is available at the Information Booth located to the right of the escalator near the First Aid Station.

Best Time To See The Show

The Members Preview on Saturday, March 10 is the absolute best time to see the Flower Show. Although well attended, the Preview is the least crowded of all days during the Show week. If you wish to bring a guest there is an additional charge of $20.00 for adults and $5.00 for children under 12.

If you cannot attend the Preview, do not lose heart, the Show is as fresh and beautiful throughout the week as it is on opening day. Your members ticket will allow you entrance on any day you choose.

Traveling To The Show

Here are a few tips to make your journey to the Philadelphia Flower Show almost as pleasant as your visit through the Show.

Use public transportation if possible. If you arrive in Philadelphia by train at 30th Street Station, you will find taxi cabs ready and waiting to whisk you away to the Show located four blocks away. If you are traveling by bus, Septa Route #30 stops at 30th & Market Sts. and goes to the Civic Center. Another bus route that makes stops at the Civic Center is #42. This bus travels west on Chestnut Street from 7th Street to 17th Street, turns and continues on Walnut Street to the Civic Center. For more information call Septa Information at (215) 574-7800.

Lectures and Demonstrations in Horticultural Hall

PHS and Allied Florists will present lectures and demonstrations at the Flower Show on a variety of horticultural subjects including arrangements, house plants, pruning, vegetables gardens, care of trees and shrubs.

Daily schedules will be posted outside Horticultural Hall and announcements will be made just before each lecture or demonstration.

PHILADELPHIA GREEN FUNDING

Support for the Society's community outreach programs comes from a multitude of sources, including PHS members and garden clubs who give generously to help us "Green Philadelphia."

More than fifty percent of the Program's budget is met through a drawing account with Philadelphia's Office of Housing and Community Development. The Society also receives support from foundations and corporations. Recently, we received $32,000 from The Pew Memorial Trust, the second payment towards a total grant of $96,000. We are also pleased to receive continued support from the Philadelphia Foundation, which has supported the program since 1974. The William Penn Foundation, whose generous support was crucial in the Program's initial years, also continues to contribute to the success of our outreach activities.

Our list of corporate supporters, each of whom contributes a minimum of $500 to the Program, continues to grow and included the following companies in 1983:

AIHG

- The Anchor Packing Company
- Atlantic Richfield Foundation
- Bell of Pennsylvania
- W. Atlee Burpee Company
- Campbell Soup Company
- CIGNA Corporation
- Ernst and Whinney
- The Fidelity Bank
- General Accident Group
- Girard Bank

Pepperpot

Membership activities and services are a very important part of our business at PHS and I am happy to introduce to you Elizabeth G. Gullan, who joined our staff in early January as Membership Activities coordinator. Betsy, a graduate of Wilkes College, taught English and American History at Longmeadow Senior High School, MA, and Shady Hill Junior High School, Blue Bell, PA before starting her family. During the past 12 years she has worked for Harold I. Gullan Associates and has been involved in a myriad of volunteer activities. As a member of the Greene Countrie Garden Club, she was one of that club's first participants in the Philadelphia Flower Show and has organized the Club's plant sale for several years. She has also participated in many fundraising activities for the Philadelphia Orchestra including Musical Cocktails.

Many of you have taken trips or attended seminars, workshops and lectures organized by Charlotte Archer, who has been our membership coordinator since 1975. Charlotte joined PHS as a volunteer in the '60s, later becoming chair of the Flower Show competitive classes. Soon she was on staff part time handling the Show's advance ticket sales and as Flower Show publicity coordinator. During her years in charge of membership activities she coordinated a wonderfully diversified selection of activities. In addition to these activities she became PHS's official hospitality specialist arranging a bewildering array of dinners, bus trip lunches, and receptions. When she decided to retire from her full-time position late last year we were delighted to be able to persuade her to return to PHS from time to time to cater our special events.

When you come to PHS please stop in and meet Betsy, or give her a call with some of your ideas on our membership activities. We have an enthusiastic membership committee under the leadership of Mary Disston who would love to have your suggestions.

An apology — for the tardy arrival of your January PHS News and Green Scene. Our computer "dumped" several hundred names in mid-December. In the beginning of January, just as we had restored the missing members, the printer blew a fuse and the head went haywire. We are wondering what will happen next but meanwhile appreciate your patience.

GETTING THE SHOW ON THE ROAD

Imagine having a prize bonsai forest in your plant collection, the tallest tree measuring about 4½ feet high. Imagine the care and expertise involved in pruning and tending this forest to perfection. Now, imagine transporting your treasured bonsai across the country from California to Philadelphia in a crate. John Yoshia Naka, renowned California bonsai specialist will do just that with his bonsai forest, "Goshen." Naka's bonsai will be part of a central feature in this year's Philadelphia Flower Show. The tale of the traveling bonsai goes beyond the transcontinental trip to Philadelphia. After arriving in Philadelphia, the plants will be swept off to the National Arboretum, Washington for a dedication ceremony and picked up the same day and returned to the Show. Orchestrating this delicate move is Chase Rosade of Rosade Bonsai Studio, New Hope. Rosade, a bonsai expert and Flower Show exhibitor, will uncrate the bonsai and transport it to Washington in his heated van. "My biggest concern is that the trees don't get too cold. If that happens, we're in trouble," says Rosade.

Rosade is not alone when it comes to special projects for the Flower Show. Lorraine Toji, president of the Philadelphia Chapter, Ikebana International is working with Bernice Makin, chair of the Flower Show subcommittee on materials to locate flowers, flowering branches and other elements for Professor Kazuhiko Kudo's arrangements. Kudo, grand master of Japan's Ohara School, Ikebana International, will arrive in Philadelphia March 6 with his assistants Masahiro Goto, Hidetaka Suzuki and Masatoshi Tomita from Tokyo, Mutsuo Tomita, director, Ohara Center, New York and Reiga Kawamura, interpreter from Los Angeles. Before the Show opens to members on March 10 Professor Kudo and his delegation will create a giant arrangement staged on a 8 ft. x 10 ft. platform. Some of the materials for the arrangement will arrive directly from Japan, courtesy of Japan Air Lines. Most of the flowers will be purchased from florist wholesalers in Philadelphia. Yuri Moriuchi, Ikebana International member from Moorestown, is forcing hundreds of peach and apple branches into bloom in her giant temperature controlled chambers, courtesy of her family's orchard operation.

FOOD AND AGRICULTURE CONFERENCE

Research done by the CIA shows that most American cities have only a two-or three-day supply of food, and that our distribution system is highly vulnerable to disruption by widely divergent events such as a truckers' strike or an infestation like that of the Mediterranean fruit fly in California.

Mayor Wilson W. Goode, Councilman-at-Large Edward S. Schwartz, Medard Gabel, director, Cornucupia project, Emmaus, PA, Blaine Bonham, director, Philadelphia Green, and Libby Goldstein, Philadelphia County director, Penn State Cooperative Extension Service were among the speakers at "Food and Agriculture - a Development Path for Philadelphia," a seminar co-sponsored by Girard Bank, Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, Penn State Cooperative Extension Services and the University of Pennsylvania.

In addition to references to the problems of hunger and malnutrition, and the need for a well-coordinated city and regional food policy, attention centered around the impact of neighborhood gardens and their contribution not only to better nutrition but also to community redevelopment. Panelist Mamie Nichols, President, Point Breeze Federation spoke of the new spirit of cooperation and enthusiasm that has developed in her South Philadelphia neighborhood since her organization, working with Philadelphia Green, started to encourage the planting of gardens in the late 1970s.

The Greening of Philadelphia's Neighborhoods, an exhibit that was unveiled in conjunction with the conference, will be on display at the Top of the Girard, 37th floor, 3 Girard Plaza through the middle of March.

WIN A FAR EASTERN VACATION FOR TWO

Make your Trip to the Orient at the Flower Show an adventure by entering the Flower Show Vacation Drawing.

Japan Air Lines, Hotel Okura, Tokyo and The Plaza, Osaka have joined to offer this exciting travel package to Flower Show visitors. To enter, just fill out a card at the membership booth.

THE ORIENT EXPRESSED—an exhibit February 15 — March 30, 1984

What do tree peonies, camellias, a magnolia blossom and Boehm porcelain all have in common? They are the result of oriental influences on American horticulture and art dating back to the 1700's.

Through the use of photographs, pottery, artifacts, plants and treasured pieces from the Boehm collection, this exhibit will show how oriental plant introductions have through the years become the subject for world renowned 20th century porcelain art.

Visit this exhibit at PHS headquarters, 325 Walnut Street, 9 am to 5 pm, Monday through Friday.

Bring your own lunch; coffee and tea provided. Fee: $10.00. Registration limited to 15 persons.

GEORGETOWN GARDEN TOUR Saturday, April 14, 10:30 - 5

This favorite annual trip includes a walking tour of Georgetown to see traditional and innovative gardens including Captain and Mrs. Peter Belin's "Evermay", Dumbarton Oaks and eleven other private gardens, many of which are on the tour for the first time. A highlight of the tour is Sen. & Mrs. John Heinz' house, once the residence of Russia's Imperial Ambassador. The tour is organized by and benefits the Georgetown Children's House.

Details of bus pick-up in Bala Cynwyd and Center City will be mailed to registrants with a list of suggested Georgetown area restaurants for lunch on your own.

The fee includes transportation, tour ticket, tea at Children's House following the tour and return-trip refreshments.

Fee: $35.00 members and guests.

GARDENS VISITS: NEW HOPE AREA Sunday, April 22, 2 - 5 pm

Four gardens will be open to members and guests on April 22. Three of the gardens will feature bulbs and the fourth, bonsai.

Pepperpot

Work and learn are the cornerstones of the Philadelphia Green Garden Interns Program and we are proud to announce that SmithKline Beckman has become a key supporter in this important Pennsylvania Horticultural Society project. William L. Grala, vice president, Public Affairs at SmithKline authorized a grant of $10,000 in February to assist with the training of community gardeners.

January through March the gardeners attend Saturday morning seminars and workshops led by Patricia Schrieber, Philadelphia Green landscape designer. When planting starts in April interns Brian Austin, Anna Graham, Randall Jones, Theresa McKelvy, Darryl Morgan, Kathleen O'Donnell, Wynefred Postell, Julia Proctor, Richard Streeter and Earl White will be working on neighborhood projects - planting street trees and window boxes, vegetable gardens and sitting parks, sharing their skills and knowledge with other gardeners. Their commitment to Philadelphia Green is 12 months. During the summer they visit ongoing garden sites to answer questions and to judge the needs of some 800 community groups.

After Labor Day they will participate in the fall planting. In this, our third year of the Garden Interns Program, we are delighted to have SmithKline Beckman join the Society to support the continuing education of Philadelphia's up and coming horticulturists.

THE SEARCH FOR A FEW GOOD PLANTS

"American horticulture lacks effective means to find and judge the value of new plants and dissemination of such material is haphazard . . . . Therefore, it is proposed that the Society adopt a policy of Awards for Merit to be issued on behalf of worthy new plants." These excerpts were taken from a proposal presented by J. Franklin Styer on April 19, 1978 to the PHS Awards Committee. Now, five years later, this important Award known as the J. Franklin Styer Award of Garden Merit has accepted 22 plants for evaluation and possible recognition as plants well suited to gardens in the Mid-Atlantic States.

Richard W. Lighty, Chair, Styer Award Committee announced this year's list of plants accepted for evaluation:

Deutzia crenata v. nakaiana

Submitted by Sylvester G. March
U.S. National Arboretum, Washington, D.C.

Hedera helix 'Buttercup'

Submitted by Philip M. Normandy
Brookside Gardens, Wheaton, Maryland

Ilex crenata 'Beehive'

Submitted by Elwin R. Orton, Jr.
Cook College, Rutgers University

Ilex crenata 'Convexa Male'

Submitted by J.F. Styer
West Chester, PA

Ilex crenata 'Jersey Pinnaele'

Submitted by Elwin R. Orton, Jr.
Cook College, Rutgers University

Ilex x 'Rock Garden'

Submitted by Elwin R. Orton, Jr.
Cook College, Rutgers University

Malus 'Donald Wyman'

Submitted by Judith D. Zuk
Scott Horticultural Foundation/
Swarthmore College

Salix gracilistyla

Submitted by Philip M. Normandy
Brookside Gardens, Wheaton, Maryland

Any person or organization may submit plants for consideration for the Award. The Award is made to the plant and not to the introducer. If you would like more information regarding the Styer Award please contact Joe Kerwin at 625-8250.

THANKS TO SAUL

For the past twelve years the students at W.B. Saul High School in Philadelphia have made an enormous contribution of time and effort to the Philadelphia Flower Show as part of a work study program at the School. Their tasks have included everything from trouble shooting problems with traffic flow and leaky exhibits to guarding a television crews' cameras during the taping of a program.

Many thanks go to these hard working young people. This year's crew members are: Jennifer Alden, Victoria Blazejewski, Dana Brooks, Barbara Conboy, Donna Daniels, Karen A. George, Tak Lee, Dawn Margerum, Sheila Millar, Cheryl Phillips, Frank Phillips, Rob Porcella, Tim Ragan, Steven Segal, John Soda, Donna Tillman and Carl Zelter.

18th CENTURY GARDEN VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Ann McPhail, 18th Century Garden volunteer, is looking for a few men and women who enjoy gardening and would like to help maintain the formal and vegetable gardens at the Society headquarters. Gardening begins in mid-April and continues through October.

A knowledge of basic garden skills is preferred. If you would like to join the group please check the appropriate box on page three in the Reservations coupon.

VOLUME XXV, NO. IV

BIRDS, BLOSSOMS, FISH — an exhibit

Linda Bastian, an oil painter, watercolorist and painter of silk will display all three forms of her recent works at the Society from April 6 - May 18.

Exploring the realism of flowers in her recent work, Bastian has adopted a free-flowing composition reminiscent of Flemish flower painters.

Bastian, who is the Chair of the Department of Art Education at the School of Visual Arts in Manhattan, has her work in numerous collections, including the Lila Acheson Wallace Collection, Cosmopolitan Magazine, Citibank, and the United States State Department's Art in Embassies Program.

A wine and cheese reception will be held on April 6 from 4 - 7 pm at the Society. Members and guests are invited. All pieces are for sale.

NURSERYMAN OF THE YEAR NAMED

Brad Snipes of Snipes Farm and Nursery, Morrisville, was recently named Nurseryman of the Year by the Pennsylvania Nurserymen's Association (PAN).

Brad has been a member of the PAN for more than 20 years and is a chief promoter and educator of the PAN program. He has served on the PHS Council and has exhibited in the Flower Show for many years.

Aside from his many duties with the PAN and the "Farm", which is a family business dating back to 1767, Brad busies himself each year with spreading the word to the entire gardening public about the virtues of fall planting in the USA. Congratulations!

HADDONFIELD STUDENT WINS HORTICULTURE AWARD

Jonathan Bowman, a senior at Haddonfield Memorial High School, was recently awarded the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society's Junior Horticulturist Award, given each year to a high school senior who shows great promise in the field of horticulture. Bowman has operated his own lawn service for the past two years and has completed several landscaping projects in the Haddonfield area. He is a member of the American Society for Horticulture Science and plans to attend Delaware Valley College of Science and Agriculture after graduating from high school. Bowman was awarded $1,000.00 and enrolled as a PHS member.

Runners-up in the Award were Ann Armstrong of The Shipley School, Bryn Mawr; Robert Hawthorne of Upper Moreland High School, Warminster and Diane Muller of Northern Burlington County Regional School District, Columbus, NJ. Each student received $250.00 and a PHS membership.

ARBORIST CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

Choosing an arborist is full of the same complications as choosing a dentist, doctor or lawyer, and traditionally most gardeners have sought advice from friends and the Yellow Pages.

In an effort to improve the quality of tree care and provide some standards by which the public can judge an arborist, the Penn-Del Chapter of the International Society of Arboriculture recently established a certification program called the Certified Arborists of Pennsylvania and Delaware. To be eligible for certification candidates must have at least two years experience in arboriculture, have current, minimum insurance coverage for property damage and public liability, and have successfully completed the CAPD examinations. To maintain their licenses, arborists must reapply yearly and attend at least one educational meeting.

The program is new and to date only a few arborists have been certified. However, it shows promise of being very beneficial to both the industry and homeowners. The first examinations were held last March at Swarthmore College, this year at The Morris Arboretum.

For more information contact CAPD, Box 269, Malvern, PA 19355.

Long-range planning has always been a vital part of the Society's activities and I am pleased to announce that PHS Council member William D. MacDowell has accepted president Henry Reicher's invitation to chair a Long-Range Planning Committee. The committee held its first meeting in late February to discuss the Society's mission and will continue to meet through the spring to consider the areas that should be investigated to formulate a plan to carry the Society through the decade.

Grateful thanks to Bill and his committee for the time and expertise they will be providing for this important process. Committee members are: Raul Betancourt, Jean Bodine, Herb Clarke, Elizabeth Lippincott, Richard Lighty, Mamie Nichols, Anne Putnam, Robert Ryan, Susan Stauffer, Eugene Szymkowiak, Sharon Turner, Frederick Voigt and Clarence Wurts. If you have suggestions for this committee regarding the Society's direction in the next few years please contact me or Bill MacDowell, c/o PHS.

LOCAL NEIGHBORHOOD AWARDED FOR GREENING EFFORT

The Philadelphia Council of the Boy Scouts of America recently presented Point Breeze, an 88 block neighborhood in South Philadelphia, with a national conservation award called Save Our American Resources (S.O.A.R.). This award was made in recognition of the tremendous efforts made by Point Breeze residents in creating their Greene Countrie Towne, which was dedicated in July, 1984.

Although the award is usually made to a boy or group of boys, the Philadelphia Council saw Point Breeze as conservation in action. Point Breeze neighbors started "greening" with Mrs. Bush-Brown in the 1950's. Recently, under the leadership of Mamie Nichols, president of the Point Breeze Federation, they have reached new heights. Congratulations — and especially for being the first inner city group to receive recognition.

TOKYO, HERE THEY COME

Thanks to Japan Air Lines, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Missimer will be winging their way to the enchanted lands of Japan to begin their own very real "Trip to the Orient."

The Wayne, Pa. couple won the Flower Show Vacation Drawing held during the week of the Show. The Missimers' have been PHS members for 20 years and they tend a one-acre vegetable and flower garden at their home. Lodging for their eight-day vacation will be provided by the Hotel Okura and The Plaza, Osaka, members of The Leading Hotels of the World.

Aside from providing this valuable travel package, Japan Air Lines was responsible for transporting some of the giant staging that was featured in the Ikebana display. Some 21 cartons were shipped by JAL, causing us to wonder where the JAL pilot found room to sit. We look forward to the lucky gardeners' tales of the Orient upon their return.

And, on the subject of luck, PHS is very lucky to have had the expertise and assistance of the Philadelphia Chapter of Ikebana International (I.I.). Some 90 members of the I.I. Chapter worked tirelessly under the leadership of president, Lorraine Toji, to make our guests feel at home. They left the U.S. dazzled by Ikebana International's hospitality.

PEPPERPOT

Watching the Flower Show go together is an annual "high" for me and the PHS staff. Amid the moments of panic and minutes of chaos, there are endless hours of sheer joy of watching the months of planning come to fruition. This year we were fortunate to have a couple of extra move-in days so Show designer Ed Lindemann and the team from Vick's Wildgardens, who hang smilax and big trees, were able to start at the Civic Center on Wednesday, February 29. By Monday, March 5 the hall was abuzz with bobcats, front end loaders and chain saws. On Wednesday, the Ikebana delegation arrived from Tokyo. Their faces were grim as they surveyed the site, then they disappeared to check on the materials that Ikebana International members had collected for them. On Thursday they started to build, and by late Friday evening their creativity got the better of them and they started to smile as they added the final touches to their presentation.

For many of us one of the highlights of the Show was the arrival of John Naka's bonsai trees from California, shipped by air in enormous open crates. John himself was a delight and I wish many more of you could have enjoyed his wonderful smile and tremendous excitement at having his bonsai on exhibit in Philadelphia.

One additional touch of the Orient was the arrival of Mrs. Im, Wha Kong from Korea. Mrs. Im teaches flower arranging in Korea and has published several books on the subject. Her beautiful displays were much admired on the membership booth and we were also fortunate to enjoy several of her demonstrations in Horticultural Hall.

Throughout the Show we entertained a parade of visitors from across the nation. Hu Ding-Yi, Minister of the Embassy of the Peoples Republic of China in the United States of America came on closing day with his wife. Managers of both existing and potential home and/or garden shows from Boston; Cleveland; Del Mar, California; Kansas City; New York and Rochester also came by to see how it's done in Philadelphia.

Special thanks and compliments go to the whole Flower Show family — our exhibitors in the big hall who dazzled visitors; our competitive exhibitors who sent our visitors away with new resolves regarding their own gardening activities, and to our trade exhibitors who satisfied many of the visitors' desires with a fine selection of products. Thanks also to the thousands of volunteers who helped with the competitive classes; to the Civic Center staff for their cooperation; to the carpenters, painters and plumbers who helped us put it all together, and finally to J. Liddon Pennock, Jr. who has been our leader as chair of the Show's Executive Committee for the past two years. Liddon's involvement with the Philadelphia Flower Show dates back to the early '40s, and we hope we have insured his continuing involvement in the show in future years by appointing him our perennial Principal Advisor. The Flower Show Preview Dinner Committee also pulled off a major triumph this year under the leadership of Lisa Carr. By late January the dinner was fully subscribed and the waiting list grew through February. ARA Services was our caterer for the first time and produced a delicious four course dinner for 1,960 guests.

Registration Events

BASKETRY WORKSHOPS

Tuesdays, May 15, 22, 29

10 am — 1 pm

Because the first series filled so quickly, Susan Schnur will conduct another comprehensive three-week course on folk basketry starting May 15.

Learn techniques necessary to complete the Shaker cheese, wickerwork, and Scottish melon baskets with emphasis on local natural materials.

Bring lunch; coffee and tea provided.

Registrants should bring a bucket, scissors, and a mat or utility knife.

Fee: $50.00 includes all other materials.

Registration limited to 12 members.

MEMBERS EVENING

Wednesday, May 23, 6 pm

Frederick McGourty, Jr., president of the Connecticut Horticultural Society, will give an illustrated talk, "Perennials and Their Uses." McGourty is a well-known landscape designer, lecturer, nurseryman, writer, and former editor of the Brooklyn Botanic Garden Handbook series, Plants & Gardens.

Cocktails (donation bar) 6 pm; buffet dinner 6:45 pm; program 7:45 pm. Fee: $11.00 members and guests.

PERENNIAL WORKSHOP: SOWING AND DIVIDING

Thursday, May 24, 10 am — 12 noon

Frederick McGourty, Jr., (see Members Evening) will conduct a workshop "Getting Started with Perennials: Sowing and Dividing." Each participant will take home two potted perennials. Bring a knife. All other materials provided.

Fee: $15.00 members and guests. Limited to 25.

PRUNING WORKSHOP AT FAIRMOUNT PARK AZALEA GARDEN

Thursday, May 31, 4-6 pm

A pruning workshop will be given by Patricia Schrieber, Philadelphia Green landscape designer and Joe Kerwin, PHS assistant horticulturist. The Azalea Garden was a gift to Philadelphia by PHS in 1952 to commemorate our 125th anniversary.

The workshop will teach the basics of pruning and tool maintenance. Participants will be guided by instructors in this hands-on pruning experience. Bring pruning shears.

Fee: $5.00 for members and guests. Travel directions will be sent to registrants.

BASIC LANDSCAPE DESIGN

Tuesdays, June 5, 12, 7—9:30 pm

June 19 7—9 pm

Patricia Schrieber and Paul Wolfinger of Philadelphia Green will conduct a combined lecture and workshop course including individual critiques. Simple drafting instructions will be given so participants can do a preliminary drawing of their own property using PHS drafting materials.

Areas to be developed must not exceed 150 by 200 ft. nor need drastic change of grade.

Fee $35.00; registration limited to 10 members.

12th ANNUAL MEMBERS EVENING AT THE PHILADELPHIA ZOO

Thursday, June 7, 6 pm

Charles W. Rogers, Jr., curator of horticulture at the Zoological Garden, will again be our articulate host for this event. Members and guests are asked to arrive promptly at 6 pm for a mono-rail ride to be followed by Chuck's walking tour of the Zoo's plantings including his topiary zoo and the hummingbird house (All other Zoo buildings will be closed).

The tour will end at the donation bar and picnic area. Picnic supper will be served at 7:15 pm. After supper Chuck will show slides of his recent trip to Africa, giving us a gardener's view of a wild African safari.

Fee of $15.00 includes admission to Zoo, mono-rail ride and supper. Entrance directions will be mailed to registrants.

GARDEN TAPESTRY: ESPALIER COURSE AT CHANTICLEER

Saturday, June 9, 10 am — 3 pm

Howard J. Holden, horticulturist and superintendent of "Chanticleer", a private estate in Wayne, will conduct this course on espalier, the art of training trees or shrubs in one plane. Topics will include style, technique, and maintenance as well as suitable plants and their proper placement. A tour of Chanticleer's espaliers and demonstrations are also planned.

Bring a bag lunch; iced tea will be provided. Travel directions will be mailed to registrants.

Fee: $15.00. Limited to 20 members.

Raindate: Saturday, June 16

PROPAGATION WORKSHOP: SOFTWOOD CUTTINGS

Tuesday, June 19, 10 am and 6:30 pm

Learn the techniques for propagating trees and shrubs from softwood cuttings. Lynn Lamstein, experienced propagator, will conduct this workshop.

Bring a sharp knife or shears. All other materials including plants will be provided. Evening registrants should bring a sandwich; coffee, tea and cookies provided.

Fee: $15.00 Registration limited to 15 for each session.

Field Trips

BARNES ARBORETUM

Friday, May 4, 10 am — 2 pm

After last fall's successful trip to Barnes, many members want to return to see the garden in its spring splendor. In the morning Elizabeth Farley, assistant director of the Barnes Arboretum and superb guide, will lead 25 PHS members and guests through the Arboretum where the seasonal attractions include spring flowering shrubs and trees.

Registrants should bring a sandwich; soup, cheese, fruit and coffee will be provided. After lunch, walk around to the entrance of the Barnes Foundation's gallery and tour the collection at leisure.

Fee: $7.50. Travel directions will be mailed to participants.

LONG ISLAND, N.Y. — PLANTING FIELDS ARBORETUM AND OLD WESTBURY GARDENS

Thursday, May 17, 7:30 am — 6:30 pm

Our first stop will be Planting Fields Arboretum, noted for its five-acre Synoptic Garden and its huge collections of rhododendron and azaleas. Then we will visit Old Westbury to tour Westbury House, a recreation of an 18th century English country mansion with many interesting gardens.

Fee: $30.00 for members and guests includes bus transportation, entrance fees and return-trip refreshments. Bring lunch or order a box lunch ($6.50).

Details of bus pick-up in Bala Cynwyd and Center City will be mailed to registrants.

PINE BARRENS, NEW JERSEY

Saturday, May 19, 10 am — 3 pm

Saturday, June 2, 10 am — 3 pm

June Vail, authority on the plants and ecology of the Pine Barrens, will lead an auto caravan to many microclimates in this largest wild land tract on the Mid-Atlantic seaboard to see: a pitch pine forest, cranberry bogs, freshwater wetlands, and blueberry patches.

Directions to a meeting place in Marlton, NJ, where doubling up in cars can take place, will be mailed to registrants who must provide their own transportation and lunch. Fee: $15.00 members and guests.

HARVEST SHOW IS HEADING THIS WAY

September 29-30, 1984

Bring your jellies, bring your jams, pack your pickles and plant some yams. There may be a blue ribbon waiting for you at the 1984 Harvest Show.

The Show will be held in four short months and with it comes a lively week-end of music, special events and horticultural demonstrations all in a delightful setting outdoors and in greenhouses.

This year's Show will be held once again in Fairmount Park's Horticulture Center. Gaily striped tents will line the Center's reflecting pool and the bounty of the gardening season will be on display in colorful artistic and educational settings.

Plan now to take part in this annual event by growing for the Harvest Show in your garden. Whether it be your 'Better Boy' tomatoes, a creatively carved pumpkin or one single rose there is a special place for all of them in the Harvest Show.

You should be receiving your Show Schedule in the mail any day now. If you need another for a friend give us a call at 625-8250.

CITY GARDENS CONTEST WEEK

This year marks the tenth City Gardens Contest. Mayor W. Wilson Goode proclaimed the week of April 23rd "City Gardens Contest Week" at a reception in his office attended by City Gardens Contest participants and members of the Contest Committee and the Philadelphia Green Advisory Board. Nearly 175 gardeners from around the city crowded into the ceremony to applaud the proclamation and show their support for the Contest.

Herb Clarke, Contest chair and Jean Byall, Contest coordinator, invite all who garden within the City limits to enter the Contest. A team of judges will visit your garden during the summer and the winners will be announced in the fall. For an application write to Jean Byall at PHS or call (215) 625-8280.

Deadline for entrants and judging volunteers is June 10.

DRESS FOR SUCCESS IN THE GARDEN

This just in from the Daily Local News, West Chester, "Pesticide Warning" — St. Louis — An expert on pesticides Wednesday advised backyard gardeners not to tend their plants in the nude.

David A. Kurtz of Pennsylvania State University told a news conference during the annual meeting of the American Chemical Company that nude gardeners run the risk of picking up pesticides.

Tests at Penn State calculated that applying garden pesticides while not properly clothed would allow 16 milligrams of pesticides to accumulate on the body.

He said gardeners wearing a shirt, pants and shoes would pick up only 1 milligram.

Summer Hours

When summer comes, PHS staff members plan to make best use of the daylight hours by starting work at 8:30 a.m. From June 1 through Labor Day the offices, including the library, will close at 4:30 p.m.

$10,000 DOLLAR PRIZE TO BE AWARDED FOR NEW APPROACHES TO BATTLE DUTCH ELM DISEASE

A cash award of $10,000 has been established by the Elm Research Institute, Harrisville, NH.

The cash prize will be awarded to the entry submitted to the institute that best demonstrates both new concept originality and imagination in the structuring of a practical new research program(s) which may conceivably lead to the discovery of a new repellent effective against the elm bark beetle. This new repellent must be capable of administration through systemic application.

A jury of nationally renowned entomologists and plant pathologists will evaluate each entry.

Every entry is expected to provide specific and detailed proposals describing the methodology of the proposed experiments in regard to:

- A) Water solubility of test chemicals in relation to systemic tree injection
- B) Phytotoxicity of test materials
- C) Point of feeding beetle deterrence
- D) Demonstrating chemical stability of test repellent
- E) Demonstrating practical bio-assay techniques for tracing distribution

All completed entries, should be forwarded to the Elm Research Institute, Harrisville, NH 03450, NO LATER THAN JULY 1, 1984. Any questions should be forwarded to E.R.I. at the above address or they can be answered during normal business-hours at (603) 827-3048.

THE GREENING OF PHILADELPHIA'S NEIGHBORHOODS — an exhibit

On hundreds of blocks across the city, residents are pooling and investing their resources — time, energy, and money — to turn vacant lots into vegetable and flower gardens, and barren sidewalks into streets lined with trees, shrubs, and flowers to create twentieth century, "greene countrie townes."

This exhibit is a colorful photographic account of some of the work Philadelphia Green has been doing with groups throughout the city. Hours are 8:30 am to 4:30 pm, Monday through Friday at PHS.

FLOWER SHOW HORTICULTURAL CLASSES

Collections, which are Show stoppers every year at the Philadelphia Flower Show, plan to return in '85 with Class #200 — A Collection, a horticultural collection displayed for botanical interest using 10 or more plants, and Class #400 — As You Like It, a collection of plants used to create an imaginative display. There are still a few spaces open in these two classes. If you would like to enter, Call Marge Meer at 625-8292.

New this year is the Terrace Class #152. Martha Roberts, chair of this class, says that the class "Along the Mews" will depict a townhouse terrace with french doors centered on a rear wall and a hedge along each side. Only container plants may be used and seating for two must be provided.

Pepperpot

It's almost time for the swimming pool, the beach or the mountains. Summer vacation plans once a mid-winter dream, suddenly approach reality. And meanwhile, down at 325 Walnut, we are dreaming our own, out of season dreams with the 1985 Philadelphia Flower Show.

Our new Flower Show executive committee is in place with Mary Hyndman as chair and Herb Clarke, vice chair. Having chaired the Show's competitive classes in 1980 and 1981, Mary is well versed in Flower Show facts and figures, challenges and opportunities, and has been a member of the Society's Council for the past two years. Herb Clarke, also a Council member, is an avid home gardener and has chaired the Society's City Gardens Contest for three years. When he is not digging in at the Society or in his own garden, Herb is giving us weather predictions from WCAU-TV, channel 10.

Our Show will be early next year, March 3-10, so we are counting on Herb to bring us an early spring.

Flower Show Executive Committee members are as follows: Martha Barron, Richard J. Both, J. Richard Boylan, W. Thacher Brown, Tina Colehower, William F. Delafield, Jr., Leroy LaBold, Richard W. Lighty, Francis J. McKay, John D. Martin, Wayne R. Norton, J. Liddon Pennock, Jr., Robert W. Preucel, Susan Stauffer, Paul Tickle, Ralph R. Walker, Jane Ward, and L. Wilbur Zimmerman. Thanks to them on behalf of the Society for the time and energy they will put into '85.

As we go to press, Ed Lindemann, Show designer, is on his way to England to savor the flavor of the Chelsea Flower Show in London, and to get into the mood for our 1985 theme, "A Touch of Britain — Our Garden Heritage."

The Chelsea Flower Show is produced annually in the third week of May by the venerable Royal Horticultural Society, and attracts 240,000 visitors in four days to its 11-acre site on the grounds of the Royal Hospital. In London Ed will meet with Geoffrey Ace, head of the landscape department, Merrist Wood Agricultural College, Surrey, to discuss the College's participation in next year's Show, in cooperation with the Delaware Valley College of Science and Agriculture in Doylestown. Del Val — as it is affectionately known in these parts — is a long-time Flower Show exhibitor. Merrist Wood College has won five coveted Gold Medal Awards in the Chelsea Flower Show.

PHS PAST PRESIDENT DIED AT 97

Dr. John Baker Carson, president of the Society from 1952 through 1954, died earlier this spring. An avid gardener, Dr. Carson served on the council for many years, as did his wife Frances Tyson Carson. Dr. Carson loved roses and was a director of the American Rose Society for more than 30 years. Peonies, iris, lilacs and daffodils also intrigued this prominent Philadelphian, and he played an important role in the creation of the Azalea Garden given by the Society to the City of Philadelphia in recognition of our 125th anniversary. The Carsons gardened together and served together on the PHS Council.

SHARE THE EXCITEMENT, ENTER THE HARVEST SHOW

The Preserved Products Classes in the Harvest Show offer everyone the chance to enter the results from their prize-winning recipes. Whether it is grandmother's secret recipe for orange marmalade or your own tangy mustard sauce, you can enter it in one of the more than 50 classes in this Section.

Richard Bitner, chair of the Preserved Products Section, says there are several new classes to enter this year — low-salt sauce, dried fruit leathers and wet pot-pourri (May-June 1984 Green Scene contains an informative article on pot-pourri, wet or dry). Bitner reminds those who enter to be careful when preserving edibles and recommends Putting Food By by Hertzberg, Vaughn & Greene and published by The Stephen Greene Press, Brattleboro, VT. This book contains safe, up-to-date information on methods of canning, freezing, drying, root cellaring and smoking.

If you would like to enter your preserved products, read the Harvest Show Schedule carefully and be sure to enter at least three of a kind of your recipe and affix labels to each of your containers. For an extra copy of the Schedule, write to PHS, c/o Carol Lindemann or call 625-8299.

BRING A FRIEND TO THE HARVEST SHOW

This year's Member's Preview, to be held on September 28 from 4 — 7 pm, promises to be filled with entertaining highlights such as a lively brass band, colorful fall exhibits and tasty refreshments.

Enjoy the evening and bring a friend to this early showing of Philadelphia's own country fair.

Tickets for guests are $5.00 and are available at the Show.

HARVEST SHOW POSTER AVAILABLE

Colorful posters are ready and waiting for members who wish to spread the word about the fall Show.

This delightful poster depicts the Show theme "Harvest Promenade — A Seasonal Stroll" and would make a handsome addition to your neighborhood library or in the window of a local store.

Help us spread the word by calling 625-8266 or stop by PHS at 325 Walnut St. to pick up some posters.

WIN A CUISINART AT THE HARVEST SHOW

Pumpkin Patch People and Goofy Gourds are the titles of our new special classes open to the public at the Harvest Show. No pre-registration is required to enter this Contest, simply bring your creative cucurbits to the Show between Thursday evening, September 27 and Sunday afternoon, September 30 (See the Show Schedule for entry times).

Judging criteria are based on creativity and Mother Nature. Pumpkins must be decorated, carved, painted, or . . . and gourds should be naturally hilarious. Top prize in both categories is a Cuisinart Food Processor. Winners will be announced on Sunday, September 30. For more information or a Show Schedule call Lisa Stephano at 625-8266.

PHS HOSTS GREENING TOUR FOR POLITICIANS

The Society and Mrs. W. Wilson Goode co-hosted a tour in June through the Point Breeze Greene Country Towne for mayors, spouses and city officials attending the 52nd Annual U.S. Conference of Mayors in Philadelphia.

The activities began with a multimedia presentation at the Hershey Philadelphia Hotel about the Society's Philadelphia Green program before boarding Fairmount Park trolleys for the trip through Point Breeze. Guests visited garden blocks with flower-laden window boxes and wine barrel planters; they passed the 'Garden of Eatin'', a block-long community vegetable garden and a few guests stopped in to exchange ideas with neighbors working in the garden. The final trolley stop was at the 19th and Dickinson St. wedding garden. Mrs. Goode, who had greeted the guests earlier, read a proclamation from the Mayor naming the site "The Garden of the Cities" in honor of the U.S. Conference of Mayors.

Mrs. Goode also presented a bronze plaque to Mamie Nichols, Executive Director of the Point Breeze Federation, and Haroldline Trower, Chair of the Point Breeze Beautification Committee, to be installed in the garden.

As the group embarked on their trip back to the Hershey, their enthusiasm was evident. Mayor and Mrs. Blessey of Biloxi, Mississippi said "This is remarkable, not only the garden but the people of the neighborhood and the way they work together to get things done. We're just starting a project like this back home and we'll be taking back a lot of ideas."

BOOK SALE BARGAINS

On Friday, Sept. 14 (coinciding with PHS members' free plant distribution) old and new horticultural books will be on sale between 10 and 7 in the PHS auditorium at 325 Walnut St. Although free plant distribution to members will take place only on Friday, the book sale will continue on Sat. Sept. 15 between 10 and 2 with a "bargain bag finale," from 1:30 — 2; for $2.00 you may take all the books you can carry in a PHS bag.

Since we have not had a book sale for two years and have done extensive weeding of our collection, this will be an especially bountiful offering. In addition to "retired" books, (including several Exotica), special books from members' collections, botanical prints and some new books will be offered. Donations of botanical books will be welcome through Sept. 7th. Pick-up of large donations can be arranged by calling 625-8268.

Friends of the Library will receive an invitation to preview the book sale on Fri. Sept. 14 between 9:15 and 10:00. For information on becoming a Friend of the Library, contact Mary Lou Wolfe at 625-8268.

Registration Events IKEBANA WORKSHOPS

Monday, Oct. 1, 8, 15 10 am — 1 pm

Ikebana, the Japanese art of flower arranging, will be the subject of demonstrations and workshops on three consecutive Mondays in October. The highest ranking teachers in this area in their respective schools will teach the basics of the three major ikebana schools:

Bernice Makin (Ohara), Oct. 1; Mary Witkowski (Sogetsu) Oct. 8; and Helen Flaig (Ikenobo), Oct. 15.

Participants should bring a low container, needlepoint holder, clippers, and a plastic bag to carry the finished arrangement. All other materials will be supplied. Bring lunch; coffee and tea will be provided.

Fee — Members: $45 for 3 workshops. Guests: $50
Limited to 25 persons.

PROPAGATION WORKSHOP: HARD-TO-FIND HOUSEPLANTS FROM CUTTINGS

Thursday, October 4 — 10 am

PHS members Joanne C. Marano and Margaret P. Bowditch, both experienced growers and exhibitors, will teach propagation techniques, and participants will plant cuttings from a variety of hard-to-find and unusual houseplants to take home.

The workshop will include a mini-course on houseplant culture and care, insect control, feeding, exposure and microclimates.

Registration fee includes all materials.

Fee — Members: $16. Guests: $18
Limited to 25 participants

GREEN SCENE WRITING COURSE

Thursday, Nov. 15

Saturday, Nov. 17

9:30 am — 2:30 pm

Tuesday, Nov. 20

5:30 pm — 7:30 pm

First-time writers in Green Scene have subsequently had articles published elsewhere including the New York Times and the Brooklyn Botanic Garden handbooks. Experienced writers have since published books on horticulture. Here's an opportunity for the closet writer to get your ideas into article form and your name into print in Green Scene and other publications.

This three-session course will cover how to sharpen your ideas, write, edit and rewrite. It will be team-taught by Jean Byrne, editor of Green Scene and Elaine Rose, free lance writer and a former editor of Sun Magazine (of Sun Company) and other corporate publications. Group participation will be emphasized.

Fee — Members: $50; limited to 12 persons. Bring a sandwich; PHS will provide beverages and dessert.

Field Trips

BARNES ARBORETUM BERRIES, DRUPES & POMES Friday, October 5, 10 am — 2 pm

Spend a fascinating half-day at Barnes in Merion. In the morning Elizabeth Farley, assistant director of the Barnes Arboretum and superb guide, will guide 25 PHS members and guests through the Arboretum where the seasonal attractions include colorful fruits of trees and shrubs.

Registrants should bring lunch; dessert and coffee will be provided. After lunch, walk around to the entrance of the Barnes Foundation's gallery and tour the collection at leisure.

Fee — Members: $7.50; Guests: $9.50. Travel directions will be mailed to participants.

Other Events

Open Gardens Day sponsored by the Garden Club of Mount Desert, Maine, August 4, 1984. Five private gardens will be open to the public from 10 am — 4 pm, Fee: $10 for the series; $2.50 for a single garden. Proceeds benefit the civic planting for the entire island.

For further information — contact Mrs. Elliot R. Detchon, 1054 Rock Creek Rd., Bryn Mawr, Pa. 19010.

Red Rose Rent Day

This annual celebration will take place on Saturday, September 8 at 10 am. See historic payment of the rent of one red rose to a descendant of William Penn and exhibits, speakers and lots of roses in bloom at the Conard-Pyle Co., Star Roses, U.S. Route 1 & PA 796, Jennersville, just west of West Grove, PA. Public is invited. Free admission.

1984 Woodland Owners Conference

Open to the public, Saturday, Sept. 29, 9:15 am — 2:30 pm, Holiday Inn, Lancaster, Pa. Pre-registration required. Fee $12.00. For more information contact Pa. Forestry Association, (717) 766-5371.

Orchid Society Now Forming In Center City

Beginners and non-beginners invited for membership. Activities for the season to be planned at the first meeting in Sept. at PHS. For more information, call 627-1981 or 563-1716.

ANNUAL PLANT GIVEAWAY AT PHS

The Members' plant giveaway will be held on September 14 from 9 am to 7 pm at Society headquarters.

Members may pick out a plant that has been grown by another member. The many varieties include houseplants, trees, shrubs and perennials. A complete listing of plants will appear in the September PHS News.

AROUND THE WORLD AT HOLIDAY TIME

The PHS Annual Holiday Show invites exhibitors to participate in the festivities. The 1984 theme is "Around the World at Holiday Time" and exhibitors may enter wreaths, tree ornaments, arrangements and container grown plants appropriate to the season. To receive a Holiday Show schedule check the box in the Reservation Blank on this page.

HARVEST SHOW HELPERS

Mary Disston, chair, PHS member committee, has openings for a few members who would like to help make the Harvest Show Members Preview on Friday, September 28 from 4:00 to 7:00 pm a smashing success. If you would like to join Mary please check appropriate box on the reservation form on this page. We will be in touch with you later.

Reservations:

Pepperpot

My family in Edinburgh, always eager to keep me posted on the latest horticultural developments in Britain, recently forwarded me the following letter from the London Times: Sir, The daffodils in our front garden are all pointing towards the street and away from our house. I bought them so that I could look at them out of the window, but they seem to reserve their beauty not for me but for passers-by, who did not fork out last autumn for the bulbs, as I did.

My wife tells me they are looking towards the sun, but that does not explain the behaviour of the daffodils in the back garden, which are also facing the other way. Is there something fundamentally wrong about the way we planted them, or are we doing something of which they disapprove?

Short of wringing their necks, or cutting off the flowers and placing them in a vase on the dining-room table, or changing our highly provocative lifestyle, can anything be done? We need an answer fast, as their attitude is already beginning to infect the primroses.

Yours faithfully,
MICHAEL CROFT,

PARKING INFORMATION FOR YOUR VISIT TO PHS

A couple of years ago, prior to the onset of a transit strike, the Philadelphia Department of Streets changed the parking regulations, making it illegal to park on Walnut Street between 3:30 and 6:30 pm. Try as we may we have not been able to convince the Department of Streets to accommodate those who wish to visit the Society in the evening for programs and meetings by reverting to the more liberal parking regulations. Instead, the Parking Authority has offered us reduced evening rates at their garage on Second Street between Chestnut and Walnut. Currently the rate is $1.25 per hour, with a maximum of $4.25 per day. If you leave the garage after 5:00 pm and have your ticket stamped by PHS they will only charge you $2.25. The stamp will be available at the reception desk to accommodate all those who plan to leave PHS after 5:00 pm following a meeting in our building.

CONGRATULATIONS

Joanna McQuail Reed

Joanna Reed, a longtime PHS supporter, has been awarded the Herb Society of America's 1984 Helen de Conway Little Medal of Honor. Reed was cited as being a competent and knowledgeable gardener as well as a talented writer in horticulture, a lecturer and a creative artist. She is known throughout the horticultural community as a generous provider of plants and horticultural advice to civic groups and garden clubs throughout the Delaware Valley.

As a member of PHS, she has served on the Educational Exhibit Committee, as a contributing author of Green Scene, and as a guide of numerous garden tours at Longview Farm for PHS members.

BARBARA SPAULDING CRAMER

The Flower Show and PHS lost a great friend and supporter when Barbara died in June. Endlessly enthusiastic, wonderfully creative and everyone's friend are just a few ways to describe Mrs. Cramer. As an arranger she won top awards in the Philadelphia and other shows, and she led the team that introduced our pedestal classes. She was also well-known as a judge, served on the national committee of the Garden Club of America, and on the board of directors of the Arthur Hoyt Scott Horticultural Foundation, Swarthmore College.

THE PENNSYLVANIA HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

HARVEST PROMENADE — A Seasonal Stroll

The 1984 Harvest Show will be held September 29 and 30 at the Horticulture Center, Belmont Avenue and Horticultural Drive, Fairmount Park.

Among the lush permanent plantings at the Center will be a sampling of the season's harvest entered by gardeners from all over the Delaware Valley. Displays of vegetables, fruit and flowers will be exhibited along with preserved products, baked goods, a scarecrow competition, as well as 16 major exhibits by local horticultural organizations. These exhibits will explore topics such as The History of the Straw Hat, Butterfly Gardening and Food for Fitness.

As visitors continue their promenade through the Show they will find nearly a dozen colorful striped tents lining the reflecting pool. Brass band music, bountiful harvest tables and strolling jugglers will bring the area alive with entertainment for the entire family.

Come to Show between the hours of 10 am to 5 pm on Saturday and Sunday or get a sneak preview at the Members' Preview on Friday, September 28 between 4 — 7 pm. Guest tickets for the preview are available at the door for $5.00.

PLEASE DON'T TAKE OFFENSE — TAKE A CHALLENGE

"Merge/Purge" is an issue that bedevils membership departments in museums, zoos, botanical gardens and all kinds of societies. As it plans a membership campaign an organization usually buys or borrows lists of names, prints a brochure, dashes off a letter then crosses its organizational fingers and waits for the results. Often the first response comes from its own members who have received solicitation letters and cannot understand why the organization is "wasting" precious funds on mailings to their own members.

The truth of the matter is that it is cheaper to send the mailing than to cross-check the bought or borrowed lists against a list of current members. Hence a flood of unwanted mail and irate members.

PHS is planning a small membership campaign this fall and asks you not to take offense, but to take a challenge. We have done our best, over the summer, to eliminate our own members from the mailing lists but I am sure some of you have slipped through the cracks. If you should receive our new membership brochure and an invitation to join PHS, please see if you can add one new member to our roles. We thank you for helping us grow.

NOMINATIONS SUBMITTED FOR ELECTIONS TO PHS COUNCIL

Members will have an opportunity to elect 13 new members to Council at the Annual Meeting, to be held on November 14 at 5:15 p.m.

Raul Betancourt, Richard Both, Willie Mae Bullock, Mary Disston, Mary Hyndman, James Nutt and Anne Putnam are all eligible for re-election and have agreed to serve again.

Martha B. Barron has chaired the Philadelphia Flower Show Judges & Awards Sub-Committee for the past two years. Currently, she handles the Junior Horticulturist Award and will chair the 1985 Flower Show Exhibitors & Awards Luncheon. Barron is former president of the Green Countrie Garden Club and is the children's choir director and assistant organist at the Oak Lane Presbyterian Church.

J. Richard Boylan, vice chairman, Provident National Bank, is an avid home gardener whose interests range from orchids to perennials. With his wife Hildegard he has exhibited in the Flower Show orchid classes for the past two years. Boylan is a member of the Board of Managers, Friends Hospital, and a trustee of Widener University and The Johns Hopkins University.

Donald L. Felley is president of Rohm and Haas Company. As a gardener, Felley enjoys an old apple orchard on his family's farm in northeastern Pennsylvania. He is a member of the executive committee of the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the board of directors, Greater Philadelphia First Corporation. He is also a trustee of the Abington Memorial Hospital.

John P. Swan is an avid vegetable gardener in Chester County and has exhibited his produce in the Harvest Show. He is marketing communications manager at the Du Pont Company, has contributed to Green Scene and is a member of the PHS Public Information Committee. In addition, he is a board member of the Chester County S.P.C.A.

Sharon E. Turner is a charter member of the Philadelphia Green Advisory Board and is currently community garden chair of the Harvest Show Committee. Turner chaired the Philadelphia Green Flower Show exhibit in 1983 and 1984 and gardens in North Philadelphia. She is a graduate of the Haarlem Hospital School of Nursing and is currently Clinic Nurse, City of Philadelphia Health Department.

Jane D. Ward is chair of the 1985 Competitive Classes for the Philadelphia Flower Show. As a director of the Garden Club of America, she has served on the executive and finance committees for this organization. She is past president of the Providence Garden Club of Pennsylvania and was chair of the Flower Show rooms and tables section.

To John Collins, Carter Dorrance, Richard Lighty and J. Liddon Pennock, Jr., who will retire from the Council at the end of the year, the Society expresses many thanks for their valuable participation.

Plants have been grown and donated by PHS members and this year's plant list includes:

Perennials — Asclepias tuberosa, Belamcanda chinensis, Campanula cochleariifolia, Helleborus niger, Funkia, Iris cristata, Lavandula angustifolia, Lavandula hortensis, Lilium formosanum, Mentha pulegium 'Cunningham', Penisetum alopecuroides, Phlox stolonifera 'Sherwood Purple', Potentilla medalantha, Salvia acure var. grandiflora, Viola rugulosa

Shrubs — Indigofera pseudotinctoria, Rhododendron x 'Corsage', Rhododendron x 'Pink Pancake', Rhododendron mucronulatum, Spirea japonica, Taxus baccata 'Bloodgood'

Tree — Magnolia virginiana 'Milton'

Houseplants — Punica granatum nana, Sinningia pusilla

Greenhouse — Begonia partita, Ehretia thyrsoiflora, Malaysian Rhododendrons

JUNIOR FLOWER SHOW WILL BE "THE GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH"

Calling all children aged pre-school through 12th grade . . . the 10th annual Junior Flower Show is coming to town on November 8 — 10 at the First Bank of the U.S. on Third Street between Chestnut and Walnut. PHS invites children to participate in this event by entering their horticultural and artistic creations in any of the 30 Show categories.

Come into the "Spotlight — Center Stage" with a pressed plant design, swing on "The Flying Trapeze" with a natural tree ornament or have fun "Clownin Around" with an arrangement in a hat. These are just a few of the artistic classes offered. Horticultural classes include dish gardens, terrariums, edible sprouts, garbage gardening and container grown plants.

For an entry schedule contact "The Ringmaster" at 625-8280 or write to PHS. Show hours are Thursday, November 8 from 1 — 5 pm; Friday, November 9 from 11 am — 5 pm and Saturday, November 10 from 10 am to 2 pm. Admission is free.

MAJOR AWARDS TO BE MADE AT PHS ANNUAL MEETING ON NOVEMBER 14

Sandra C. Ward, chair of the PHS Awards Committee announced the committee's decision to present three major awards this year at the Society's annual meeting.

Mary Louisa Hill will receive the 1984 Distinguished Achievement Medal. Polly Hill is well known nationally and internationally as a keen and thoughtful observer of plants, and has received the formal accolades of professional and amateur horticulturists. For more than 20 years she has grown and evaluated a host of genera, including Rhododendron, Cornus, and Magnolia as well as dwarf and standard conifers at her Arboretum at Barnard's Inn Farm, Martha's Vineyard. Her meticulous records and her attention to the objective assessment of a plant's ornamental worth has resulted in the introduction and commercialization of many outstanding woody plants suitable for mid-Atlantic gardens, including several varieties of low, spreading azaleas.

F.M. Mooberry and Mildred L. and Edward T. Thompson will both receive Certificates of Merit.

F.M. Mooberry is a gardener with a mission — to deepen our appreciation of native plants so we will have a greater concern for, and interest in, their preservation. This gardener's mission has led her to rally a volunteer corps to develop beautiful wildflower plantings in the parking lot of the Brandywine River Museum. She has also given workshops, organized collecting trips, seed sowing activities and co-authored several publications including Brandywine Wildflowers, Brandywine Trees, Landscaping with Native Plants and Grow Native Shrubs in Your Garden.

Mildred and Edward Thompson are self-taught begonia experts, who have collected, grown and studied begonias for more than 25 years. They have also written extensively about these marvelous plants and in 1981 they co-authored Begonias, The Complete Reference Guide which is a landmark reference work in this field. Their collection at The Thompson Begonia Museum, with 1,600 different species and cultivars, is believed to be one of the largest collections of begonias in the world. The Thompsons have lectured widely and frequently open their Southampton, Long Island greenhouse to horticultural and educational groups.

Pepperpot

It was a close finish and my judging team argued heatedly on that hot August day as to who should be the first place winner in our category of the City Gardens Contest. We had seen a one-acre hillside garden above the railroad tracks in West Shore, a one-house lot in Powelton Village complete with raised beds, and then a tiny garden tucked away on a back alley in North Philadelphia where the cosmos grew among the cucumbers, and the parsley among the peppers.

In Philadelphia's community gardens, horticulture is a team effort. Judging for the contest is also a team effort and now, for the past two years, support for the contest has been a team effort. Sun Company, Inc. joined the Society's team in 1983 with a generous contribution, and we are happy to report their continued support for the upcoming year with a donation of $10,000 to the Society, earmarked for the City Gardens Contest. In addition, Sun Company is working in partnership with the Society and the West Shore Civic Association to develop the West Shore Greene Country Towne whose completion we will celebrate in summer '85. The neighbors of West Shore are providing the energy, drive and enthusiasm; PHS is providing the soil, fencing, plants and seeds, and technical advice to develop gardens and green areas; Sun Company is providing technical assistance and financial help to restore porches and paint for the neighbors to redecorate house exteriors. West Shore will be green and gleaming by next August. We hope you will come and celebrate with us.

For information, call Marion Bell, 898-6479/6493.

ENTER THE PHS HOLIDAY COMPETITION December 3 — 28, 1984

Join us on a trip "Around the World at Holiday Time" by entering the 1984 PHS Holiday Show.

We hope to provide each visitor with some measure of holiday inspiration, to stress horticultural information and to suggest design ideas suitable for the home.

Exhibitors may enter any of the 11 horticultural and design classes. The trees of Christmas; piñatas, gingerbread houses and door decorations are just a few of the categories.

Let your imagination roam to far away lands and enter this festive holiday display. Request an entry form on the reservations blank on page three or call 625-8250. Entries will be staged November 28 and 29 from 9 am to 5 pm. For further information call Joe Kerwin at 625-8262.

VISIT PHS EXHIBIT:
A Garden from the Past — Today
November 1 — 19, 1984

Volume XXV, No. X
NOVEMBER, 1984

HARVEST SHOW HIGHLIGHTS

In spite of a rather wet growing season, the Harvest Show boasted some 1995 entries of crisp garden vegetables, artistic arrangements, delicate blossoms and exquisite samples of homemade preserves, breads, wines and vinegar.

Our new look, a dozen tents lining the Horticulture Center's reflecting pool, gave visitors a seasonal stroll through exhibits of dried flowers, honeybees, hardy hollies, and horticultural therapy. This autumn scene was enhanced by two days of sunshine and a park full of visitors.

PHS AWARDS

The PHS Harvest Show Certificates of Excellence were awarded to Bartram's Garden for their exhibit "Harvesting the Maples: Maple Sugaring" and Friends Hospital for their exhibit "Say it with flowers — Tussie Mussie." William D. Coppens took the PHS Gardener's Sweepstakes for his 15 blue ribbons. For the second year in a row The Seedlings, of Kennett Square picked up the PHS Club Sweepstakes Certificate, and 4300-4310 Sansom Street garden once again received the PHS Community Garden Sweepstakes for its 17 blue ribbons.

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF STATE GARDEN CLUB AWARDS

Robin Engle Lippincott won the Creativity Award for her entry in the "Down the Garden Path" design class and Elise Payne won the Award of Horticultural Excellence for her entry of five squashes in a basket. The Award of Merit was given to Marjorie Egee for her celosia; William D. Coppens for his marigold; Mrs. Robert Galloway for her zinnia; Erich Meitzner for his dahlia and Mr. and Mrs. Jack M. Bilson, Jr. for roses.

The Arboreal Award was given to Irene Slater of The American Rock Garden Society and Friends Hospital received the Educational Award. The Junior Achievement Award for design was given to Elizabeth Flounders and to Ann Coyne for horticulture; the Intermediate Meritorious Award for grades 7 through 9 went to Denise Vila and Jonathan Fingerhut for design and horticulture respectively.

GARDEN CLUB FEDERATION OF PENNSYLVANIA AWARDS

Mabel Engle received the Special Recognition Award for an artistic design; The Educational and Conservation Silver Award went to The Melmark Home.

DISTRICT 1 AWARD

Mabel Engle and Robin Engle Lippincott won the District 1 Trophy for their design in the table class.

CIVIC CENTER GETS A NEW LOOK

The Philadelphia Civic Center is sporting a rather handsome new face these days — a much greener face, compliments of PHS.

Recognizing the need for an attractive exterior to one of Philadelphia's most visible buildings, PHS entered an agreement with the City to plant and maintain the Civic Center landscaping year round.

The plantings consist of 12 Kwanzan cherry trees, 200 Pfitzer junipers and assorted Japanese yews and Leyland cypress trees.

AREA CHILDREN GEAR UP FOR JUNIOR FLOWER SHOW

This month's Show will take visitors on a magical tour of artistic and horticultural creations by nearly 800 local children ranging in age from preschool through 12th grade.

This annual competition permits young people to compare and exchange their horticultural knowledge and artistic ability with one another.

The Junior Flower Show will be held on Thursday, November 8 from 1 — 5 pm; Friday, November 9 from 11 am — 5 pm and Saturday, November 10 from 10 — 2 pm at The First Bank of the U.S. on Third Street between Chestnut and Walnut Sts. Admission is free.

SHOW OFF YOUR ARTISTIC TALENTS AT THE 1984 PHS HOLIDAY SHOW

Entries are still being accepted for this year's Show "Around the World at Holiday Time." Exhibitors may enter in any of 11 artistic and horticultural categories.

Categories range from festive door decorations to a New Year's Eve table setting.

The Holiday Show will be held December 3 through 29 from 9 am to 5 pm and on the weekend of December 15 and 16 from 11 am to 4 pm. Call Joe Kerwin for an exhibitor's schedule at 625-8262 or check the box on page three in the Reservations Section.

PHS IS OFFERING A $1,000 AWARD TO THE OUTSTANDING JUNIOR HORTICULTURIST IN THE DELAWARE VALLEY

To qualify for this award, students must be high school seniors who best demonstrate a real interest in horticulture and dedication to one or more horticultural projects or activities.

Interested students are asked to write for an application and details before December 14, 1984 to Lisa Stephano at PHS or call 625-8250. Deadline for returning application and related materials is January 11, 1985. Winner will be notified by March 1, 1985.

Pepperpot

PHS Committee members are supposed to have some downtime in the summer so they can get out into the garden. Members of the Long Range Planning Committee however knew they could not afford to rest if they were to reach agreement on their final report for presentation to Council in September.

The full text of the Committee's report containing Mission, Principles and a statement of Strategic direction, is on file at the Society, and we will be happy to share it with our members. The abbreviated version of the Society's purpose, as determined by the committee reads as follows:

- to collect and disseminate information about horticulture and to make that knowledge available to as many people as possible;
- to inspire a taste for horticulture; and
- to cause people to act on that inspiration.

Thanks to the Committee, William MacDowell, Chair; Raul Betancourt, Jean Bodine, Herb Clarke, Richard Lighty, Elizabeth Lippincott, Mamie Nichols, Anne Putnam, Robert Ryan, Susan Stauffer, Eugene Szymkowiak, Sharon Turner, Frederick Voight and Clarence Wurts the Society has a carefully considered blueprint to follow and the task ahead is to make sure we meet the goals expressed in the committee's report. PHS volunteers are at it again, working away to keep the organization in peak bloom. We thank you.

PHS has lost several good friends in the past few months: Lois T. Burpee, who generously shared her horticultural knowledge and her garden with so many of our members, also played an important role at PHS recently when she grew all the vegetables for the Philadelphia Green show exhibit in the 1983 Philadelphia Flower Show.

Dorothy Sims Keith was active in the Garden Club of America and a distinguished exhibitor in the Philadelphia Flower Show. She was also a shining example to many younger gardeners, patiently demonstrating the techniques that had helped her to win so many blue ribbons.

John Kistler, who served two terms as a PHS Council member, also played an important role in the Philadelphia Flower Show as its designer from 1976 to 1979. A contributor to Green Scene and an enthusiastic member of the American Rock Garden Society, John also generously shared the garden he and his wife Anita developed near West Chester.

HOLIDAY DECORATIONS AT BRANDWINE RIVER MUSEUM, WINTERTHUR AND LONGWOOD
Tuesday, December 5, 8:45 am
— 7 pm

A full day beginning with 'A Brandywine Christmas' in Chadds Ford. Then to Winterthur for an early lunch in the Garden Pavilion and browsing in Winterthur's shops. We have scheduled a tour of 18 American Sampler rooms in the Washington Wing followed by a 'Yuletide' tour of 15 rooms in the Main Museum decorated for the season.

At Longwood Gardens the Conservatory display of poinsettias and other holiday flowers and "Twas the night Before Christmas" display will be seen.

Departure after sundown when 80 outdoor trees are sparkling with 35,000 lights.

Directions for bus pick-up in Center City and Horticulture Center will be sent to registrants. Fee of $36.00, members and $39.00 for guests, includes transportation, all entrance fees and guides, and refreshments on the return trip (lunch not included).

AN AWARD TO A LANDLORD

On Wednesday, November 14 at the Society's Annual Meeting, Jane Pepper will present an award to the Independence National Historical Park for being "the perfect landlord" for PHS for 20 years.

The Park has provided the Society with a gracious, elegant and well appointed home here on Walnut Street. They have taken care of our every need — be it carpenters to fix our doors and shelves or heating and air conditioning specialists to keep us toasty in winter and cool in summer.

We admire the overall appearance of the Park and its buildings, which are home away from home for more than four million visitors each year. And we thank the Independence National Historical Park for our special home on the anniversary of our 20th year as a tenant in the Park.

AN ITALIAN AFFAIR

In late May, 1985, Executive Director Jane Pepper will lead a tour to the gardens and villas of Italy in cooperation with Marchesa Nicoletta Pucci and Tours a la Carte of Strafford, Pa. Rome, Florence and the beautiful Hotel Villa d'Este near Lake Como, will be our watering spots for this 14-day excursion. Among the attractions we will visit: Villa Lante, Villa Pietra, Gamberaia, and Villa Garzoni. Brochures will be mailed to all PHS members shortly.

CAPTURE THE SPIRIT AND VISIT THE PHS HOLIDAY SHOW — December 3 - 21

Strings of garland, natural wreaths and decorated trees will deck the hall of PHS during this festive holiday month.

This year's exhibitors, Ellen Combs Davis, Mario DiPuppo, Kathleen Mayfield, Cheryl Phillips, Patricia Young and Rosemarie Vassalluzzo will interpret the Show theme "Around the World at Holiday Time" with their natural creations.

Show hours are 9 am to 5 pm Monday through Friday and on Saturday and Sunday, December 15 and 16 from 11 am to 4 pm.

PHILADELPHIA GREEN COMMUNITY GARDENERS CAP OFF ANOTHER TERRIFIC YEAR

Some 440 gardeners attended this year's Annual Recognition Dinner held in October at the Philadelphia Centre Hotel under the leadership of Dinner chair Mary W. Brown.

Constance E. Clayton, Superintendent of Schools for Philadelphia, delivered a powerful speech as this year's guest speaker, stressing her commitment to quality education for Philadelphia's school children. Clayton commended the Society for the Green the School Grounds Program noting that it enabled students to take pride in their school as well as their community.

J. Blaine Bonham, Director of Philadelphia Green, praised gardeners for their tremendous contribution to the greening of Philadelphia and announced that due to this year's greening efforts nearly three and one-half acres of land have come under cultivation as vegetable gardens, sitting gardens and lot improvement projects. Over 2,000 additional wine barrels, cement planters and window boxes planted with flowers and shrubs and 110 street trees now line 70 more streets. These successful projects bring the total number of the Society's ongoing greening projects to almost 900.

Members of the Philadelphia Green Dinner Committee, Mary Brown, Rod-nell Griffin, Marie Bryant, Willie Mae Bullock, Rena Ennis, Brenda Nealy, Donna Thorpe, Janet Williams and Grover Willis presented some 140 awards to community gardeners. Of these, four special Green Thumb of the Year awards were given to Rachel Bagby, James Taylor and Leonard Shirrod, and to the West Shore Beautification Committee. Chinatown Community Gardeners were given the Green Thumb of the Decade Award for maintaining their site at 10th & Vine for 10 years. Sadly, the garden will fall next year to the construction of the Vine Street Expressway.

POINT BREEZE WINNER

November 13 was a banner day for Mamie Nichols when she became the first recipient of the Mellon Bank Good Neighbor Award, established in honor of "an individual who has made an outstanding contribution to the area's quality of life." As executive director of the Point Breeze Federation, Mamie has done wonders in her community, including the completion of the Point Breeze Greene Countrie Towne in cooperation with the Federation and their Beautification Committee under the leadership of Haroldine Trower. Mellon's Good Neighbor Award includes a $10,000 grant to a nonprofit organization associated with the individual recipient. The Point Breeze Federation will benefit greatly from this generous donation.

PHS WILL BE CLOSED

December 24, 25, 31 and January 1

DOES THIS GARDEN LOOK FAMILIAR?

THE AMERICAN WOMAN'S GARDEN co-authored by Rosemary Verey and Ellen Samuels has arrived at PHS and three of our members' gardens are beautifully represented. Pamela Copeland's woodland pond garden at Mt. Cuba adorns the cover, Ann McPhail's unique city garden is pictured from a crow's perspective and Joanna Reed's garden, Longview Farm shines in the country garden section. These contributors chosen from the Delaware Valley are in the company of some of the best gardeners in the United States. Rosemary Verey, whose garden at Barnsely House in the Cotswolds has been visited by many Philadelphians, gives her English view of the American woman's garden and says "It is the elements the gardeners contend with, not their approach, that is different." Each woman whose garden is included writes informally about her garden and Ellen Samuels concludes with "Notes of an American Garden Traveler."

The AMERICAN WOMAN'S GARDEN can be borrowed from the library or purchased from the PHS sales counter.

OPEN HOUSE AND CANDLELIGHT STROLL

Thursday, December 20, 3-6 pm

PHS invites members and guests to an Open House and a leisurely stroll through Society Hill.

Maps to homes with outstanding holiday door decorations in Society Hill will be available at PHS from 3 pm onward. Powel House and Hill-Physick-Keith House will be open (small donation requested) especially for visitors from 3-6 pm.

The PHS Open House from 4-6 pm offers a prime time to see "Around the World at Holiday Time", this year's holiday exhibit. Refreshments will be served.

HOLIDAY EXHIBIT

This year's holiday exhibit, "Around the World at Holiday Time" will be open December 3 through December 28, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. The exhibit will be open for special weekend hours from 11 am-4 pm on Saturday and Sunday, December 15 and 16.

HOUSE PLANT CLINIC

Sunday, January 13, 1-5 pm

Bring your ailing house plants (or a specimen) for PHS horticulturists Ed Lindemann and Joe Kerwin to diagnose your plant problems on Sunday afternoon between 1 and 4:30 pm. Be sure to package your plants carefully to protect them from the cold weather.

Parking is permitted on the south side of Walnut Street on Sundays.

Registration Events

GREEN WREATH WORKSHOPS

December 13, 10 am and 6 pm

Two workshops will be given by Peggy Devine and Joe Kerwin, PHS library assistant and assistant horticulturist. Ribbon, a 10" frame, greens, and decorative materials will be provided. Bring your own clippers. After a how-to demonstration, you can create your own wreath.

Seasonal refreshments. Fee — Members: $18; Guests: $20.

MEMBERS' LATE AFTERNOON PROGRAM HERBS — LEGEND AND HISTORY

Tuesday, January 15, 5:30-7:00 p.m.

"Herbs — Legend and History", will be the first in a series of programs in '85 in the Society's Celebration of Herbs.

Our guest speaker, Bertha P. Reppert is an herb expert who has written two books, A Heritage of Herbs and soon to be published Herbs Today. She is also the owner of Rosemary House in Mechanicsburg, Pa. and is an experienced gardener, lecturer, and columnist.

The program will begin at 5:30 pm, followed by wine and nibbles.

Fee — Members: $6; Guest: $8

Give A PHS Membership for Christmas — A Gift to Grow On

MEMBERS EVENING — HISTORY OF ENGLISH GARDENS

Wednesday, January 23, 6 pm

"Off the Garden Path", will be the subject of an illustrated talk by Elizabeth McLean, garden historian, researcher, and tour organizer. In tune with the '85 Flower Show theme, "A Touch of Britain", Ms McLean will give an historian's view of English gardens including the history of the Chelsea Flower Show.

Cocktails: 6 pm (donation bar); buffet, 6:45 pm; program, 7:45 pm.

Fee — Members: $13; Guests: $15

PHOTOGRAPHY WORKSHOP

Saturday, January 26, 9 am - 3 pm

Dick Keen, Longwood Gardens staff photographer, will repeat last year's highly successful one day workshop covering these aspects of photography: camera selection and operation, lenses, film, lighting, exposure, composition, special effects, slide showmanship and a section on portraits and close-ups. His teaching aid is a multi-image nine projector set-up.

Registration is limited. Bring lunch; coffee and tea provided. Fee: Members $35.00, Guests $38.00.

Snow date: February 23

WORKSHOP/DEMONSTRATION: ENGLISH TROUGH GARDEN CONSTRUCTION

Saturday, February 2, 10 am — 3 pm

English trough gardens are becoming very popular in America. They are fun to construct and to plant, and require little care after planting. Extremely adaptable to both the city patio and the country garden, troughs have an interesting effect on the plants in them.

Alan Slack, experienced propagator and longtime member of PHS, will provide detailed instructions, and the construction and planting of a trough will be fully demonstrated. Come and experience the fun of constructing and planting a trough.

Bring a sandwich; beverages and dessert will be provided.

Fee — Members: $14; Guests: $16.

Fields Trips

HOLIDAY DECORATIONS AT BRANDYWINE RIVER MUSEUM WINTERTHUR AND LONGWOOD

Wednesday, December 5, 8:45 am — 7 pm

A full day beginning with "A Brandywine Christmas" in Chadds Ford. Then to Winterthur for an early lunch in the Garden Pavilion and browsing in Winterthur's shops. Next is a tour of 18 American Sampler rooms in the Washington Wing followed by a "Yuletide Tour" of 15 rooms in the Main Museum, decorated for the season.

At Longwood Gardens the Conservatory display of poinsettias and other holiday flowers and "Twas the Night Before Christmas" display will be in full bloom.

Departure is after sundown when 80 outdoor trees are sparkling with 35,000 lights.

Directions for bus pick-up in Center City and Fairmount Park Horticulture Center will be sent to registrants. Fee of $36.00 for members and $39.00 for guests includes transportation, all entrance fees and guides, and refreshments on the return trip (lunch not included).

STATE FARM SHOW AND CAPITOL

Thursday, January 17, 8 am — 6 pm

This will be PHS's fourth bus trip to Harrisburg to see the State Farm Show (held in mid-winter when farmers are not busy with planting, births or harvests) and the Capitol. Pennsylvania's Capitol, considered the most beautiful capitol building in the U.S., will be the first stop. Featured are murals by Violet Oakley and Edwin Austin Abbey and tile mosaics in the rotunda floor made at the Mercer Tile Works. A tour given by chief capitol guide Sara Kugler will be a delight for all.

Box lunch will be eaten on the bus; then we go to the largest indoor farm show in the country to see hundreds of exhibits including beautifully groomed percherons, just-hatched chicks, and continuous competition in the arenas.

Fee of $25.00 for members and $27.00 for guests includes refreshments on the bus. Bring a box lunch or order one for $6.50. Directions for bus pick-up from Center City and Fairmount Park Horticulture Center will be mailed to registrants.

LEADERSHIP CHANGES

The health and success of your Society depends not only on the vitality and strength of its volunteer leadership, but also on the principle of rotation. Council members are invited to serve for a three-year term, with the option to serve one additional consecutive term. Starting in January, we will welcome the following as new Council members:

Martha Barron, Richard J. Boylan, Donald L. Felley, John Swan, Sharon Turner and Jane Ward.

Our officers will also change this year and I wish to express special thanks to Jean Bodine, who has served as a Council member for several years and as a vice president for the past four years. With her enthusiasm for PHS programs — the Flowers Show, the Preview Dinner and latterly our community outreach projects — Jean has played an important role in the development of the Society over the past ten years.

Henry H. Reichner, Jr., who has served as the Society's president for the past four years, after two terms on Council, will also be greatly missed as he relinquishes his post at the end of the year. Hank has been a great leader for volunteers and staff, needing a little here, goading a little there, but in the end enabling all parties to reach agreement and progress in harmony. This is a rare skill and we are grateful to have had his enthusiastic participation. We hope that both Jean and Hank will continue to be involved in the Society when they retire from their formal positions.

Starting in January the new team will be as follows: Robert S. Ryan, chair; Anne B. Putnam and J. Liddon Pennock, Jr., vice chairs; Richard W. Lighty, Secretary; Elizabeth H. Lippincott, treasurer, and Jane G. Pepper, president. Stay tuned for the January News for a profile of the Society's new chair.

CALENDARS FOR SALE

Two striking 1985 calendars are hot off the press from The Winterthur Museum and Gardens and The Fairmount Park Council for Historic Sites.

graphed by Gottlieb Hampfler, with horticultural information provided on the plantings pictured. This wall calendar measures 10" x 12" and is available at PHS ($7.95) and by calling 1-800-441-8229; Delaware residents call 656-8591 ext. 405 or write to Winterthur Book and Plant Shop, Winterthur Garden Sampler, Style #212-0170, Winterthur Museum and Gardens Winterthur, DE 19735. The price is $5.95 plus $1.50 for shipping.

The Fairmount Park 1985 Calendar is a beautiful collection of seasonal photos of the Park by Peter N. Odell. This calendar measures 8 1/2" x 11" and is available either at the PHS Gift Shop ($6.95) or through the mail from John Bartram House and Garden, 54th & Lindbergh Blvd., Philadelphia, PA 19143 ($7.50). Profits from the calendar support educational programs of the Fairmount Park Council for Historic Sites.

PHILADELPHIA FLOWER SHOW

March 3 — 10, 1985

A magnificent Touch of Britain — Our Garden Heritage opens at the Philadelphia Civic Center on March 3 for a week long look at the best in American and British gardening traditions.

Starting off the Show in the main aisle is the central feature created by Gale Nurseries of Gwynedd, Pa. Here, elegant knot gardens, colorful perennials, stately walled gardens and a formal rose garden will greet Show visitors.

The knot garden, a manicured design of begonias, dusty miller and English boxwood leads into a rush of perennials that include pink, blue and white delphiniums, snapdragons and foxglove. Pillar roses of Rhonda and Golden Showers rise above a crop of peachy pink Sonia roses. Callery pear trees will line the display.

The exhibit is enhanced by a collection of mythological statues and stone figures depicting the four seasons.

This display will lead the way to some 50 major exhibits created by local florists, nurseries and non-profit, educational organizations.

ADVANCE SALE TICKETS

Tickets for the 1985 Philadelphia Flower Show may be purchased at PHS now through February 27, at discount prices. Adult tickets are $5.75 (minimum mail order: 10 adult tickets); children under 12, $3.25.

Box office admission price is $6.50 for adults and $3.25 for children under 12.

THIS YEAR'S NEW FACES

The Flower Show welcomes two new major exhibitors to this year's Show — Chrome Run Nursery of Media and Plume Orchids of Maple Glen.

The display by Chrome Run will feature dwarf conifers. Jared Berd, exhibit chair, has participated as an exhibitor in previous years with the Delaware Valley Chapter, American Rock Garden Society.

Plume's exhibit, titled "An Orchid Collector's Fantasy" follows the journey that early British plant explorers took on their search for rare orchids in South America. Ted Plume, chair of the display, says that some 150 varieties of orchids will be on exhibit.

Returning after a year's hiatus is Waldor Orchids of Linwood, NJ. Waldor will display an orchid collector's hut surrounded by lush plantings, a mountainside waterfall and hundreds of colorful orchids.

Im Wha Kong of Seoul, Korea will once again demonstrate her artistic skills in flower arranging by creating a series of innovative arrangements in her originally designed porcelain containers. Her exhibit is entitled, "International Friendship through Flowers."

SNEAK PREVIEW FOR MEMBERS

PHS members are the first to enjoy the Flower Show each year and this year we look forward to greeting members at "A Touch of Britain — Our Garden Heritage" on Saturday, March 2 from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Saturday afternoon is the preview for members and their guests. Each individual member receives one ticket and family and contributing members receive three single admission tickets. Life members receive a weekly pass as well as one members' ticket.

If you would like to bring a guest to the preview, the charge is $25.00 per adult and $10.00 for children under 12. Guest tickets may be purchased by members only in advance at PHS or at the Civic Center box office on March 2.

Your tickets, which are good for use on any one day throughout the Show, and membership cards will be mailed to arrive in late January. Be sure to bring your membership card to the Show for admittance to the Hospitality Tent.

VOLUNTEERS ARE NEEDED FOR FLOWER SHOW INFORMATION AND MEMBERSHIP BOOTH

Mary Disston, chair of the Members' Committee asks interested members to sign up now for a three-hour stint in the Flower Show information booth.

Your time will be spent answering visitors' questions about the Show and membership in PHS. In return for your time, we will provide you with complimentary admission to the Show on the day of your assignment.

To volunteer, check the appropriate box on the Reservations form on page three.

SPECIAL TOUR

WINTER GARDEN TOUR

WORKSHOP: CONTEMPORARY FLOWER ARRANGING

February 7, 14, 21, 6:45 — 8:45 pm

Bernice Makin, master judge of the Garden Club Federation and teaching master of two schools of oriental flower arranging, will teach this basic three-session course on contemporary arranging. She will stress the new look in flower design by using fewer flowers for dramatic effect for today's homes. Beginners and more experienced arrangers will learn to work in a variety of styles using fresh flowers and the student's choice of containers.

Each student should bring a large, low container, needlepoint holder, clippers plus a bag or plate to transport finished arrangement.

The fee of $32 ($35 for guests) includes fresh flowers and beverage and cookies for all three sessions.

Note: On-street parking is permitted on the south side of Walnut Street after 6:30 pm.

PROPAGATION WORKSHOP: GROWING FROM SEED

Tuesday, February 19, 2 pm and 6 pm

There are many reasons to propagate plants from seed: for personal satisfaction, for economy, and to obtain rare or unusual plants not available at many commercial sources. Whatever your motivation, learn basic easy techniques for growing plants from seed from expert Roxie Gevjan whose blue ribbon entries in the Philadelphia Flower Show are nearly all grown from seed, including her bulb entries.

After a lecture demonstration which includes the techniques of transplanting seedlings, participants will plant three containers of unusual seeds rarely available in the trade.

All materials provided.

Limited registration for members and guests. Fee — Members: $18; Guests $20. Evening registrants may want to bring a sandwich; coffee and cookies provided.

Field Trips

STATE FARM SHOW AND CAPITOL Thursday, January 17, 8 am — 6 pm

This will be PHS's fourth bus trip to Harrisburg to see the State Farm Show (held in mid-winter when farmers are not busy with planting, births or harvests) and the Capitol. Pennsylvania's Capitol, considered to be the most beautiful capitol building in the U.S., will be the first stop. Featured are murals by Violet Oakley and Edwin Austin Abbey and tile mosaics in the rotunda floor made at the Mercer Tile Works. A tour given by chief capitol guide Sara Kugler will be a delight for all.

WELCOME BOB RYAN:

Waterlilies in his back yard, orchids in his greenhouse, a spider plant in his downtown office, and a twinkle in his eye . . . meet your new chair Robert S. Ryan. Bob's associations with PHS go back to 1970, when he became a member of the Council. Since joining Council, he has chaired a range of committees and served as vice-chair for the past two years. When he's not floating amid his lily pads Bob practices law, as a partner in Drinker, Biddle and Reath. A graduate of Harvard Law School, Bob's area at Drinker, Biddle and Reath is primarily litigation and banking. He and his wife Priscilla, who is a violinist and composer, have three sons. With the Council and staff I look forward to working with Bob.

MEMBERSHIP REPORT:

Garden clubs, Flower Show exhibitors and several non-profit organizations generously shared their membership lists with PHS last summer to assist us with our membership campaign. By Labor Day we had accumulated 26,000 names, to whom we proudly mailed our new brochure, developed with the help of Art Kaplan, advertising promotions manager for the Philadelphia Inquirer, through Business Volunteers for the Arts. The results were excellent and well above the one percent response we were told to expect from such a mail solicitation. As we go to press 460 new members have joined the Society as a result of the campaign.

To our new members we say welcome. PHS has lots of activities and information we want to share with you. And, more important, we want to hear from you. To our old faithfuls we say thanks to those who have responded to our renewal notices promptly. To the few of you have yet to reply — as the reminder notice said "leaf lovers never forget."

Jane G. Pepper
President

A special note to all our members:

Suffice it to say that we had printing problems with the December News. Our apologies for the inconvenience.

HORTICULTURAL PHOTOGRAPHY CONTEST

"THE WAY I SEE IT", a horticultural photography contest open to all will be staged at PHS from June 10 through July 29, 1985. Winners in each of the six major categories will receive valuable prizes and also be eligible for the Best In Show Award. Come and join the fun, show off your gardens and plants and photo talents. All entries must be received no later than May 31, 1985. The winning photograph will be featured in GREEN SCENE. For a listing of Photo Contest rules and entry categories please write to Joe Kerwin at PHS or call 625-8250.

NEW ENGLAND TRIP

Members from PHS and the Brandywine Conservancy — Brandywine River

Museum will bus to Connecticut and then on to the Boston area for four days of garden visits. Included are tours of the Garden in the Woods, several private gardens, and two well-known nurseries. If you are interested in knowing more about the arrangements and itinerary, please request information on the reservation form on page 3.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR FLOWER SHOW MEMBERS' TENT

Help us greet our special guests and fellow members by offering them a spot of tea or a bit of lunch in the Members' Tent during the Flower Show.

If you are interested in volunteering to be on our 'hospitality crew' please call Mary Lou Wolfe at (215) 625-8268.

THE BRITISH ARE COMING . . . TO THE PHILADELPHIA FLOWER SHOW

This year we welcome a distinguished group of horticulturists, flower arrangers and lecturers from the United Kingdom to join us in celebrating "A Touch of Britain - Our Garden Heritage."

Robin Herbert, president of The Royal Horticultural Society, will join a panel of judges chosen to present a special Wilkinson Sword award to the "best commercial exhibit that exemplifies the horticultural traditions of Great Britain, preserved by American gardeners."

Students from Merrist Wood Agricultural College of Surrey, will work with students from Delaware Valley College of Science and Agriculture, Doylestown to create "A Touch of Britain" in the major exhibit area of the Show. The exhibit presents a view of a cottage garden in both traditional and contemporary designs. Merrist Wood won the Gold Medal for their division and The Croft Original Trophy for best exhibit of a garden design in the 1984 Chelsea Flower Show.

Sheila Macqueen, world renowned flower arranger and recipient of the Royal Horticultural Society's Victoria Medal of Honour, will demonstrate her talent in a display entitled "Getting Ready for Chelsea".

The exhibit features massive arrangements freshly created by Ms. Macqueen in a setting resembling a section of the Chelsea show grounds. Sheila will also judge in the Show's competitive area.

Rosemary Verey, author and garden designer from Gloucestershire, will talk on the "Chelsea Flower Show" and "Some English Gardens", during a series of special lectures and demonstrations conducted by Mesdames Macqueen and Verey. See January News for reservation forms or write to PHS, c/o Lisa Stephano.

FLOWER SHOW HAS A NEW ENTRANCE

Crowding has always been a problem in the Civic Center lobby, and especially in the morning when the early birds are waiting in line at the top of the escalator. At the suggestion of the Civic Center management, we've established a new visitors' entrance in the Center Building, one building east of the main entrance near the top of the escalator. In the Center Building there's ample room for ticket and program sales, for bus groups to assemble, for coat checking and additional rest rooms. Visitors will have their tickets checked in the Center Building and will proceed through the main lobby and down the escalator. Exhibitors and judges will still be able to enter through the Plaza entrance in early morning.

COMPETITIVE CLASS HIGHLIGHTS

Take a look at The Chelsea Challenge in the Niche Classes.

Ann Letter, co-chair of niches, says container plants and all materials will be given to exhibitors to create their own view of the famed Chelsea Flower Show.

In the Room and Table Classes, Command Performance takes the stage as exhibitors interpret a theatrical production of their choice.

And, new this year is the Terrace Class which features "Terrace Along the Mews". Exhibitors will stage their displays in a setting of townhouse terraces with French doors.

MAJOR EXHIBITORS GET READY FOR SHOWTIME

Paul Tickle of J. Franklin Styer Nurseries in Concordville, feels right at home preparing the Styer exhibit for the Flower Show. Tickle, a native of Southampton, England, returned to his hometown to research authentic English landscapes for the display. "An Old Bridge" will depict a waterway in Cambridgeshire and will be centered in an island garden.

Carol and Jim Chojnacki of C & J Florists, Berlin, NJ, are busy building staging for their display, "A London Florist" sponsored by Teleflora. The exhibit will show a London flower shop bursting with European flowers and foliage.

A magnificent ornamental grass "lawn" will be the focus of an exhibit by Rose Valley Nurseries of Media. A small English cottage named "Cotswold" sits nestled among blooming plants overlooking a lawn that boasts a dozen varieties of grass.

And, now in her second year with the newly formed Nancie Ohliger Landscapes of Plymouth Meeting, Nancie Ohliger demonstrates the beauty of a well mown golf course in "Tee Time." The carefully planned and maintained course will provide an excellent palette on which to display unusual plants for year-round use.

AN ITALIAN TRIP TO REMEMBER

May 19-June 1

We have just a couple of spaces remaining for the Society's splendid Italian trip to visit gardens near Rome, Florence and Lake Como. Marchesa Nicoletta Pucci will be our guide in Italy; Tours a la Carte of Strafford are making all travel arrangements and Jane Pepper will accompany the group from Philadelphia to visit a wide variety of gardens, including many small private gardens not often open to the public. For more information please call 215-625-8250.

Registration

WORKSHOP/DEMONSTRATION:

ENGLISH TROUGH GARDEN

CONSTRUCTION

Saturday, February 2, 10 am-3 pm

English trough gardens are becoming very popular in America. They are fun to construct and plant in addition to requiring little care after planting. Extremely adaptable to both the city patio and the country garden, troughs have a very interesting effect on the plants in them.

Alan Slack, experienced propagator and longtime member of PHS, will show different kinds of troughs and their uses. The actual construction and planting of a trough will be fully demonstrated. Come and experience the fun of constructing and planting a trough.

Bring a sandwich; beverages and dessert will be provided.

Fee - Members: $14; Guests: $16

EARLY MEMBERS EVENING: THE GARDEN OF CHINESE SCHOLARS

Wednesday, February 6, 5:30-7:15 pm

Edwin T. Morris brings his great knowledge of China to PHS for a fascinating illustrated talk on "The Garden of Chinese Scholars". Ed Morris has his M.A. in Chinese cultural history and is a teacher, lecturer, author, tour leader, and consultant to the fragrance industry. He has visited all the great gardens of China and has written two books: The Gardens of China: History, Art, and Meaning and Fragrance: The Story of Perfume from Cleopatra to Chanel.

This lecture, jointly sponsored by PHS and the Philadelphia Unit of the Herb Society of America, will begin at 5:30 pm followed by wine and nibbles.

Fee - Members: $8; Guests: $10

WORKSHOP: CONTEMPORARY FLOWER ARRANGING

February 7, 14, 21 - 6:45-8:45 pm

Bernice Makin, master judge of the Garden Club Federation and teaching master of two schools of oriental flower arranging, will teach this basic three-session course on contemporary arranging.

Bernice will stress the new look in flower design by using fewer flowers for dramatic effect for today's homes.

Beginners and more experienced arrangers will learn to work in a variety of styles using fresh plant material and the student's choice of containers.

Each student should bring a large, low container, needlepoint holder, clippers plus a bag or plate to transport finished arrangement.

The fee of $32 ($35 for guests) includes fresh flowers and refreshments for all three sessions.

Note: On-street parking is permitted on the south side of Walnut Street after 6:30 pm.

PROPAGATION WORKSHOP: GROWING FROM SEED

Tuesday, February 19, 2 pm, 6 pm

There are many reasons to propagate plants from seed: for economy, to obtain rare or unusual plants not available at most nurseries, or for personal satisfaction. Whatever your motivation, learn basic easy techniques for growing your own plants from seed from expert Roxie Gevjan whose blue ribbon entries in the Philadelphia Flower Show are nearly all grown from seed, including her bulb entries. She achieves a high rate of germination, the result of trial and error and using varied techniques.

After a lecture demonstration which includes the techniques of transplanting seedlings, participants will plant three containers of unusual seeds rarely available in the trade.

All materials provided.

Limited registration for members and guests. Fee $18 members: $20 guests. Evening registrants may bring a sandwich; coffee and cookies provided.

SMALL FRUITS FOR THE HOME GARDENER

Saturday, March 30, 10 am to noon

Three PHS members well versed in the art of fruit growing will discuss culture for blueberries, raspberries and strawberries as well as less frequently grown small fruits such as currants and gooseberries.

John Gyer, owner of Fern Hill Farm, where he and his wife now grow Dr. Martin lima beans as a seed crop, used to grow raspberries commercially; Tom and Marty Darlington are owners of Whitesbog, a cranberry and blueberry growing operation in New Jersey. Bring your questions for a panel discussion following presentations, to be moderated by Jane Pepper, PHS president and garden columnist for the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Members: $5.00; Guests: $7.00

Field Trip

DUKE GARDENS AND PRINCETON ART MUSEUM

Wednesday, February 13, 8:45 am-6 pm

Never-never land in February. PHS has an appointment at the Duke Gardens Foundation in Somerville, NJ where 11 perfect gardens under glass recreate the horticultural tastes of 11 countries and areas.

En route charter bus will go to the Princeton University Art Museum to see the permanent collections and a special exhibit. Lunch on your own in Princeton.

Details of bus pick-up in Fairmount Park Horticulture Center and Center City will be mailed to registrants. Please indicate on the reservation form where you will board the bus.

Fee: $24 members and $26 guests includes bus transportation, entrance and guide fees, return-trip bus refreshments. Lunch not included.

TRIPS

NEW ENGLAND TRIP May 20-23

SPECIAL DELIVERY HEADED YOUR WAY Flower Show tickets have been mailed

Begin watching your mailbox for your complimentary Flower Show tickets which should arrive in early February. Life members will receive a weekly pass and one members' ticket. Individual members receive one ticket each, family and contributing members, three tickets. Those families with more than three members living under one roof (children under the age of 21) who want additional tickets should apply in writing, enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope, to Jane G. Pepper, president, Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, 325 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, PA 19106 stating the names and ages of all family members and the number of additional tickets needed.

Members' tickets are good for any one day throughout the Show week but we urge you to come to the special Members' Preview on Saturday, March 2 from 12:30 to 3:30 pm. Members who wish to bring guests to the Preview may purchase additional tickets for $25.00 per person in advance at PHS or at the Civic Center on the day of the Preview.

Thirty-seven Ticketron outlets in Greater Philadelphia will carry Flower Show tickets. Ticketron advance sale: $6.75; during the Show: $7.50; Children (under 12): $4.25.

Advance sale tickets are now available at PHS reception desk and at many local garden centers and nurseries: $5.75 for adults ($6.50 at Show); $3.25 for children under 12, same price before and during Show. The minimum mail order from PHS is 10 adult tickets. Order before February 20 to allow for timely delivery.

A NEW LOOK FOR MEMBERS' INFORMATION

The Membership/Information Booth will have a new look for '85. Ed Lindemann has designed a 20' oval which will be partitioned by decorative lattice-work. One side will be used for Membership, staffed by Linda Davis (membership secretary) and Betsy Gullan (members' activities coordinator) plus countless volunteers; Information, directed by horticulturist June Vail and volunteers will occupy the other side.

Stop by to say hello to Linda, Betsy, and June, and view the array of new items suitable for gifts or souvenirs. Be sure to come often, and bring your friends. Items to be sold at the Philadelphia Flower Show will be on display at PHS during the last three weeks of February.

Pepperpot

There's no sweeter music in my ears than the sound of Flower Show visitors oohing and aahing over the displays, gradually putting the dreariness of winter behind them as they enjoy the bulbs, green grass and creativity of our exhibitors.

Conversely, there's no worse sound than a phone call from an irate potential visitor who could not find a parking place and went home dissatisfied.

Parking in West Philadelphia is difficult, for Show visitors, for the hospitals and for the universities, and we hope you, our members, will join the Society in our campaign to try and encourage Show visitors, where possible, to take public transportation to the Civic Center. With SEPTA's new commuter tunnel in full operation it's now much easier for visitors to reach 30th Street Station from points all around the Delaware Valley. At 30th Street you can pick up the Route 30 bus, which will be running more frequently during Show hours, directly to the Civic Center.

Another bus route that makes stops at the Civic Center is Route #42 on Chestnut Street from Penn Center Station. This bus travels west on Chestnut Street from 7th to 17th Street, turns and continues west on Walnut Street to the Civic Center.

Gardeners are a hardy lot and I look forward to having you help us spread the word - Come to the Show by bus or train. If you need help with specific routes call SEPTA's hotline - (215) 574-7800.

Congratulations to Council member Jane Ward - recently elected First Vice President of The Garden Club of America.

THANKS FROM PHILADELPHIA GREEN

As we begin another planting year it's time to say thank you to the many supporters who helped us complete another 140 greening projects in 1984 through Philadelphia Green, the Society's community outreach gardening program. Plantings in the fall raised our total of community greening projects over 900, all of which we continue to keep in touch with through monthly newsletters, special events, competitions, workshops and individual visits. Philadelphia really is becoming a greener city, thanks to the cooperation and support of many individuals and organizations.

Funding for the Philadelphia Green program is a marriage of resources. About fifty percent of the budget is met through a drawing account with the Philadelphia Office of Community Development. The Society also receives support from foundations and corporations. Recently, we received $32,000 from The Pew Memorial Trust, the final payment towards a three-year grant of $96,000.

During the past year, three local corporations provided generous support for special programs: Sun Company contributed $10,000 to assist us with the City Gardens Contest, for which we received 600 entrants throughout Philadelphia. SmithKline Beckman continues as a major supporter of the Garden Interns program, also with $10,000, through which we were able to hire and train nine community gardeners to work with us on projects throughout the year. Atlantic Richfield Foundation provided $5,000 to assist in general Philadelphia Green programs.

Our list of corporate supporters, each of whom contributes a minimum of $500 to the Society in support of Philadelphia Green, continues to grow and included the following corporations in 1984:

The Anchor Packing Company
Bell of Pennsylvania
W. Atlee Burpee Company
Campbell Soup Company
CIGNA Corporation
Ernest and Whinney
The Fidelity Bank
General Accident Group

Hunt Manufacturing Company
Foundation

Mellon Bank (East), N.A.
The Philadelphia Contributionship
Philadelphia Electric Company
Philadelphia Newspapers, Inc.
Philadelphia Life Insurance Company
Philadelphia Suburban Corporation
PMA Foundation
PNB Charitable Trust
PSFS Charitable Trust
The PQ Corporation
Provident National Bank
Quaker Chemical Foundation
Rohm and Haas Company
Rorer Group, Inc.
Wawa, Inc.

A TOUCH OF BRITAIN

ALL THE WAY WITH BA

Special visitors deserve to travel in style so we are delighted that six of our visitors from Britain will be travelling to participate in the Show courtesy of British Airways on its direct London-Philadelphia flight. On behalf of the Flower Show we thank BA, and invite you to stop by the BA booth in the Civic Center lobby on your way to the Show to arrange for your next trip via British Airways.

PHILADELPHIA/CHELSEA COMPETITION

The contest is an annual event, but the prize for '85 has an added bonus. Each year about 250 British gardeners and designers make entries in The Sunday Times (London) garden competition. The winner has the satisfaction of seeing his/her design created at the Chelsea Flower Show, held annually during the third week of May. The 1985 winner will also receive an all-expenses-paid trip for two to the Philadelphia Flower Show. TWA will sponsor the flight, the Palace Hotel, a member of the British Trusthouse Forte chain, will provide luxurious accommodations on the Parkway, and the winning designer will be PHS's guest at the Show during set up and for our Preview event. This is an exciting tie between London and Philadelphia and we look forward to welcoming the winner, Russell Davidson, a landscape designer from Glasgow, and his wife, to our Show.

PHS' GREENING PROGRAM TAKES ROOT AT FLOWER SHOW

Two twenty-foot pea pods depict the theme "Community Gardening - Bigger Than You Think" in this year's Flower Show display by Philadelphia Green.

Exhibit Committee Members: Willie Mae Bullock, Rena Ennis, Ruth Flounders, Frank Kaiser, James LaRosa, Eugene Szymkowiak, Sharon Turner and the Philadelphia Green staff will show the diversity and scope of Philadelphia's community gardening movement through a photographic display of Philadelphia Green's projects. The pea pods dramatize, with a touch of whimsy, the grand scale of this movement.

THE OFFICIAL FLOWER SHOW KEEPSAKE

Along with your scented memories and vast array of gardening tips from the Flower Show, be sure to bring home a copy of the 1985 Flower Show Program. This 80 page, full color magazine includes stories of our international exhibitors, a guide on how to grow roses, color photos of past Flower Shows and a floor plan centerfold which details the Flower Show's five acre layout.

Pick up your copy as you enter the Show.

TO AND FRO ACROSS THE "POND" AN EXHIBIT TAKES SHAPE

Anyone who has seen the major landscape exhibits at the Flower Show knows that it takes a miraculous combination of engineering, creativity and experience to produce these displays. But imagine creating such displays from 3,000 miles away with a group of people you have never met. That's just what the Merrist Wood Agricultural College of Surrey,

England and the Delaware Valley College of Science and Agriculture of Doylestown, PA have been doing for the past year.

These two schools teamed up last Spring when designer, Ed Lindemann proposed a joint exhibit to Delaware Valley College after seeing Merrist Wood's prize winning display in the 1984 Cheslea Flower Show.

After deciding on a design created by Kathleen Askew of Merrist Wood, Delaware Valley students set about locating materials for the display. Materials for a stone wall and paving proved the biggest challenge for the students as they faced foreign construction terms for the English stone wall.

But, after a flood of letters passed back and forth across the Atlantic, questions were answered, plans were finalized and a magnificent English cottage garden will be transformed from blueprint to lifesize brilliance for this year's Show.

18th CENTURY GARDEN VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Ann McPhail, 18th Century Garden volunteer, is looking for a few men and women who enjoy gardening and would like to help maintain the formal and vegetable gardens at the Society headquarters. Gardening begins in mid-April and continues through October.

A knowledge of basic garden skills is preferred. If you would like to join the group please check the appropriate box on page three in the Reservations coupon.

PLANNING A PERENNIAL GARDEN

Wednesday, April 3, 10, 17 - 10 am and 1 pm

Three 2-hour sessions on planning and planting a perennial garden will be conducted by Jane Reed Lennon, whose horticultural background includes a lengthy training at Hillier's Nursery, England.

Each participant will be able to make a drawing for a perennial bed or border in his or her garden.

To be covered: selection of compatible plants for sunny and shady locations, soil and feeding, propagation, and low maintenance plants. All materials will be provided.

Members: $35; Guests: $38.

DISCOVERING PERENNIALS FOR THE INFORMAL GARDEN

Charles O. Cresson, horticulturist at Meadowbrook Farm, will give an illustrated talk on unusual perennials for unusual situations. Drawing from his varied gardening experiences at Wisley in England, Nemours, and his own garden in Swarthmore, Cresson will show how to use perennials in unique or difficult spots such as wet areas, woodland, or meadow gardens. Come and enjoy Cresson's broad approach to perennial gardening as he discusses alternatives to a labor-intensive formal perennial border.

Bring a sandwich; coffee provided.

Members: $10; Guests: $12

Note: Charles Cresson's "Hedleigh Spring" is one of the private gardens to be visited April 24. See Field Trips.

BASIC ANIMAL TOPIARY WORKSHOP

Thursday, April 11, 10 am-1:30 pm

Create a small animal topiary that will be happy on a table or windowsill in your own home. Betsy Nutt, experienced instructor of topiary techniques, will teach you how to design, shape, plant (using Ficus pumila), and maintain small animal topiaries.

Bring pliers, wire cutters, and a cardboard box or dinner plate to transport completed project. All other materials will be provided.

Bring a sandwich; coffee and tea will be provided.

DISCUSSION: REDESIGNING FOR LOW MAINTENANCE

Tuesday, April 16, 6-9 pm

Join Patricia Schriber and Paul Wolfinger of Philadelphia Green for an informal, problem-solving discussion of low maintenance landscaping. Topics will include plant selection, changing existing plantings, choosing low maintenance construction materials, and rejuvenating larger plants.

Bring pictures or sketches of problem areas and lots of questions. Coffee, tea, and cookies will be provided.

WORKSHOP: FLOWER ARRANGING FOR ENJOYMENT

Thursday, April 18, 25, 10 am-noon

Add fun and excitement to arranging flowers at home. In a non-competitive atmosphere, Kate Swope will take you through the steps to create your own masterpiece. Materials provided for first session, which includes instruction in mechanics, conditioning of plant material, and basic principles of design. In the second session participants will critique their creations in a relaxed forum.

Kate is a designer, consultant, author, and instructor who has won blue ribbons in this country and abroad including the Creativity Award given by the State of New Jersey.

Students should bring clippers for both sessions and will be encouraged to gather own materials for the second session.

Pepperpot

A 10-day trip to see The Family in Britain over the Christmas holidays provided many opportunities, including the chance to confirm arrangements for the Society's tours to the Gardens of East Anglia and Yorkshire in September '85.

In London I met with our three horticultural guides Nancy Kennedy, Barbara Moth and Colette Thom and we spent a happy wintery day talking about the glories of English gardens in September. Visions of perennials, just coming to the peak of their late summer bloom, and of rose gardens danced before our eyes as a miserable wind howled through the streets of London. A quick visit with old friends provided introductions to several other private gardens and gradually the tour started to take shape.

Marietta Meltzer of The Elegant Traveller, Philadelphia and Betsy Gullan, PHS membership/activities coordinator will accompany the group from Philadelphia. The pace will be leisurely, with ample time to shop and roam around on your own between garden visits. In addition, we have arranged accommodations in just three cities - Cambridge, Harrogate and London - so you will have a minimum of packing and unpacking.

The trip will be a study in contrasts starting with lush perennials in the Cambridge/Norfolk/Suffolk area at Bressingham Gardens, Beth Chatto's garden and at Chequers, Jenny Robinson's garden described by her in The Englishwoman's Garden.

In Yorkshire you will tour gardens designed in the eighteenth century with Barbara Moth, a landscape designer from Chester who studied in America as a Garden Club of America exchange student for the Zone V region.

Last stop before returning home will be four days in London where you will visit the Royal Horticultural Society's Great Autumn Show as a special guest of the Society's president, Robin Herbert, as well as the Society's country establishment - Wisley. Nancy Kennedy, a graduate of the Longwood Program in Ornamental Horticulture now living in London, has arranged visits to private gardens in the Hampstead and Regent's Park areas, as well as a day north of the city to include Hatfield House.

I hope you will join us. If you would like further information please call 215-625-8250 or check the appropriate box on the Reservation Form on page 3.

Field Trips

SCOTT FOUNDATION AND PRIVATE GARDENS

Wednesday, April 24, 10 am-3 pm

A very special day has been arranged for 25 PHS members and guests. Participants will meet at the Scott Foundation for a fascinating day in the Swarthmore area.

In the morning Erica Glasener, horticulturist and educational coordinator for the Arthur Hoyt Scott Horticultural Foundation, will lead a tour through the Arboretum, located on 110 acres at Swarthmore College. Spring attractions include flowering cherries, crabapples, lilacs, magnolias, and rhododendrons. Next the group will visit Mrs. John C. Wister's garden, which includes a large selection of herbaceous plants and hundred of daffodil cultivars. Many of the rhododendrons which serve as the evergreen backbone for the garden were developed at Swarthmore by Dr. Wister.

After lunch at Scott, we will have a chance to see "Hedgeleigh Spring", Charles Cresson's garden described in Green Scene (March 1983) as "a garden of surprises." The Cresson garden has evolved through four generations and contains treasures for all seasons.

Bring a sandwich; beverages and dessert will be provided. Travel instructions will be sent to registrants April 15.

Members: $12; Guests: $14.

57th GEORGETOWN GARDEN TOUR Saturday, April 27, 7:45 am-7 pm

This favorite annual trip includes a walking tour of Georgetown on your own to see traditional and innovative gardens including Mrs. Peter Belin's "Evermay" and nine other varied, interesting gardens. Highlights of the tour are "Prospect House" overlooking the Potomac and "Tudor Place", home of Martha Washington's daughter, open for the first time. The tour is organized by and benefits the Georgetown Children's House.

Details of bus pick up at Fairmount Park Horticulture Center and Center City will be mailed to registrants.

The fee includes transportation, tour ticket, tea at Children's House following the tour, and return-trip refreshments. Lunch on your own.

Members: $36; Guests: $39.

JUNIOR HORTICULTURIST

Cheryl D. Phillips, a senior at W.B. Saul High School of Agricultural Sciences, was recently presented with $1,000 as winner of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society's Junior Horticulturist Award, given each year to a high school senior who shows great promise in the field of horticulture. Cheryl has exhibited in the Junior Flower Show, the Harvest Show and PHS' Holiday Show. She has also been a member of the floor manager's crew at the Philadelphia Flower Show. Cheryl plans to major in floriculture in college and hopes to operate a flower shop.

Runner-up for the Award was Justin Carpenter Mooney of Germantown Friends School who received $750.

LOOKING FOR THE BEST

Each year the Styer Committee meets to select those plants that will receive preliminary commendation for the J. Franklin Styer Award of Merit.

Richard W. Lighty, committee chair, says the plants chosen this year are: Arctostaphylos uva-ursi 'Vancouver Jade' and Genista pilosa 'Vancouver Gold' entered by the University of British Columbia Botanical Garden; Clematis hybrid Gabrielle and Clematis hybrid Starfish submitted by Polly Hill; Itea virginica submitted by the Scott Horticultural Foundation and Zelkova serrata 'Green Vase' submitted by Princeton Nurseries.

Any person or organization may submit plants for consideration for the Award.

If you would like more information regarding the Styer Award please contact Joe Kerwin at (215) 625-8250

CITY GARDENS CONTEST

Attention gardeners! The 1985 City Gardens Contest is gearing up for the tenth year of competition among Philadelphia's gardeners.

We hope you will join us as a judge - for more information please check the appropriate box on page three in the Reservations Coupon.

What a Show

It was our best yet, with beautiful displays and a record crowd. To everyone - exhibitors, volunteers, PennDOT crews, the Philadelphia Police Department and the staff at the Civic Center we say thank you. You made it a smashing success and we so appreciate your support and enthusiasm for Philadelphia's greatest tradition.

You may still be hibernating indoors but at Philadelphia Green spring plans are going full steam ahead for another busy gardening season. Planting schedules have been set, trees and shrubs ordered, and workshops scheduled. The success of the Society's community outreach horticultural program is dependent on the help of many individuals, foundations and corporations. One corporation in particular is in our minds at this time of year as we enjoy a generous seed credit with W. Atlee Burpee Company, which makes it possible for the Society to provide complimentary seeds to all first- and second-year gardens started through Philadelphia Green. In addition, Burpee provides encouragement to many city gardeners each year by donating gift certificates and prizes for the City Gardens Contest. Thanks to the Burpee Company for helping us help make Philadelphia greener.

WORKSHOP: CONTEMPORARY FLOWER ARRANGING

May 2, 9, 16 - 6:45-8:45 pm

Bernice Makin, master judge of the Garden Club Federation and teaching master of two schools of oriental flower arranging, will teach this basic three-session course on contemporary arranging.

Beginners and experienced arrangers will learn to work in a variety of styles using fresh plant material and the student's choice of containers.

Each student should bring a large, low container, needlepoint holder, clippers plus a bag or plate to transport finished arrangement.

EARLY MEMBERS EVENING: GARDENS OF THE SCOTTISH NATIONAL TRUST

Monday, May 6, 5:30-7:15 pm

William M. Cuthbert, chairman of the National Trust of Scotland, has the ultimate responsibility for horticultural treasures such as Inverewe and Pitmedden as well as extensive natural areas throughout Scotland. In his illustrated lecture, Mr. Cuthbert will focus on the variety and the changing face of the gardens of the Scottish National Trust.

The program begins at 5:30 pm, followed by wine and nibbles.

Members: $6; Guests: $8

Note: The PHS Library will be open until 6:45 this evening.

IN DEFENSE OF ANNUALS

Tuesday, May 7, 10 am-noon

The growing interest in perennials in no way diminishes the importance of growing annuals for flower beds, borders and in containers. Even the most dedicated perennial growers rely on annuals for a long season of color and bloom.

Viola Anders, horticulturist and teacher, will discuss selection for abundant bloom, effective color schemes, interplanting and using annuals in perennial gardens for fall color.

Members: $10; Guests: $12

Wednesday, May 8, 10 am-noon

Holly Shimizu, first curator of the U.S. National Arboretum's Herb Garden, will bring her extensive knowledge of herbs to PHS for a lecture/demonstration on harvesting and drying herbs. Topics to be discussed will include methods for harvesting and drying, timing, storing, packaging, blending and freezing.

Members; $10; Guests: $12

MEMBERS EVENING: THE NATIONAL HERB GARDEN

Wednesday, May 8, 6 pm

"The National Herb Garden" will be the subject of an illustrated talk by Holly Shimizu, its first curator. She is involved in every aspect of the herb garden from overseeing to propagation and research and will give us an understanding of how the gardens evolved and their importance today.

Cocktails: 6 pm (donation bar); buffet, 6:45 pm; program, 7:45 pm.

Members: $13; Guests: $15

Note: The PHS Library will be open until 6:45 pm.

DEMONSTRATION - THE LAVISH RADISH: ORIENTAL FOOD SCULPTURE

Wednesday, May 16, 1-3 pm

Perri Dash teaches and demonstrates the art of oriental food sculpture called mukimono, creating unusual bouquets and arrangements.

Learn to create a bouquet carved out of fresh vegetables. No artistic ability is required; Each participant will receive printed instructions and will have a chance to win the finished arrangement as a door prize.

Members: $15; Guests: $17

PRUNING WORKSHOP AT FAIRMOUNT PARK AZALEA GARDEN

Tuesday, May 28, 4-6 pm

A pruning workshop will be given by Patricia Schrieber, Philadelphia Green landscape designer, and Joe Kerwin, PHS assistant horticulturist. The Azalea Garden was a gift to Philadelphia by PHS in 1952 to commemorate our 125th anniversary.

The hands-on workshop will teach the basics of pruning and tool maintenance. Bring your pruning shears.

Members: $5; Guests: $7

Travel directions will be sent to registrants.

Field Trips

57th GEORGETOWN GARDEN TOUR

Saturday, April 27, 7:45 am-7 pm

This trip includes a walking tour of Georgetown on your own to see traditional and innovative gardens including Mrs. Peter Belin's "Evermay" and nine other varied, interesting gardens. Highlights of the tour are "Prospect House" overlooking the Potomac and "Tudor Place", the home of Martha Washington's daughter, open for the first time. The tour is organized by and benefits the Georgetown Children's House.

Details of bus pick up at Fairmount Park Horticulture Center and Center City will be mailed to registrants.

The fee includes transportation, tour ticket, tea at Children's House following the tour, and return-trip refreshments. Lunch on your own.

Members; $36; Guests: $39

BARNES ARBORETUM

Friday, May 10, 10 am-2 pm

After last fall's successful trip to Barnes, many members want to return to see the garden in its spring splendor. In the morning Elizabeth Farley, assistant director of the Barnes Arboretum and superb guide, will lead 25 PHS members and guests through the Arboretum where the seasonal attractions include spring flowering shrubs and trees.

Registrants should bring a sandwich; dessert and coffee will be provided. After lunch, walk around to the entrance of the Barnes Foundation's gallery and tour the collection at leisure.

Fee: Members: $10; Guests: $12.

Travel directions will be mailed to participants.

JOHN BARTRAM'S GARDEN

Thursday, May 30, 9:50 am-2 pm

A Fairmount Park trolley will transport 25 PHS members and guests to John Bartram's Garden, America's first botanic garden. The two-hour guided tour will start in the 19th century stable and then on to the botanic garden and house.

After the tour, enjoy your box lunch in the garden and browse through the Museum Shop before the return trip by trolley.

Fairmount Park trolley will pick up and discharge participants in Center City or Fairmount Park Horticulture Center. Information will be mailed to registrants May 15. Fee includes trolley ride, entrance and guide fees, box lunch and beverages.

Members: $19; Guests: $21

GARDEN VISITS

Sunday, April 28, 1-5 pm

Four gardens in Valley Forge, West Chester, and Phoenixville will be open to PHS members and guests on April 28. Three of the gardens are rock gardens, and the fourth is an interestingly constructed house and garden.

Maps and tags (one for individual, three for family members) will be sent April 15 to those registering by mail only.

Sunday, May 12, 1-5 pm

Visit seven gardens in an area from Chadds Ford and Kennett Square to Greenville and Wilmington. Enjoy the diversity of garden sizes, styles and settings as you go from small city gardens to large country places.

Maps and tags will be mailed after April 28 to those registering by mail only.

BE IT CUISINART OR COPPER KETTLE, PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

It's time to get out Grandma's recipe from the attic, blow off the dust and get down to some serious baking for the Harvest Show.

This year's Baked Goods classes will feature herb bread, vegetable muffins and squash pie. The main ingredient in each entry must be grown in your garden and each person may enter one item in each category.

Start practicing your recipes today. Deadline for all entries is July 1. Send advance registration form from Harvest Show Schedule and recipe(s) to Alexandra Basinski at PHS.

JUDGES NEEDED FOR CITY GARDENS CONTEST

Help us comb the City in search of those gardens that rank among the very best. It's the eleventh annual City Gardens Contest and you are invited to judge.

Jean Byall, coordinator of the Contest, says if you've never judged before now is the time. More than 600 gardeners are expected to enter this year making the Contest judging a stimulating, educational experience as you will have the opportunity to see garden treasures tucked into almost every neighborhood across the City.

If you would like to judge, check the appropriate box on the Reservations form on page three.

HORTICULTURAL PHOTOGRAPHY CONTEST

"THE WAY I SEE IT", a horticultural photography contest open to all will be staged at PHS from June 17 through July 29, 1985. Winners in each of the six major categories will receive valuable prizes and also be eligible for the Best In Show Award. Come and join the fun, show off your gardens and plants and photo talents. All entries must be received no later than May 31, 1985. The winning photograph will be featured in GREEN SCENE. For a listing of Photo Contest rules and entry categories please write to Joe Kerwin at PHS or call 625-8250.

LOIS WOODWARD PAUL

She was always smiling, rarely ruffled - and always full of good cheer and wisdom for those of us who sought to follow in her footsteps. Lois's death numbed her PHS friends, especially as it came in late February when so many were involved in setting-up the Flower Show, an event she had supported and loved for many years.

Lois's associations with PHS go back to the 1950s, when she served as a field lecturer. Her husband Fully enrolled her as a life member in 1947. In 1966 she received our Distinguished Achievement Award. Later, as a member of Council and chair of the Awards Committee, she was a key participant in Society activities. As a judge at many shows, including the Flower and Harvest Shows, it was a privilege to serve on her panel. Her comments were carefully phrased, as she passed out the criticism gently and the praise loudly.

Mrs. Paul's horticultural career was distinguished, as a faculty member of the Ambler Campus of Temple University and as head of the Department of Education at Longwood Gardens. Just as important, to so many PHS members and staff, was the opportunity to share with Lois the joys of gardening, of education and an approach to life that was so appealing. We will miss her.

The many generous donations to the Society in Lois's name will be placed in a fund for the Lois Paul Memorial Lecture, to be given each year in conjunction with the Society's Annual Meeting, an event Lois was deeply involved in as chair of Awards.

FLOWER SHOW

Special thanks, in the competitive classes of the Show, go to Jane Ward who has completed her second year as chair of this section. A member of the Providence Garden Club, Jane is a skillful organizer with a personality that few can resist, even when called for some of the most challenging jobs. We are fortunate to have enjoyed Jane as a key Show volunteer for several years and look forward to her continuing involvement as a Council member and as coordinator for a special exhibit in Flower Show '86.

My thanks also go to Thacher Brown who led the Preview Dinner committee to produce another superb affair in conjunction with ARA Services, Inc. Contributions made to the Society by our Preview Dinner subscribers play a key role in supporting Philadelphia Green projects.

And finally, congratulations to Gale Nurseries for their splendid entrance feature, which was awarded the Wilkinson Sword for the "Commercial exhibit that best exemplifies the horticultural traditions of Great Britain preserved by American gardeners."

EARLY MEMBERS EVENING AT MEADOWBROOK FARM

Thursday, June 6, 5:30 pm

Distinguished horticulturist J. Liddon Pennock, Jr., vice chair of PHS, will host members of the Society for a leisurely early evening visit to Meadowbrook Farm near Jenkintown. PHS members will tour the house and gardens, famous for topiaries, terraces, statuary, espaliers and gazebos. The commercial greenhouses and nursery will be open, as well as the display gardens of herbs, perennials and ornamental grasses.

Horticulturists Nancy and John Story, Nanci Walsh, and Charles Cresson will be on hand to direct visitors and answer questions. Wine and nibbles will be served.

Travel instructions will be mailed to registrants May 24.

GARDEN TAPESTRY: ESPALIER COURSE AT CHANTICLEER

Saturday, June 8, 10 am-3 pm

Howard J. Holden, horticulturist and superintendent of "Chanticleer", a private estate in Wayne, will conduct this course on espalier, the art of training trees or shrubs in one plane. Topics will include style, technique and maintenance as well as suitable plants and their proper placement. A tour of Chanticleer's espaliers and a demonstration are also planned.

Bring a bag lunch; iced tea will be provided. Travel directions will be mailed to registrants.

Members: $17.00; Guests: $19.

Limited to 20 members. Raindate: Saturday, June 29

WORKSHOP: MAKING POTPOURRI

Monday, June 24, 1-3 pm

Tuesday, June 25, 10 am-noon

Cincinnati's Rosella Mathieu, who formerly had her own potpourri business, will travel to PHS for two workshops on potpourri making. Drawing on thirty years of experience, she will show how to make a potpourri that is simple, inexpensive and lasting.

Participants will receive a list of items to bring. Fee includes all dried herbs and petals plus a perfume oil to make two cups of potpourri.

Members $15; Guests: $17

GARDEN VISITS

Sunday, May 12, 1-5 pm

Visit seven gardens in an area from Chadds Ford and Kennett Square to Greenville and Wilmington. Enjoy the diversity of garden sizes, styles and settings as you go from small city gardens to large country places.

Maps and tags will be mailed after April 28 to those registering by mail only.

Sunday, June 30, 1-5 pm

As part of the PHS "Celebration of Herbs", enjoy five gardens featuring herbs in Malvern, Valley Forge and Glenmoore. Two are large gardens which include extensive herb plantings. In one of the smaller gardens, an area for herb growing has been carved out of the surrounding woodland.

Maps and tags will be mailed after June 15 to those registering by mail only.

Trips—Near and Far

NEW ENGLAND

May 20-23, 1985

Members from PHS and the Brandywine Conservancy-Brandywine River Museum will bus to Connecticut and then on to Boston for four days of garden visits. Included are tours of private gardens plus Garden in the Woods, Arnold Arboretum, and Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum plus a stop at the Quincy Market.

For more information call PHS (215) 625-8250.

ENGLAND

September 5-19, 1985

PHS has planned a special British tour of magnificent gardens in East Anglia, Yorkshire and in and around London with accommodations in Cambridge, Harrogate and London.

We will visit grand gardens of Britain, but also smaller gardens not regularly open to the public. Several receptions and dinners have been arranged in private houses.

Highlights of the tour include visits to gardens featured in The Englishwoman's Garden, Castle Howard, Chicheley Hall, Hatfield House, Wisley and Bressingham Gardens.

By special invitation, we will preview the Royal Horticultural Society's Great Autumn Show. We hope you will join us. Check the box on the reservation form to receive the itinerary.

A Correction

A MOUNTAIN OF HOPE FOR WEST SHORE COMMUNITY

A pile of rocks with nowhere to go and no one to move it was a nuisance to the neighbors of Markoe Street. Slowly it evolved into a treasured rose-covered mound now known as Markoe Mountain.

The community of West Shore in Southwest Philadelphia has had plenty of experience at turning monumental problems such as abandoned homes and trash strewn lots into green space giving hope and pride to the entire neighborhood.

On July 26, West Shore will become the third of the Society's Greene Countrie Townes with a celebration to be held at the "OK Coral", a flower garden on the 4600 block of Linmore Street. Charlotte Donald, chair of the West Shore Greene Countrie Towne project, and Helen Feggans, president of the West Shore Civic Corporation, have worked with Philadelphia Green since 1982 to turn this ten-block community into an oasis of greenery.

Once known as a grey area of Philadelphia, West Shore now boasts some 275 window boxes and wine barrel planters, 50 street trees, three community vegetable gardens and eight flower and sitting parks.

If you would like to attend the dedication ceremony on July 26 please call Betty McGill at (215) 625-8282.

PHS SUMMER HOURS

Visit the Society during our summer hours 8:30 am to 4:30 pm. These hours will be in effect May 28 through Labor Day.

REMINDER - Next PHS News - August

AABGA MEETS AT HAVERFORD COLLEGE

Under the leadership of Jane Pepper, PHS president, a committee was formed many months ago to prepare for the annual meeting of the American Association of Botanical Gardens and Arboreta to be held in this region in June. Representatives from the Arboretum of the Barnes Foundation, Campus Arboretum Association Haverford College, Chanticleer, Longwood Gardens, Morris Arboretum, Philadelphia Zoo, Scott Foundation, Tyler Arboretum, Wilmington Garden Center and Winterthur Museum and Gardens, have developed a four-day program around the theme "An Organization's Public Face." Home base for the June 19 - 22 meeting will be Haverford College where 200 participants from around the nation will enjoy Haverford's beautiful campus and arboretum. Pre- and post-conference tours have been arranged to private gardens and to the Pine Barrens. PHS members are welcome to attend all or part of the conference. For more information please call or write AABGA, P.O. Box 206, Swarthmore, PA 19081; (215) 328-9145.

INFORMATION WANTED ON DR. EDGAR T. WHERRY

The Delaware Valley Chapter of the American Rock Garden Society has volunteered to locate and catalog letters and other written material, slides, photographs and memorabilia relating to the life and work of the late botanist, Dr. Edgar T. Wherry.

Anyone interested in providing such materials should contact Milton Laden at (215) 247-7616. Arrangements have been made to house and service the Wherry Collection in the library of the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia for the benefit of future students and researchers.

A WINNING SHOW LINED UP FOR FALL

The 1985 Harvest Show will be held on Saturday and Sunday, September 28 and 29 at Horticulture Center in West Fairmount Park. Ann Marlar, Show Chair says this year's theme, A Harvest Rainbow, "will herald the season with a spectrum of color and activities to delight members of the entire family."

In the design classes exhibitors may enter any of eight artistic categories that capture the spirit of the Show with titles like Beach Party, Color Me, Cosmic and Pot of Gold.

While gathering flowers from your garden keep in mind the Pressed Plant classes and create a design for Harvest Rainbow, Go Fly a Kite, Stitchery or Kaleidoscope. Also, with dried flowers make a design for A Country Fair Hat.

The Preserved Products classes are always a Show stopper and this year will be no exception with mouth-watering entries of jellies, jams, preserves and pickles staged in the greenhouse with homemade breads and vegetable cookies in the Baked Goods section.

When you've finished making all those blue ribbon entries take a stroll through the Show and enjoy many activities—jugglers, a children's activities tent, and hourly horticultural demonstrations. A brass band will entertain visitors both afternoons and during the Members Preview on Friday, September 27.

Mark the Show dates on your calendar, it's an event you won't want to miss.

EARLY MEMBERS EVENING AT MEADOWBROOK FARM

Thursday, June 6, 5:30 pm

Distinguished horticulturist J. Liddon Pennock, Jr., vice chair of PHS, will host members of the Society for a leisurely early evening visit to Meadowbrook Farm near Jenkintown. PHS members will tour the house and gardens, famous for topiaries, terraces, statuary, espaliers and gazebos. The commercial greenhouses and nursery will be open, as well as the display gardens of herbs, perennials and ornamental grasses.

Horticulturists Nancy and John Story, Nanci Walsh, and Charles Cresson will be on hand to direct visitors and answer questions. Wine and nibbles will be served.

Travel instructions will be mailed to registrants May 24.

Members: $6; Guests: $8

GARDEN TAPESTRY: ESPALIER
COURSE AT CHANTICLEER

Saturday, June 8, 10 am-3 pm

Howard J. Holden, horticulturist and superintendent of "Chanticleer", a private estate in Wayne, will conduct this course on espalier, the art of training trees or shrubs in one plane. Topics will include style, technique and maintenance as well as suitable plants and their proper placement. A tour of Chanticleer's espaliers and a demonstration are also planned.

Bring a bag lunch; iced tea will be provided. Travel directions will be mailed to registrants.

Members: $17.; Guests: $19.

Limited to 20 members. Raindate: Saturday, June 29

WORKSHOP: MAKING POTPOURRI
Monday, June 24, 1-3 pm

Tuesday, June 25, 10 am-noon

Remember the sachets Grandma used to tuck away in drawers and closets to give fragrance to linens and clothing? Potpourri, a mixture of aromatic flowers, leaves, and spices, is becoming popular again because of its aroma.

Cincinnati's Rosella Mathieu, who formerly had her own potpourri business, will travel to PHS for two workshops on potpourri making. Drawing on thirty years of experience, she will show how to make a potpourri that is simple, inexpensive, and lasting.

Participants will receive a list of items to bring. Fee includes all dried herbs and petals plus a perfume oil to make 2 cups of potpourri.

Field Trips

PINE BARRENS, NEW JERSEY

Saturday, June 1, 10 am-3 pm

Wednesday, June 5, 10 am-3pm

June Vail, authority on the plants and ecology of the Pine Barrens, will lead an auto caravan to many microclimates in this largest wild land tract on the Mid-Atlantic seaboard to see a pitch pine forest, cranberry bogs, freshwater wetlands and blueberry patches.

Directions to a meeting place in Marlton, NJ, where doubling up in cars can take place, will be mailed to registrants who must provide their own transportation and lunch.

Members: $15; Guests: $17.

NATIONAL HERB GARDEN AND WHITE HOUSE GROUNDS

Tuesday, June 4, 7:15 am-7 pm

First stop will be the White House, where by special arrangement staff horticulturists will guide us through the White House grounds to see the Rose Garden and the recently restored gardens of Jacqueline Kennedy. The extent of the tour will be determined by the schedule of the White House that day.

After box lunches at the National Herb Garden, curator Holly Shimizu will give us a special tour of the historic rose collection, the knot garden and the herb garden.

The bus will leave Fairmount Park Horticultural Center at 7:15 am and Center City about 7:35 am. Departure from Washington, D.C. is planned for 4 pm for a 7 pm arrival in Philadelphia.

Reservations must be at PHS by May 18.

Details of bus pick up will be mailed to registrants after May 15.

Bring your lunch or order a box lunch for $6.50.

Members: $25; Guests: $28.

GARDEN VISITS

Sunday, June 30, 1-5 pm

As part of the PHS "Celebration of Herbs", enjoy five gardens featuring herbs in Malvern, Valley Forge and Glenmoore. Two are large gardens which include extensive herb plantings. In one of the smaller gardens, an area for herb growing has been carved out of the surrounding woodland.

Maps and tags will be mailed after June 15 to those registering by mail only.

Members receive free tag(s): one for an individual membership, three for family. Guest tags are $5 each.

Trips

England In Autumn

September 5 - 19, 1985

It will be a trip for the passionate horticulturist, as well as for the Anglophile and for the dedicated traveler. PHS's fall English garden tour, has something for everyone.

Not only will you visit perennial and botanic gardens, but also stately homes and small country houses. You will dine in a Cambridge College and with Sir John and Lady Ropner at Thorp Perrow, Yorkshire. Before returning home, you will have four days in London to explore the Royal Horticultural Society's Great Autumn Show, as well as their country establishment, Wisley. Also on your visiting list is Hatfield House, home of the Marquess of Salisbury. For a complete brochure listing all gardens and hotels, please check the appropriate box on Reservations Form on this page.

Pepperpot

This comes as a love note from me to you, our members, as we close down operations in the News department for one brief month.

Throughout the year so many of you have shown unbounded enthusiasm for our product - by attending our shows, responding to our publications, attending classes, trips and workshops and by serving as volunteers in a myriad of ways. This enthusiasm is a continuing stimulus to the staff and we thank you for your support during the past year.

To our new members, I offer a warm welcome. Some 570 of you joined during the fall membership campaign; 308 more at the Flower Show and another 628 signed up through various routes during the past nine months. We look forward to seeing you as the year progresses and to hearing how we can help you.

Some day when you are downtown, be sure to stop in and inspect your building, a restored townhouse in Society Hill. Nowadays, it's hard to picture the Society anywhere else, but we didn't arrive at 325 Walnut Street until 1964, when we leased the building from Independence National Historical Park in cooperation with the Philadelphia Society for Promoting Agriculture. At that time our quarters seemed spacious for the staff of five. Today with 28 full-timers and several part-timers, we also occupy offices across the street. In our rental agreement with INHP we guarantee to keep the building and library open for the public, to maintain exhibits in our lobby and to maintain the delightful garden on Walnut Street.

As you explore the benefits of membership, don't forget the horticultural hotline (215-922-8043), handled by a terrific team of volunteers from 9:30 to noon Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Then there's the library which holds the answers to almost all your horticultural questions.

That's my love note to you for the summer season. When the spirit moves, keep in touch and let us know if we are fulfilling your horticultural needs.

FLOWER SHOW HORTICULTURAL CLASSES

The Collection Classes at the '85 Flower Show were a big hit and it looks like 1986's will be equally exciting. There are a few openings in Class 200 - a horticultural collection displayed for botanical interest and in Class 400 - Kaleidoscope, a collection presenting a variety of colors and patterns. If you would like to enter, call Marge Meer at (215) 625-8292.

Another newcomer in the hort section next year is "All America Selections." Exhibitors may enter any forced plant from the All America Selection list, available at PHS. This list has been compiled over a 50-year period and ranges from flowering plants to vegetables.

The bulbs listed below for the 1986 Show may be entered on any of the three horticultural entry days.

- Class-01 Narcissus 'Little Gem' (Miniature)
- Class-02 Narcissus 'Unsurpassable' (trumpet)
- Class-03 Narcissus 'Carlton' (large cup)
- Class-04 Narcissus 'Peeping Tom' (cyclamineus)
- Class-05 Hyacinthus 'Delft Blue'
- Class-06 Tulipa 'De Wet'
- Class-07 Amaryllis Any named variety
- Class-08 Any named miniature narcissus not listed above
- Class-09 Any standard narcissus not listed above
- Class-10 Any named hyacinthus not listed above
- Class-11 Any named tulipa not listed above
- Class-12 Any named muscari
- Class-13 Any named crocus
- Class-14 Any named iris
- Class-15 Any other named hardy bulb, corm, rhizome or tuber
- Class-16 Any other named non-hardy bulb, corm, rhizome or tuber; pot 6" or under
- Class-17 Any other named non-hardy bulb, corm, rhizome or tuber; pot over 6"

GARDENS OF ENGLAND, September 5-19

PHS members and guests will travel to England in September to visit gardens in East Anglia, Yorkshire, and London. The itinerary stresses the diversity of English gardens from the lush perennial borders at Bressingham Gardens and the sweeping landscapes of Castle Howard to the historic gardens of Hatfield House, the residence of the Marchioness of Salisbury.

Hatfield House, the Jacobean palace built in 1607-1611, was the home of Robert Cecil, Chief Minister to Queen Elizabeth I and James I. Cecil entrusted the planting of his gardens to John Tradescant the Elder, who traveled overseas to hunt for plant treasures for the gardens of Hatfield House. The elegant gardens and park contain many specimen trees including 250 year-old copper beeches and a mulberry tree planted by James I. Fine portraits, furniture, tapestries, and armour are highlights within the house. The gardens of Hatfield House are featured as the cover story of House and Garden, June 1985.

Two of the many private gardens we'll visit are included in The Englishwoman's Garden. We will have tea at Jenny Robinson's home, Chequers, Boxford, as we view her walled garden with central lawn and well-filled beds. We will also visit Beth Chatto's garden, famous for its five acres of attractively landscaped areas with unusual plants, shown in a wide range of conditions.

These are just a few of the many places we will visit; the pace will be brisk with just the right amount of free time to catch your breath and to wander on your own. For a copy of the itinerary, call Cheryl Monroe at 625-8299, or check the appropriate box on the Reservation Coupon on Page Three.

ALL SYSTEMS ARE GO FOR THE 1985 HARVEST SHOW

Countdown to our annual fall event has begun and after months of planning, our team of enthusiastic leaders is ready to take visitors on a trip over the Harvest Rainbow.

Beginning in November of 1984, Martha Clark, design chair, met with Harvest Show committee members to brainstorm suggestions for the 1985 classes. December brought the Committee together again as Ann Benzel, chair of the horticulture classes, encouraged the group to comb through the rules, regulations, judging criteria and specific classes listed in the Exhibitor's Schedule. As the Flower Show whirlwind passed, Harvest Show action picked up as Ann Marlar, Show chair and Ann Swan, vice-chair worked out the nuts and bolts operations with the PHS staff.

Now, with the Show only one month away, recipes for the Baked Goods classes are all in and major exhibitors are busy designing their displays. A Harvest Rainbow will light up the grounds of The Horticulture Center on Saturday and Sunday, September 28 and 29.

FROM THE LAND OF OZ

Calling all scarecrow enthusiasts. The 1985 Harvest Show's scarecrow class will feature the classic theme "The Wizard of Oz." Design your favorite character(s) from over the rainbow and enter it.

Consult your Harvest Show Schedule for registration requirements.

BLOOPER ALERT

The SEEDHEADS Class was inadvertently omitted from the 1985 Harvest Show Schedule. Entries may be made in Class 208 Sunflower, 6" stem, one specimen and Class 209 Amaranth, 6" stem, one specimen.

WANTED: HARVEST SHOW HELPERS TO SHARE THE LAUGHTER

Join the fun in the Children's Activities Tent at the Harvest Show. Volunteers are needed to assist our young visitors with pumpkin painting; to decorate their rosy cheeks with face paint and to keep them from diving head first into the apple bobbing barrel. The activities run from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, September 28 and 29.

To volunteer, call Peggy Devine at (215) 625-8256 or sign up on Reservation coupon on Page Three.

PHILADELPHIA GREEN RECEIVES $10,000 FROM ARCO

Philadelphia's corporate community generously supports Philadelphia Green and we are especially grateful to the Atlantic Richfield Foundation for a recent gift of $10,000 to forward our community projects. ARCO has been a long time supporter and we welcome not only their continued involvement but also an increased contribution.

Grateful thanks also to Provident National Bank who have made it possible to plant gardens in West Philadelphia and Logan with a grant of $1,600.

FLOWER SHOW MINIS ANNOUNCED

Lucie and Jim Steele, advisors for the 1986 Miniature Arrangement class, recently announced the four new titles for this class. They are: Allspice - a design incorporating herb(s) and/or spice(s); Sticks and Stones - a composition using stick(s) and or stone(s); Fire and Ice - a design suggesting fire and/or ice and Potpourri - a mass arrangement.

ENJOY THE TREASURES OF YOUR LIBRARY

Wondering how to make elderberry wine, rosehip syrup, nettle soup or grill fish on fennel? Roger Phillips' Wild Foods London, Pan Books, 1983 will inspire wonderful end-of-summer feasts. Englishman Phillips has combined superb photographs with tempting recipes showing wild edibles on site and ready to eat. For herb harvesting, potpourri and more domesticated herb recipes consult Ann Bonar's Macmillan Treasury of Herbs N.Y., 1985. As your garden reaches its summer peak camera buffs may want to consult Heather Angel's A Camera in the Garden, London, Quiller Press, 1984. The examples are handsome and the advice is practical and detailed. All of these books may be borrowed by phone (mailing charge, $1.00 per book) or in person. The Library is now open until 6:45 on Members' evenings. To borrow books by phone: 625-8256 or 625-8268.

ACTIVITIES NOTES

As we put the finishing touches on the calendar of events for 1985-86, we want you to have a peek at what is to come.

1985 was designated as a "Celebration of Herbs," and herb programs were scheduled monthly throughout the winter and spring. Many thanks to the Philadelphia Unit of the Herb Society of America for their help and guidance, and for co-sponsoring some of these events. Two more herb programs have been planned for the fall, and a special day in October has been set aside for PHS members by the Herb Society for workshops and demonstrations in Chester County. See the September News for details.

Our first tour for 1985-86 will take place in September when PHS travels to England for 14 days in East Anglia, Yorkshire and London, and in August, Peggy Bowditch and Betsy Gullan will take members to Maine for four days of private garden visits.

For 1986 PHS will have an American series as a tie-in with the theme of the 1986 Philadelphia Flower Show, "Hometown, USA"; special lectures, workshops and field trips will focus on native plants and crafts.

Field trips to the Barnes Foundation, Scott Foundation, Meadowbrook Farm and the White House grounds and Herb Garden in Washington, D.C. had long waiting lists and will be repeated next spring, and several trips with new destinations are planned.

Watch for announcements of events in the PHS News: all events (with rare exception) are advertised in two consecutive issues of the News. Itineraries for the Maine tour will be ready late in November.

PHS STAFF NEWS

Cheryl Lee Monroe recently joined the staff of PHS as administrative assistant to president, Jane Pepper.

Cheryl comes to us with a Bachelor of Science degree in horticulture from the University of Maryland. She has worked as a volunteer for the U.S. National Arboretum Herb Garden and her flower designs have appeared at Longwood Gardens and the State Department in Washington.

Along with her administrative responsibilities, Cheryl also holds the position of Harvest Show secretary. Feel free to call her if you have Harvest Show questions.

Jeff Myers has been named district coordinator for Philadelphia Green in North Philadelphia. Jeff has worked at PHS for the past year as assistant district coordinator in North Philadelphia. His responsibilities include contacting community groups, developing greening programs and coordinating projects with neighborhood leaders.

Jeff graduated from the Penn State University in 1981 with a degree in Horticulture and Agricultural Education.

Pepperpot

There is a beautiful garden down on Walnut Street, alongside 325, covered with coleus, heliotrope, and begonias. The production is colorful, the maintenance to perfection and we hope you will stop by one day to enjoy it, as do the millions of visitors who come to Independence National Historical Park each year. As you relish this beautiful sight, give grateful thanks to our volunteers who tend it spring, summer and fall under the leadership of Ann McPhail and PHS assistant horticulturist, Joe Kerwin. Without them we would, to put it plainly, be in a pickle. Many thanks to:

Elizabeth Bailey
Wilma Crane
Ed Doelp
Lilly Glazer
Johanna Goedel
Becky Hesse
Charles Holman
Helen Kaufman
Jay Kessler
Kitty Lapp
Matt McConnell
Jane Newcomer
Harriett Richards
Kinnie Schmidt
Ginny Shuster
Louise Sonnenberg
Elizabeth Steele
Donna Thomas
Frances Vollmer

As you tend your garden this summer (I hope it's in better shape than mine) think about courses, trips, and workshops you would like PHS to offer in future months. We welcome your thoughts and have included a couple of lines on the reservation form on which we hope you will jot down your suggestions. If you have a specific area of horticultural interest we are not currently fulfilling, there are probably several others with the same interest — be a sport and let us in on the secret.

ANNOUNCEMENTS FROM THE G.C.A.

Jane Ward, former chair of the Competitive Classes of the Philadelphia Flower Show, was recently elected First Vice President of the Garden Club of America.

Jane has served the Garden Club of America previously as a board member and serves on the PHS Council.

Sarah C.Z. Groome, flower arranger extraordinaire who has succeeded so well in raising the standards of flower arrangement competition, was awarded the GCA's Katharine Thomas Cary Medal for her outstanding achievement in the field of flower arrangement education.

Sarah has held flower arrangement workshops in her home for the past 15 years to help exhibitors prepare their entries for the Flower Show.

EXPERTS SAY "FALL IS PERFECT FOR PLANTING"

The Pennsylvania Nurseryman's Association "Fall Is For Planting" campaign is off to a running start as participating nurseries spread the word that fall is the perfect time to plant, especially for the drought conscious.

Wayne Norton, co-owner of Rose Valley Nurseries, Media and board member of the Fall Is For Planting committee, says "as the ground cools in fall, plant root systems begin to shrink, causing them to require less moisture. Even if the past season's rainfall is below average, this fall's precipitation should provide enough moisture to carry new plantings through the winter months." Norton also suggests that you water established plants during August before the fiber shrinkage begins.

So, as you set out on your plant shopping spree, spirit renewed, be sure to stop in at your local nursery that bears the Fall Is For Planting banner for some valuable tips on growing this season.

A CORNUCOPIA OF COLOR, FLAVOR AND FRAGRANCE AT THE 1985 HARVEST SHOW

Fruit, vegetables and flowers artistically arranged and in competition are the featured fare at this year's Harvest Show.

A Harvest Rainbow is the theme of the Show and color will burst forth from every corner of the enormous open-air tents and greenhouses at the Horticulture Center on Belmont Avenue and Horticultural Drive in West Fairmount Park.

Harvest Tables and Bounty by The Basket will overflow with crisp vegetables and flowers. And, more than 1500 entries of everything from apricot brandy to dahlia-flowered zinnias are expected to be entered in the more than 300 horticultural categories.

Show exhibitors come from all over the City and surrounding suburbs and will offer a wealth of ideas and information for the home gardener. Come visit the Show on Saturday and Sunday, September 28 and 29 and find out what's growing in your neighbor's backyard.

NOMINATIONS SUBMITTED FOR ELECTIONS TO PHS COUNCIL

Members will have an opportunity to elect seven new members to Council at the Annual Meeting on November 20 at 5:15 pm

Margaret P. Bowditch, Herb Clarke, Williams D. MacDowell, Ann Marlar, Anne Putnam and Susan Stauffer are eligible for re-election and have agreed to serve again.

Robert H. Brownell is Vice President, Director of Agencies at the Fidelity Mutual Group in Radnor. He is a graduate of Bowdoin College and was associated with the California Bonsai Society and a member of Descanso Bonsai Society before moving east.

Judy M. Foley has served on the Board of Century IV and is managing editor of The Episcopalian, a national monthly newspaper with a circulation of 250,000. At PHS, she serves as vice-chair on the Publications committee.

Elizabeth P. McLean is a garden historian, lecturer and researcher in botanical history. Her education has been at the University of Pennsylvania where she received a M.A. in American History and The Arboretum School of the Barnes Foundation. Currently she is a leader of garden history tours at the Morris Arboretum and a Research Associate in Botany at the Academy of Natural Sciences.

Mamie Nichols is a Philadelphia resident who coordinated the point Breeze "Greene Contrie Towne" in South Philadelphia. Mamie is a co-convenor of an open green space working group for the Food and Agricultural Task Force and a member of the Philadelphia Green Open Space Task Force. She serves on the board of the City Planning Commission and PHS's Long Range Planning Committee for community outreach. Mamie was the first recipient of Mellon Bank's Good Neighbor Award.

Susan P. Wilmerding is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and has a Bachelor of Arts in Architecture. She is a member of the Garden Club of Philadelphia and was past chair of Horticulture classes at the Philadelphia Flower Show.

Patricia L. Wilson is the Deputy Manager of the Philadelphia Employee Benefit Department of Johnson and Higgins and is responsible for the firm's retirement consulting and actuarial services. She has worked with PHS on benefit issues and in areas of job evaluation and compensation levels. Pat is an avid gardener and flower arranger.

Returning to Council is Henry H. Reichner, Jr., who served as PHS president 1980-84. Hank is Executive Vice President of the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce and has a record of broad based participation in civic affairs, including many years on the PHS Council. Among his contributions to the horticultural betterment of the city has been the creation and maintenance of the attractive park at 1707 Chestnut Street.

To Rubye Beckett, Paul Dandridge, Mona Gold, Adele Greenfield, Barbara Heckert, Sally Reath, Ralph Walker, Sandy Ward who will retire from the Council at the end of the year, the Society expresses many thanks for their valuable participation.

Pepperpot

In a summer of drought, it was hardly sporting to complain at three inches of rain, but complain we did on July 26 when we awoke to find Hurricane Bob on our doorstep, threatening to spoil the dedication of the West Shore Greene Countrie Towne.

Gardeners are eternal optimists however and by mid-afternoon, as Mayor and Mrs. W. Wilson Goode, Jr. added the final post in the fence surrounding the West Shore Garden at 4700 Linmore St. the skies had cleared and 300 friends of the West Shore neighbors and PHS were able to rejoice not only in Bob's welcome moisture, but also in the accomplishments at West Shore.

As Helen Feggans, president of the West Shore Federation said in her welcome, their community was once an abandoned grey area of the city, left to decay. Determined to remain in their homes, the residents gathered themselves together in the '70s to rebuild their neighborhood. In late July, as we celebrated their achievements in planting trees, window boxes and gardens, new revitalization efforts were starting, this time to improve the housing of West Shore.

Working in cooperation with the Enterprise Foundation, a charitable corporation that works throughout the U.S. with neighborhood groups to provide fit and livable housing for the poor, a new Philadelphia cooperative venture, the Neighborhood Housing Network (NHN), has been formed. Housing rehabilitation and community revitalization are the goals of the NHN and the partners in the Philadelphia venture are the Enterprise Foundation, Institute for the Study of Civic Values, the Philadelphia Rehabilitation Plan, the Philadelphia National Bank and the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, which provides the greening component in these revitalization efforts.

James W. Rouse, who founded the Enterprise Foundation in 1981 joined with Mayor Goode at the West Shore celebration in July to announce the formation of the NHN.

THE PENNSYLVANIA HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

GREEN AND GROWING - The Junior Flower Show

Active hands, imaginative minds and the spirit of competition make the Junior Show a special outing for the entire family.

This year's Show will reach out to cultures around the globe with the theme "The World Is My Garden". Exhibitors aged pre-school through 12th grade will enter in more than 25 artistic and horticultural categories featuring flower arrangements, pressed plant pictures, garbage gardening and scarecrows.

Natalie Kempner, co-chair of the Show, says the Junior Flower Show, now in its second decade, "has made great strides in promoting the horticultural and artistic abilities of children and young adults throughout the Delaware Valley."

The Show will be held at the First Bank of the U.S. on 3rd Street between Chestnut and Walnut Streets on November 7, 1-5 pm; November 8, 11 am-5 pm and November 9, 10 am-2 pm. Admission free.

To receive an exhibitor's schedule, call the Show Ambassador at (215) 625-8280.

MAJOR AWARD NOMINATIONS

Major Awards to be made at Annual Meeting on November 20th.

The awards committee, under the leadership of chair, Sandra C. Ward, announced the following major awards, which will be made at the annual meeting on November 20th, Joanna McQuail Reed will receive the 1985 Distinguished Achievement Medal. A long time PHS friend and supporter, Joanna's horticultural interests are far reaching, as you quickly realize when you visit the wonderful garden at Longview Farm she developed with her late husband George. Herbs however have always played a special role in Joanna's life and she was a driving force in the development of the National Herb Garden at the National Arboretum. From 1980 to 1982 Joanna served as president of the Herb Society and in 1984 she was awarded the Society's highest honor, the Certificate of Achievement and the Helen DeConway Little Medal of Honor for dedication and promotion of horticulture. As a PHS member for almost half a century, Joanna has played many roles at PHS, one of the most important being the special hospitality she engineers year after year as major domo in the Judges' lunch area for the Philadelphia Flower Show.

Margaret Evans and Adolph G. Rosengarten, Jr. will receive Certificates of Merit.

Mrs. Henry Evans is another gardener who has used her talents and enthusiasm to the great benefit of many Delaware Valley horticultural organizations. Since the early '60s Mig has been a devoted supporter of John Bartram's Garden, America's oldest botanic garden, serving in every possible volunteer capacity until she was elected president in 1977. During her six year presidency, Bartram's Garden made great strides with restoration, the development of a master plan and the building of a full time staff. A member of the Germantown Garden Club, Mig also played a major role in the initiation of the horticultural classes at the Philadelphia Flower Show.

Adolph Rosengarten has always loved horticulture and gardening and is always willing to share these interests with others. His parents established Chanticleer in 1913 and Adolph and his late wife Janet have continued to develop the gardens at both Chanticleer and Minder House, their residence. On appropriate occasions they invited PHS members and many other gardeners to visit these gardens, which will one day be open to the public. Mr. Rosengarten has served as a member of the PHS Council, is a member of the President's Council of the American Horticultural Society and a member-at-large of the Garden Club of America.

Pepperpot

On November 20, following the Annual Meeting, Sir Peter Shephard will give the first lecture in memory of Lois Woodward Paul, dear friend and PHS Council member, who died last spring. Grateful thanks to all those members and friends who gave so generously to initiate this fund.

Congratulations to Ernesta D. Ballard, former director and president of PHS, who was awarded the American Horticultural Society's highest award, the Liberty Hyde Bailey Medal, at the Society's annual meeting in Chicago in September.

In these days of budget cuts, we are delighted to be working with an increase in the Office of Community Development funds available for the Society's community greening projects. Since 1978, PHS has been the recipient of annual allocations, administered by the Redevelopment Authority which assist us in the operation of Philadelphia Green, our highly successful community gardening program. Since the program began, we have worked with some 600 community groups to complete more than 1100 greening projects.

For the past five years, our drawing account has been $300,000 per year. For fiscal year '85-86 the Office of Housing has allocated an additional $50,000 for the Philadelphia Green staff to initiate a pilot program to work with residents at Housing Authority sites to develop greening projects.

Juanita Wooten, a graduate of the Society's Garden Intern program, is working with Alice Banton, Director of Social Services for the Housing Authority, to assist the tenants at the Bartram Village, Champlost, Abbotsford and Norris sites in planting street trees, window boxes, gardens and sitting parks.

HARVEST SHOW GLORIA

Hurricane Gloria is but a faded memory now, but on Thursday, September 26, warnings of her pending arrival in Philadelphia placed the Harvest Show in jeopardy. The huge tents were up, entries were coming in and the trade exhibitors were unloading their wares. Meanwhile, the forecasts did nothing but get worse and around 3:00 pm. we decided to strike the tents and move the Show indoors.

Show chair Ann Swan, manager Ed Lindemann, their crews and all on hand at the Horticulture Center squashed and squeezed and rearranged until it was all under cover. By late that night it looked as if Friday would be a washout in more ways than one, so we decided to batten down the hatches until Saturday. Where possible we contacted exhibitors and committee members who in turn called 110 judges and their 70 clerks to ask them to hold off for 24 hours and come Saturday morning.

Sadly, with most of the entries not coming until Saturday at crack of dawn, we had no alternative but to cancel the Preview, an event enjoyed each year by more than 1,000 members.

As we left on Thursday night we had visions of devastation on Saturday morning - broken panes in the greenhouse trees down all over the park and flooded roads. We were sure the exhibitors would make it, but what about the visitors? Their attendance was questionable from the start because of the newspaper strike. To have a Show without visitors to enjoy the labors of the exhibitors was out of the question, so our last act before closing down for the storm was to alert the radio and television stations that the Show would be open and free to the public on Saturday and Sunday.

The rest is history. Gloria was less aggressive than forecast, our exhibitors hardly faltered, the weather was just gorgeous throughout the weekend and the visitors came. To all those who weathered Harvest Show '85 — exhibitors, volunteers, and members—we thank you, with a special grateful word to the staff at the Fairmount Park Horticulture Center. It was a wonderful team effort and the Show had a very special spirit this year.

PHS AWARDS

The PHS Harvest Show Certificates of excellence were awarded to Fairmount Park Horticulture Center for their exhibit "Ornamental Grass Garden" and Friends Hospital for their exhibit "Dehydrating Fruits, Vegetables and Herbs - A Horticulture Therapy Program." William D. Coppens took the PHS Gardeners' Sweepstakes with 18 blue ribbons. The American Rock Garden Society picked up the PHS Club Sweepstakes Certificate, and for the third consecutive year, the 4300-4310 Sansom Street garden won the PHS Community Garden Sweepstakes with 21 blue ribbons.

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF STATE GARDEN CLUB AWARDS

Robin Engle Lippincott won the Creativity Award for her entry "Homespun" in the design classes and Ruth Flounders won the Award of Horticultural Excellence; The Award of Merit was given to Erich Meitzner for his dahlias and to Lee Loveland for her zinnias.

The Arboreal Award went to Évi Bossányi Loeb and Fairmount Park Horticulture Center received the Educational Award. Junior Achievement Awards for design and horticulture were given to Ryan Totaro; the Intermediate Meritorious Award for grades 7 through 9 went to Hopkinson School for design and Joe Candrowiski for horticulture.

GARDEN CLUB FEDERATION OF PENNSYLVANIA AWARDS

Mable Engle received the Special Recognition Award for an artistic design and Colonial Pennsylvania Plantation took the Educational and Conservation Silver Award.

"THE WORLD IS OUR GARDEN" AT THE 1985 JUNIOR FLOWER SHOW

Children aged pre-school through 12th grade are invited to enter this annual competition where the emphasis is on creativity, horticultural know-how and lots of fun.

Encourage your young horticulturist(s) to enter the Show and have them call the Show Ambassador at (215) 625-8280 for details.

The Junior Flower Show will be held on November 7, 8 and 9 at the First Bank of The U.S. on 3rd Street between Walnut and Chestnut Sts. Hours are 1-5 pm on November 7, 11 am-5 pm on November 8 and 10 am-2 pm on November 9. Admission is free.

$1,000 TO BE AWARDED IN 1986 JUNIOR HORTICULTURIST COMPETITION

The PHS Awards Committee invites all high school seniors who demonstrate a real interest in horticulture and a dedication to one or more horticultural projects or activities to enter the 1986 Junior Horticulturist Award competition.

Interested students are asked to write for an application and details before December 13, 1985 to Lisa Stephano at PHS or call (215) 625-8250. The deadline for returning application and related materials is January 10, 1986. Winners will be notified by March 1, 1986.

Pepperpot

Congratulations to PHS members Valerie Frick and Michael Devlin on winning the 1985 WGBH-Boston Victory Garden Contest. Valerie and Michael garden in the Fairview section of Camden, NJ and their garden is a bloomin' miracle. The narrow site behind the row house stretches down to the cat-tails of the Delaware River, and the Walt Whitman Bridge looms on the skyline. Out front these inspired gardeners removed blacktop to create a delightful entrance garden. Throughout back and front gardens, vegetables mingle with herbs, fruit trees and perennials all planted so thickly there's not even room for a weed.

Each year the Victory Garden Contest attracts some 2,500 entries nationwide, many of them large spacious gardens. Last summer Valerie and Michael reached the semi-finals and in early fall they redesigned the garden with their eyes fixed on winning in '85. Working day and night through fall and spring they prepared not only the garden but also the elaborate entry application. Their efforts paid off and in the March issue of Green Scene you will be able to enjoy the fruits of their labors.

1985 HOLIDAY COMPETITION WILL DECK THE HALLS OF PHS

Come visit our annual Holiday Show which begins Tuesday, December 10 at noon and runs through December 20. Show hours are 9 am to 5 pm Monday through Friday, and 11 am to 4 pm on Saturday and Sunday, December 14 and 15.

This year's display will feature four rooms decorated by local garden clubs that include the Brandywine Gardeners, Evergreens Garden Club, Four Lanes End Garden Club and the 18th Century Garden volunteers. Each club will create decorations for a door, a mantel and a tree.

An added attraction when visiting the Show is the PHS gift shop which carries a unique variety of horticultural and not-so-horticultural items perfect for holiday giving. The shop is open year round from 9 am to 5 pm and will be open during the Holiday Show weekend.

NEW TALK SHOW ON GARDENING

Local radio station WDVT Talk-900 AM has signed on Ernesta Ballard, past president of PHS, as their garden commentator.

Listeners can tune in each Saturday from 11:00 am to 1:00 pm to hear Ernesta give valuable information on plants and gardening. In addition, you will meet on-the-air, some of the best gardeners of the Delaware Valley.

PHS STAFF NEWS

Philadelphia Green welcomes Sally McCabe to the staff. Sally comes to us with a degree in horticulture from Penn State University. She has worked for the past eight years as a garden advisor with the Urban Gardening Program, Pennsylvania University Cooperative Extension Service. Sally's new responsibilities as Philadelphia Green district coordinator for West Philadelphia include working with residents to develop greening projects in their community.

A GREENER YEAR FOR PHILADELPHIA

More than 350 community gardeners, advisory board members and supporters gathered in October to be recognized and applauded for their outstanding contributions to neighborhood revitalization through greening at the Annual Recognition Dinner of Philadelphia Green.

Sharon Turner, chair of the Philadelphia Green Advisory Board, delivered opening remarks to guests gathered in the Grand Ballroom of the Philadelphia Centre Hotel. Guest speaker was City councilman-at-large, Ed Schwartz, who reminded those in attendance of the impact neighborhood organizations have on the quality of life in Philadelphia and, Blaine Bonham, director of Philadelphia Green, presented 145 awards to block representatives from across the city.

Special Green Thumb of the Year awards were presented by the Philadelphia Green Dinner Committee to Dr. Yu for his work in establishing a Korean community garden in West Philadelphia; to Peter Grove for his contribution to the Norris Square community and to PHS Council member Mamie Nichols for her efforts in Point Breeze.

Dinner Committee members include Rodnell Griffin, chair, Marie Bryant, Charlotte Donald, Mae Lanier, Brenda Nealy, Donna Thorpe, Sharon Turner, Janet Williams and Grover Willis.

More than 40,000 people participate in some 1,020 greening projects through Philadelphia Green.

The PHS Hotline will be closed for the month of December. January 6 we will resume normal hours of operation—Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 9:30 a.m. until 12:00 p.m.

Hotline number is (215) 922-8043

HOLIDAY SHOPPING AT PHS

When searching for that something special for that someone special take a look at the unique selection of items in the PHS gift shop. A beautiful collection of colorful gardening books is available, as well as handmade clay pots, stationary and all occasion cards.

If you're looking for a gift that will last the whole year through, why not give a subscription to the Green Scene, an excellent garden tool, complete with colorful photos and interesting and often inspiring accounts of life in the garden written by and for the beginner, as well as for the more experienced gardener. An annual subscription costs $8.50 and can be ordered by writing to PHS, c/o Linda Davis.

If an adventure in paradise is more to your liking, we have tickets to next year's Flower Show priced for advance sale at $6.25 for adults and $3.50 for children under 12. You can purchase tickets by stopping in at the PHS reception desk. Mail order minimum is 10 tickets. Call 625-8250 for more information.

And, if the decision to choose among these delightful items proves too difficult, make the absolute right choice and give them all with a PHS membership. Just clip and mail the coupon on page 2 to PHS, c/o Linda Davis and she will send a membership kit and note letting the recipient know you are the giver.

PARKING TIME EXTENDED ON WALNUT STREET

Visitors to PHS may now park out front along the metered sidewalk until 8:00 pm. This changes the frustrating restriction that forced drivers to move their vehicles at 3:30 pm, a time which usually interrupted a committee meeting or membership activity at the Society.

Drivers are required to pay for parking up until 8:00 pm. From 8:00 pm to 8 am parking is free.

VISIT PHS HOLIDAY SHOW December 10-20

Get your tips for decorating for the holidays from four local garden clubs as they "Deck the Halls" of PHS with brilliant flower arrangements, and decorations for a mantle, door and tree.

Each club will be given a section of a room in which to express their own special style of decorating. Judging will be held on December 10 until 12 noon.

Visit the Show Monday through Friday, 9 am to 5 pm and on Saturday and Sunday, December 14 and 15 from 11 am to 4 pm. Admission is free.

FLOWER SHOW POSTERS AND FLYERS ARE HERE

Call now for posters and flyers for the 1986 Philadelphia Flower Show. These attractive 8" x 10" posters and 3" x 5" flyers will make a colorful window or counter display in your local store or library.

To receive yours, call Lisa Stephano at 625-8266 or stop in at PHS and pick up a handful.

The show will also be open Saturday and Sunday, December 14 and 15 from 11 am-4 pm.

Registration Events

BASKETRY WORKSHOP
Wednesday, December 11, 6-10 pm

Mary Miller of Lock House 11 will conduct a four-hour basketry workshop using natural materials. This evening session will include techniques for completing an Appalachian egg basket in time for holiday giving. No previous experience is required.

Participants must bring a bucket, scissors, and a mat or utility knife. All other materials will be supplied.

Bring a sandwich; coffee and tea will be provided.

Fee: $23 members; $25 guests

DESIGNING AND PLANTING THE SMALL GARDEN
Saturdays, January 11, 18, 25, 9:30 am-12 noon

Mary Hopkins, landscape designer, will conduct three sessions on designing and planting the small garden. These lecture/workshop sessions will acquaint participants with basic rules for site planning and planting the home grounds. Each session will begin with a lecture and demonstration, followed by a workshop with a critique of each participant's work. The following topics will be studied: the arrangement of space, foundation planting, and defining space (mixed border and hedging).

Fee for three workshops and design materials: $90 members; $95 guests

EARLY LECTURE: THE GREAT HIMALAYAS
Wednesday, January 15, 5:45-7:15 pm

Barry R. Phillips, horticulturist with the Department of Agriculture and Fisheries in Hamilton, Bermuda, will tell of a journey which took a four-man team of modern-day plant collectors from Kew Gardens into a remote corner of the high Himalayas and ultimately to the borders of Tibet. Phillips will present a personal insight into this little-known part of the world.

Lecture begins at 5:45 pm, followed by wine and nibbles.

Fee: $6 members; $8 guests

Pepperpot

While PHS is not in the habit of promoting specific products in the newsletter, we do want to bring your attention to a very special opportunity you have to help the Society as you do your grocery shopping.

As part of an area-wide promotional campaign, Marcal Paper Mills Inc. of Elmwood Park, New Jersey will make a generous donation to the Society to assist us with tree planting in Philadelphia.

In a presentation ceremony in Point Breeze in early November with Mayor W. Wilson Goode, Marcal president Nicholas Marcalus discussed Marcal's Scenic America Program in which the company will donate 12 cents to the Society for every coupon redeemed by shoppers. If you had the chance to clip the Marcal coupons from the Scenic America ads in November issues of the Daily News and Inquirer food sections, now is the time to redeem them at your local grocery store.

We all use paper products and this is your chance to buy Marcal and help us plant trees next spring through Philadelphia Green.

Marcal's Scenic America Program was started in Worcester and they have since run the campaign very successfully in 16 New England cities. This is Marcal's first venture in Philadelphia and we hope you and your friends will help make it a grand experience.

We will let you know next summer how much paper you bought for us.
